VOL. XC—No. 166 CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 3, 1961 PRICE SEVEN CENTS

Urban Hearing Set for May 16

Resolution Adopted Recommending College Be at Kingston if Approved

May 16 was set for public hearing and first major action on the city's urban renewal project at Tuesday night's meeting of the Common Council which also approved payroll deductions for dues paying of civil service employes and moved toward a study of local recreational facilities.

After a proposal by Alderman Lawrence E. Woerner (D) Fourth Ward, the aldermen adopted a resolution asking that a Community College, if one is approved, be located in or near Kingston.

The council recessed to May 16 when a public hearing on proposed designation of a first phase of downtown urban renewal will open at 7 p. m. It will be followed by a meeting of the aldermen who are expected to act on a proposal that could gain the city some $500,000 credit in defraying its share of the cost of urban renewal.

Must Designate Project

A report at an April 18 council meeting noted that the city must designate to federal officials its first urban renewal project before June 1 in order to gain credit based on construction of the Mary's Avenue school, which is in the general project area.

School officials had indicated that May 15 had been set as the latest date for start of the school in order to have it ready for occupancy in September, 1962, but in order to permit the desired action on urban renewal this date was advanced to June 1.

Facilities Count

The city is permitted to contribute toward its share of urban renewal costs through providing sewer, water, street, school and other facilities. The federal government pays two thirds of the cost of urban renewal projects and the city and state each contribute a sixth.

The city is expected to designate an area between lower Broadway and Hasbrouck Avenue as the site of its first urban renewal project, and if approval of this is gained in time, credit may be claimed for the school facility, which will be at another end of the general project area.

The May 16 public hearing on the proposal will be conducted by the planning board and the council's urban renewal committee.

Can Deduct Dues

After a favorable report by its laws and rules committee, the council approved a measure permitting payment of dues by city employes, who are members of the New York State Civil Service Employes Association, through payroll deductions. The sums will be collected by the city and forwarded to the association.

After a suggestion by Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D), Third Ward, Council President Harold L. Kaye named a special committee to make a survey of the city's recreational facilities. Its findings and recommendations could become effective by 1962.

To Make Study

Hastings cited an instance which led him to believe that facilities might be lacking in some instances, and he proposed the study "to see if we are, or we are not providing full facilities."

Auto Show Is Set on Saturday

Entertainment Is Feature of Event

Final plans for the postponed Rondout Auto Show were announced today by the retail division of the Rondout Area Business Men's Association.

Originally planned for last week, it was rained out and is now slated for Saturday, May 6.

In proper street setting, area auto dealers will display 1961 car models on the Strand, between Hasbrouck Avenue and Broadway. Announced dealers for the all day exhibition are Parsons of Kingston, Bob Nadler, Inc., Ber-Van Motors, Albany Avenue Garage, DeWitt Cadillac-Oldsmobile and Franz-Rambler.

Festive Setting

Within the exhibition area, there will be a festive air. Free pony rides will be featured for children accompanied by adults. A local dance band will play during the afternoon for dancing and listening. Radio broadcasts will eminate from the area with interviews of visiting persons. Bobby Banner, a native of Kingston and the Rondout area, now a nation-wide hit recording star, will appear during the afternoon, too.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel will officiate at the opening ribbon cutting ceremonies with Rondout Area Business Men's Association president, Manuel Lipton, Saturday morning at 10:30 at the corner of Broadway and Strand.

Bares Jewish Courage

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — The gripping story of the anti-Nazi uprising in the Warsaw ghetto, swept with hunger and disease but filled with courage, was told by a woman survivor in the trial of Adolf Eichmann today.

In a low but unfaltering voice, Mrs. Zivia Lubotkin told of weeks of heroic resistance against overwhelming German forces in the walled-in Jewish quarter.

With home-made bombs that had to be fused with matches, a few arms and scarce ammunition, the Jews battled thousands of German troops trying to round them up for deportation to the gas chambers, she said

TWO CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE — A blaze Tuesday afternoon that reportedly started from a kerosene heater in this multiple dwelling in the Ellenville area caused the death of two youngsters, William Henry Merchant, 19 months, and Leon Merchant, 7 months, sons of Mulvina Merchant, who was at a neighbor's. Francine, 5 years old, sought the help of another family, one of three occupying the wooden structure. All of Ellenville's fire fighting equipment answered the alarm. Napanoch stood by to cover the village. An investigation is under way.(Freeman photo).

Two Tots Lose Lives In Fire at Ellenville

At 2:37 p. m. Tuesday fire which apparently started from a kerosene heater in a three-family house at 51 Chapel Street, Ellenville, claimed the lives of 7-month-old Leon Merchant and 19-month-old William Henry Merchant.

The fire started while the children's mother, Mulvina Merchant, was two doors away at a neighbor's where she had gone to pick up clothing for the children.

Francine Merchant, five years old, discovered the fire and went to an upstairs apartment occupied by Alvena Postell to summon aid. William Miller of Cragsmoor was passing in a car and also observed smoke in the house, He summoned the Ellenville police department and firemen. Mrs. Postell, who lives around the corner at 1 Mountain Avenue in the same building, also called firemen. Edna Tompkins, across the street also called firemen.

The Merchant home was filled with smoke and before firemen were able to subdue the flames there was considerable damage by fire.

William Henry Merchant was in a carriage in an adjoining bedroom and when firemen arrived the carriage was removed from the house and the infant taken to Veterans Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. He apparently died from suffocation.

Leon Merchant, seven-months was in a crib in the living room where the fire started behind the stove, he was pronounced dead on the scene. The fire was burning briskly in the wall between the living room and bedroom when firemen arrived.

At 3:48 a. m. today a trailer occupied by Arthur Haywood on Oak Ridge Road in Ellenville, was destroyed by fire.

Again at 7:53 a. m. fire struck in the area at the Star Bungalow Colony on Greenfield Road, Route 52 and three rooms were destroyed in the annex of the hotel. Ellenville and Woodbourne fire departments responded. First Assistant Fire Chief William McCombs headed the Ellenville department.

Coroner Awaits Probe

An investigation of the fire at the Merchant home was being continued today by Investigator Michael Lisman of the Ellenville State Police station and Ellenville Chief of Police Abe Rand. Coroner Arthur C. Chipp was withholding his verdict pending the outcome of the investigation.

The Merchant family occupied an apartment in the three family corner house at the corner of Chapel Street and the Shawwangunk Trail.

Chief Rand arrived at the home at approximately the same time as the firemen. Assisting the Ellenville police was Sergeant Leo Gorton and Officer Bernard Krustel.

Investigator Michael Lisman, Corporal M. J. Bonney and Trooper E. Whelan arrived at the scene shortly after and assisted in the investigation.

William Henry Burris, who resides at the Chapel Street address, made an application for reduction of a 90-day sentence in the county jail on learning of the death of the Merchant children. On consent of District Attorney David W. Corwin, County Judge Raymond J. Mino and Justice Frank Decker of Town of Wawarsing the sentence was reduced to the number of days he had spent in jail. He had been committed by Jusice Decker on a malicious mischief charge. Burris was taken to his home by a deputy sheriff.

U. S. Cuban Blasts May Bring On New Sanctions

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The Castro regime—in which Fidel now seems more figurehead than ruler—probably rushed to proclaim itself part of the world Communist bloc in order to claim Soviet protection against any future U.S. moves.

President Kennedy has told the allies of the United States that Washington will intervene—going it alone if necessary—to prevent Communist penetration of the Western Hemisphere, regardless of the implicit perils.

Red Risks Something Else

The Havana government now says Cuba is a "Socialist" state in the Soviet sense of the word. The big question: How much is Premier Khrushchev willing to risk to protect a self-proclaimed Communist regime thousands of miles from world Communist frontiers?

Would Khrushchev risk starting World War III in the Western Hemisphere?

A U. S. statement Tuesday, blasting Castro's regime as more Communist than the rest of the Iron Curtain satellites, may be a prelude to additional Washington moves against the Havana regime—perhaps to a total embargo on shipments of all goods to Cuba, perhaps also to bringing pressure on other members of the Organization of American States (OAS) to take action against Havana.

Would Hurt Havana

These moves would hurt the Havana government. The Soviet Union is not in a position to supply Cuba with all its food, medicine and other everyday needs. A break in relations with other Latin American states could deprive the Castristas of their nests of espionage, agitation and subversion throughout much of the Western Hemisphere. Some Latin-American governments, badgered beyond endurance by Castro

U.S. May Glean More Data in First Space Try

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —America's initial astronaut likely will top Yuri Gagarin in bringing home critical knowledge needed for man, the thinking machine, to wheel around in space.

Alan B. Shepard—if he makes the first flight—apparently will be far busier than the Soviet pilot was, doing more tasks. Navy Comdr. Shepard has been selected for the job, but some change could disqualify him.

Friday Try Likely

Meanwhile, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the first space try may be delayed at least until Friday.

Trouble with the Redstone booster rocket was the reason. The difficulty was with a tube which feeds liquid oxygen to the rocket's fuel tanks.

Two storm fronts in the Florida area forced the postponement of yesterday's historic attempt.

Detailed psychological, medical and technical knowledge is needed to write the book for man into space.

This astronaut will have his

Sweeper, Cablevision Are Council Subjects

A public works policy pertinent to renting of city-owned equipment and lack of action by Kingston Cablevision in the Fifth Ward were criticized at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting by Alderman Samuel J. Perry, of that ward, and the council's minority leader.

Perry also hit at lack of action in authorizing a stop sign at Crane and East Union Street.

The alderman said he had inquired last fall as to the possibility of the hiring of city equipment for private use, and was told that the Board of Public Works had decided that city equipment could not be rented.

Used at IBM Lot

He had learned, however, he said, that on April 8 and 9, a sweeper had been rented to a private concern, which, he said, he did not wish to name. Alderman Donald M. Hastings, (D) Third Ward, who later answered Perry, revealed that the sweeper had been used to clean the IBM parking area.

Perry said he found the rental cost to be $221.13, and he wanted to know why an out-of-town concern could rent equipment when a city concern was refused the privilege.

Hastings, who revealed that the other concern Perry referred to was the Hudson Cement Corp., of North Street, claimed a union problem dealing with operation of the equipment was involved, and he cited an instance of conflict dating back to the building of the Broadway underpass.

Perry revealed that the cement company requested rental of the equipment not for a parking lot, but for building of a private driveway. If he were the mayor, he said, he would "go along" in instances where such rentals are of some benefit to the city.

5th Isn't Swept

"They rent a sweeper out of town," he said, "and the Fifth Ward isn't swept yet . . . What do they call this a joke or something?"

Alderman Joseph F. Carroll Jr., (R) 11th Ward, proposed that if a rule or law were involved the city should abide by it, and Council President Harold L. Kaye indicated he would check on that point.

Perry complained that Kingston Cablevision was now working out of the city and has done nothing in the fifth Ward. Terms

Banker Pays Town Debts Of $402,500 With Stocks

RICHMONDVILLE, N.Y. (AP) —"Richmondville has been good to me," is banker Chauncey Winters' explanation for giving this Schoharie County village of 743 persons the equivalent of $402,500 in IBM stocks.

Winters, a white-haired, 68-year-old bachelor, is cashier and vice president of the independent Bank of Richmondville in this pretty, dairy-belt community 40 miles west of Albany.

A sewer and water project built in 1955 still was awaiting a $300,000 bond issue and the village tax rate seemed about to double when Winters acted.

He asked Mayor George Davis, "How much do you need?"

Davis replied that $309,000 would pay the village's debts, including the sewer system bill.

"How about 450 shares of IBM stock?" Winters countered.

He later "rounded" the figure to 500 shares, with a cash value of $357,000.

Wnters said he acquired IBM stock for $7,000 after the stock market crash in 1929. The stock has split several times since then.

"My idea," said Winters, "was that it had grown to such proportions that I would like to capitalize on it. Not needing it myself, I thought I would apply it to some beneficial purpose. This struck me as good a purpose as any other."

He still retains some IBM stock.

His affection for Richmondville also is shared by his uncle, 90-year-old John Holmes, who paid for a community swimming pool and a $26,000 fire truck.

Four write-in votes were cast, one for each of four persons. They were: George Jacobson, Second Ward; Charles Ellis, who received a vote at George Washington School, and Albert Meyers and George McEvoy who received a vote each at Tillson School.

Mrs. Murphy and Stedge were sponsored by the Non-Partisan Committee, and Greer and MacKinnon ran as Independent candidates.

U. S. 7th Fleet Is Still On Laos-Area Mission

SINGAPORE (AP) — The U.S. 7th Fleet, its exact whereabouts secret, remained in Southeast Asian waters today on its announced mission of deterring Communist aggression.

There were reports that the aircraft carrier Coral Sea was steaming northward toward the Gulf of Siam, near Communist-threatened Laos and South Viet Nam. U.S. Navy officials said only that the carrier is heading for her home base.

Completes Exercise

The fleet has just concluded its part in the six-nation Southeast Asia Treaty Organization military exercise "Pony Express" with landings in the wild jungle country of North Borneo.

With 6,000 American and British marines and Australian infantrymen, 60 ships and 20,000 navy personnel, it was the biggest military operation ever held by SEATO.

In Bangkok, SEATO Secretary-General Pote Sarasin told newsmen after a SEATO council emergency session—its fifth in 10 days —he is more optimistic about prospects for a Laos cease-fire.

Officials of Thailand's pro-Western government maintained an air of guarded optimism, watching for any sign that the rebels may drag out cease-fire talks and delay a proposed international peace conference for Laos.

Ave in Phnom Penh

W. Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's roving ambassador, arrived in Phnom Penh today for talks about Laos with Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state. He will leave Thursday for Bangkok, en route home.

Harriman told reporters "It is our hope that a basis can be established for a completely neutral government in Laos and a cease-fire may soon come there."

"There can be no real cease-fire until fighting is stopped in all sectors," Harriman said.

Ship Sinks, 6 Trapped

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A 92-foot brigantine, the Albatross, sank in the Gulf of Mexico Tuesday, trapping six of her crew below decks, it was learned today.

Thirteen other crewmen, many of them reportedly teen-age Americans, managed to get into lifeboats before the 93-ton square rigger went down in a squall.

The Albatross was sailing on a training cruise from Progreso on Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula to Nassau in the Bahamas when the storm struck her, 125 miles west of Key West, Fla.

President to Try Once Again for Nuclear Ban Pact

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy intends to send his nuclear test ban negotiator back to Geneva in a few days with instructions to make another determined effort to reach agreement with the Soviet Union.

Informants said this effort will not involve any new concessions by the United States and Britain. It will involve further patient exchanges with the Soviet delegation in the hope that the way can be opened for a treaty banning nuclear weapons testing.

NSC Reviews Issue

The whole nuclear weapons testing issue was reviewed by Kennedy and top military and diplomatic officials at a meeting of the National Security Council at the White House late Tuesday. Arthur H. Dean, Kennedy's special ambassador at Geneva, and John J. McCloy, the President's disarmament adviser, participated.

Informants said Dean gave a full accounting of the Geneva negotiations since they were resumed March 21. Dean's report indicated that in one respect at least the Soviets had moved backward, away from progress toward an agreement.

But the President was described today as being determined that further efforts at negotiation should be made since he

Rebels Launch New Offensive in Laos Despite Command's Call for Cease-Fire

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The pro-Communist rebel command today ordered its troops to stop shooting, but a battalion of its troops reportedly launched an attack against forces of the Western-backed government in southern Laos.

The Vientiane government also reported a mortar attack Tuesday night against its command center just south of where cease-fire talks were held by officers of the government and Pathet Lao armies.

Despite the rebel attacks, most observers felt a cease-fire would be worked out. The tendency in Vientiane was to blame the attacks on poor communications and the usual Laotian confusion.

Forces of the Vientiane government have been under orders for several days not to fire unless fired upon.

The Pathet Lao rebel radio broadcast a general cease-fire order effective at 8 a.m. and called on the Western-backed government of Premier Boun Oum to join promptly in negotiations for an armistice.

Rebel broadcasts over North Viet Nam's Radio Hanoi, quoted by Peiping Radio, said the cease-fire order was issued to both the Pathet Lao forces fighting for years to take over the Indochinese kingdom for the Communists and the allied troops loyal to paratroop Capt. Kong Le, whose coup last summer briefly put Prince Souvanna Phouma in power.

The broadcasts made no mention of cease-fire negotiations which reportedly began Tuesday in the no-man's land some 45 miles north of Vientiane between an officer of Boun Oum's army and military representatives of the Pathet Lao.

The Vientiane and Pathet Lao officers first made contact Monday. Boun Oum's government announced Tuesday a provisional cease-fire was in effect in the front area astride the Luang Prabang-Vientiane highway where they were meeting.

Maintaining the Communist stand that Souvanna Phouma is still the only legal premier of Laos and Kong Le his "supreme commander," the rebel broadcasts said the captain had proposed the cease-fire to the Pathet Lao as well as ordered it for his own troops, presumably the remnant of the paratroop battalion that carried out his coup last August.

"Headquarters of the patriotic Laos fighting units has, acting on the proposal of supreme commander Captain Kong Le, ordered all military units under its command to cease firing as of 8 a.m. Laos time," the Pathet Lao broadcast said.

Kong Le called on the Vientiane government to send delegates without delay to negotiate at the village of Na Mon, seven miles south of Vang Vieng, or in the area of Hin Keup, another village in the no-man's land where the Nam Lik River crosses the north-south highway.

It was in approximately that area that the Vientiane government's representative met Pathet Lao representatives.

Boun Oum's foreign minister, Tiao Sopsaisana, said his government's envoy, Lt. Col. Siho Lamsolinthakhou, was instructed to avoid political issues and negotiate only for a quick cease-fire and a time and place for further meetings of Vientiane representatives with those of the Pathet Lao and Souvanna Phouma

Prelude to Conference

The cease-fire is supposed to be the prelude to a 14-nation conference scheduled to start May 12 in Geneva to work out a permanent peace for Laos. The United States and Britain have said they would not attend, however, until an end to the fighting is verified. A three-nation truce commission, made up of India, Canada and Poland, is due in Laos later this week to supervise the cease-fire.

The Boun Oum regime and the Pathet Lao still have to work out a coalition government to represent Laos at the Geneva conference.

Predictions Fall Down On Seaway Tonnage

OTTAWA (AP)—To all intents and purposes, the experts have temporarily gone out of the predicting business so far as the St. Lawrence Seaway is concerned.

Before the waterway opened in 1959, they had worked out a set of estimates of the tonnage it would handle annually for its first 50 years. The estimates were important because the Seaway's toll structure was based on them.

The experts predicted 25 million tons of cargo would be shipped in 1957, but only 20,590,000 tons were moved. In 1960 volume was supposed to increase to 29 million tons it decreased to 20,279,000.

Not Taken Seriously

Consequently this year's original estimate of 33 million tons is no longer taken seriously. Economists and businessmen are waiting for the actual 1961 figures in the hope that three years of operation will provide a sound basis for revised forecasts.

Unofficially, business and shipping circles anticipate an early-season traffic increase because of accumulated grain stores, followed by a decline because of the continuing slump in the U. S. steel industry.

When the season opened, less than 22 million bushels of grain was stored in eastern elevators, which have a total licensed storage capacity of 110 million bushels. Another 22.6 million bushels moved east in the first 10 days of navigation, and lakehead shipping sources predicted a marked increase in the next few weeks.

Iron Less Promising

Short-term prospects for iron ore are less promising. As the season began, the American steel industry, main customer for Labradore ore, had a 75 million-ton stockpile as a result of many months of light demand for its products. Last year Labrador shipped 9.8 tons compared with 13 million in 1957.

The extensive switch to production of compact cars has reduced the American automobile industry's demand for steel. It has also cut down another profitable source of seaway traffic by reducing the volume of European car imports.

Counts on Grain, Ore

Despite the two years in which it has offered a variety of opportunities to foreign shippers, the Seaway continues to count most heavily on the old Great Lakes mainstays, grain and iron ore.

The Seaway's 1961 performance may have a big influence on the deliberations of the Canadian-American tolls committee when it meets in 1964.

Under the present plan, the Seaway is supposed to return its $471 million cost by 2009, 50 years after its opening date. The original estimates were prepared as a basis for toll schedules designed to meet the deadline. If the estimates have to be downgraded, the committee has a choice between raising tolls or extending the amortization period.

Rebuttal to Levitt

Governor Defends N. Y. Tax Program

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says "the so-called rich" are paying a larger percentage of state taxes under his fiscal program than they did before it went into effect two years ago.

He also says that political motivations were behind Democratic charges that the new state income tax system benefits those in the higher income brackets.

The Republican governor defended his tax program Tuesday night in addressing a fund-raising dinner of the Citizens Union.

In effect, Rockefeller's remarks were a rebuttal to Democratic State Comptroller Levitt's statements in an interview on Sunday. But the governor did not mention Levitt by name.

Rockefeller said:

"Any person who has a basic sense of integrity and the time and ability to understand the tax structure could not honestly make the statements."

Elsewhere in his remarks, Rockefeller said "the best thing the Kennedy administration can do to meet the unemployment problem is to accelerate the federal road-building program.

Rockefeller added that when his administration's tax program went into effect, 85 per cent of the taxpayers paid 19 per cent of the taxes. "Today 85 per cent pay 18 per cent of the taxes," he said, adding: "so that the so-called rich" are paying a larger percentage.

Rocky, Congress Members to Have Working Dinner

Telegrams inviting all New York members of Congress to the dinner in the new Senate Office Building were sent out this week by Rockefeller and the New York Congressional Steering Committee.

The New York Department of Commerce office here said it had received no word of an agenda for the meeting.

Rockefeller, however, is expected to seek support at the dinner for programs affecting both the state and the nation.

At a similar dinner last year he urged support of his plan for the government to relinquish the 10 per cent tax on local telephone service for use by municipalities for school aid.

The plan was later rejected by then President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Hotel Exposition Slated May 9-11 At Area Raceway

New products and services of interest to all in the feeding and housing industry will be shown at the annual Hotel Show and Exposition which is is to be held next week at the Monticello Raceway.

As usual, a large number of persons are expected to attend from Sullivan County, but requests for admission tickets have been coming in from points as much as 75 miles distance and the show management expects the 1961 version to be the best from the standpoint of both attendance and variety of exhibits.

While invitations have been sent out, it is the normal policy of the Sullivan County Hotel Association which sponsors the show, to admit all persons who have an interest in the resort economy. Admission may be gained by the presentation of a business card. No person under the age of 18 will be permitted to enter.

Among the items and services to be exhibited are commercial kitchen and restaurant equipment, all food items, entertainment devices and facilities, office machines, sanitary supplies, advertising specialties, furniture, interior decorating services, automobiles and vending machines.

Show hours are from 7 p. m. until midnight, the evenings of May 9, 10 and 11.

Udall Is Elected In Close Contest, Kin in Cabinet

But he said a recent unpopular announcement by his brother almost cost him the victory.

Udall, 38, a Tucson attorney, nosed out Republicar Mac C. Matheson by about 2,600 votes in nearly complete unofficial returns from Tuesday's special election in the 2nd District. He won the seat vacated by his brother, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, who resigned to accept appointment to the Cabinet.

As interior secretary, Stewart recently announced settlement of a long-standing dispute over farmers squatting on federal lands along the Colorado River in Yuma County. The ruling was that the farmers must evacuate the lands.

"This was an unpopular decision in the Yuma area," Morris said. "I had counted heavily on winning Yuma County. I lost it."

He indicated he felt other matters involving his brother within the past few weeks may have cost him votes. He had few to spare.

Troopers Resume Hunt for Killer Of Upstate Girl

MOOERS FORKS, N.Y. (AP)—State Police banked today on cold and hunger to drive from densely wooded terrain an accused killer armed with a .22 caliber rifle.

Charles Ducharme, 20, is accused of shooting his former girlfriend, Betty Ann Davison, 17, a pretty, blonde high school senior. Ducharme was jealous because she was dating another youth, police said.

Ducharme fled in his automobile after the shooting Sunday night in this community north of Plattsburgh.

His car was found abandoned along a dirt road in nearby West Chazy. On the seat was a note warning police "I have four boxes of shells and will use them if necessary."

Police said that Ducharme was familiar with the terrain and a good woodsman. However, State Police said last night, he was wearing a light jacket and had no food with him.

Savings Banks Report Records

New York State's 127 savings banks increased their mortgage holdings on properties in the state by almost a half-billion dollars in 1960, according to the 68th annual report of the Savings Banks Association of the State of New York published today.

In the 1950-1960 decade, the report shows, the savings banks helped to make home ownership possible for an estimated one and a half million New York State people, as their mortgage holdings on New York State properties rose from $4.5 billion to $9.5 billion.

New savings bank mortgage financing in the state during that period included not only homes, but also 121 schools, 387 office buildings, 1,297 shopping centers and stores, 102 hospitals and 466 houses of worship, as well as other community projects throughout the state.

The savings banks at the end of 1960 were handling a record total of 11,583,365 deposit accounts for people whose savings had reached $21,433,699,370, also a record. Interest-dividends paid to depositors during 1960 totaled $740 million.

Entitled "Savings Build the Future in New York State," the 32-page report documents the progress of the savings bank industry in the state and reports on the work of the Association's 14 standing committees.

HAVEN'T SEEN ANYTHING YET

The best way to solve community development problems is to get all kinds of local organizations working together on a comprehensive, do-it-yourself program. That is the view of Arthur H. Motley, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

On the highly specific side, he said that legislation now pending in Congress "could kill chambers of commerce and other local voluntary organizations working for community development . . . (and) could eliminate independent local government."

That's quite a statement. But Mr. Motley has evidence to support it. More than 250 local subsidy bills are pending. They provide Federal aid for repairing streets, sidewalks, bridges, parking lots, recreation facilities, garbage disposal facilities, sewage and sanitation facilities, police and fire protection, and many other local matters.

The thinking behind such proposals can only be that the Federal government should do everything. If that is to be the case, local government along with civic groups might as well shut up shop and call it a day. Then, in the matter of Federal taxes, controls and regimentation, it will be a case of 'we ain't seen nothing yet."

LONG TAX ARM

Another income tax time has come and gone. And millions of us feel a sad flatness in the pocketbook.

Once the income tax was a rich man's tax—people of small and moderate earnings paid little or nothing. But now, as Citizens Public Expenditure Survey observes, "the long arm of the Internal Revenue Service reaches out to nearly everybody."

Here's the cold statistical story: Of the total federal tax, people who earn under $5,000 a year pay 21 per cent. The $5,000-$10,000 group pays 39 per cent. The $10,000-$15,000 earners pay 11 per cent. The $15,000-$50,000 people pay 17 per cent. And the real big income group—$50,000 and over—pays only 12 per cent.

This isn't because the rich are favored—income tax rates reach a top bracket of 91 per cent. It simply reflects the fact that there are not enough wealthy people to foot the bill for government—but there are millions of individuals in the modest income brackets. So, inevitably, the latter must pay the great bulk of government costs. And they, collectively, would gain the most from reductions in non-essential government spending.

DRIVE-IN JUSTICE

This is the age of the drive-in. The trend that began years ago with a few outdoor theaters now embraces restaurants, banks and even church services. Now comes the latest addition—a drive-in traffic court.

In Dearborn, Mich., Judge John T. McWilliams has installed a "toll booth" in the courthouse which allows motorists to drive up and pay minor fines while remaining in their cars. A closed-circuit television system allows both judge and defendant to see and talk with one another.

We should not be surprised if the next step is a slot machine in which one deposits his ticket, along with the stipulated fine, and receives a stamped receipt.

MEDICAL LOGIC

Phenomenal advances have been made, during the past few decades, in the detection and cure of human ailments. It does not follow that all Americans get the benefit of all that the medical profession has learned.

One major reason for this, quite aside from the economic considerations involved, is that many Americans do not undergo a periodic examination by a physician. Without such examinations, at more or less regular intervals, it is impossible for a man or woman to receive the full benefits of medical science.

Numerous physical ailments can be dealt with effectively if they are detected early. Often the presence of disease in early stages is not revealed to the layman by readily apparent symptoms. It follows that only periodic examination by experts can turn up evidence of such disease. The logic is inescapable. Heeding it may prevent misery, or even add years to one's life.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

NEO-NAZISM

It is unbelievable but it is true that there is such an organ as "The American Party World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists." Its headquarters is in Arlington, Virginia, and its Commander is Lincoln Rockwell. This party has a program which seems to be a hodge-podge of conflicting ideas; nevertheless, this paragraph makes it clear that Rockwell adores Hitler, which is surprising in an American:

"We believe that Adolf Hitler was a gift of an inscrutable Providence to a world on the brink of Jewish-Bolshevik catastrophe, and that only the blazing spirit of this heroic man can give us the strength and inspiration to rise, like the early Christians, from the depths of persecution and hatred, to bring the world a new birth of radiant idealism, realistic peace, international order, and social justice for all men."

The seven articles of the program are described as "fundamental, absolute, and timeless Truth. . . ."

Most of the concepts in Commander Lincoln Rockwell's program originated in Houston Stewart Chamberlain's "The Foundations of the Nineteenth Century," although I do not know whether Rockwell has seen this amazing attempt to establish a theory or Nordic supremacy.

The significance of Nazism in the United States is that it is one of a large number of mass movements on the extreme Right, none of which is, of itself important, but all of which added together represent a ground-swell of opposition to Liberalism. This opposition cannot be ignored. While some of these movements seem to be without sanity, those who join them are often very sincere Americans who are dissatisfied with current conditions and who find themselves frustrated in any attempt to hold back the tides of Socialism.

Yet Rockwell is a Socialist, a National Socialist, and he expresses his Socialism in these words:

"We believe that no man is entitled to the services and products of the labor of his fellow men, unless he contributes at least an equal amount of goods or services of his own production or invention. We believe that the contribution by a member of society of nothing else but the tokens called 'money' is a fraud upon his fellows, and does not excuse a man capable of honest work of his responsibility to produce his share."

This is definitely anti-capitalist. It is as strong in its opposition to capitalism as anything written by Karl Marx. In a word, interest, dividends, rents are excluded. All that may be measured for reward is production of goods or services. And presumably, as there is to be no private capital, everything will be government owned. In fact, the first sentence of the program reads:

"We believe that an honest man can never be happy in a naked scramble for material gain and comfort, without any goal which he believes is greater than himself, and for which he is willing to sacrifice his own egotism. . . ."

The American Nazi are, of course, violently anti-Semitic. The development of Marxism is attributed to Jews, although both Stalin and Khrushchev have, at times, been anti-Semitic. Rockwell sets forth his purpose as follows:

". . . we announce our purpose to be nothing less than a world-wide effort to free humanity from Jewish domination and subversion in all their forms, and the creation of the idealistic, racially realistic, socially progressive, international world order which we must have, if we are to remain masters of our own planet."

"To this world-wide goal, we solemnly pledge our lives."

Jews are to be killed; all debts from non-Jews to Jews are to be cancelled and an International Jew Control Autnority (like Eichmann's) is to be established: ". . . to protect the rare honest Jews from the wrath of the people newly awakened to the truth about the Jews, and to make a long-term, scientific study to determine if the Jewish virus is a matter of environment and can be eliminated by education and training, or if some other method must be developed to render Jews harmless to society."

The negroes are to be treated more mercifully. A new state is to be established in Africa to which negroes are to be sent. In fact, Rockwell's concept is, to a degree, similar to that of Elijah Muhammad. The Nation of Islam does not plan to establish this new state in Africa; their plan is that the United States give up some of its territory.

★ The Doctor Says ★

Preferring Local Hospital Based on Solid Reasons

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here are some of the reasons I'd personally prefer to be treated in my home town community hospital, provided that it was accredited and my care was undertaken by a qualified diplomate, as previously defined.

Since the factor of time is of such great importance in the treatment of all acute accidents, surgical emergencies and the complications of childbirth, I'd feel obligated to show my loyalty to members of the staff in the event of a non-emergency condition.

If I were a patient in my community hospital, I could be visited by members of my family and I could, if necessary, conduct my affairs through associates, partners or a secretary.

At home, too, I should be under the direct supervision of my family doctor on whom, to quote Dr. Thomas Rardin, I would "lean for understanding, troubleshooting, guidance and information." I would rely on him to represent me in the event of a consultation, whether formal or informal. I would expect that he would interpret me to his colleagues, examine problems that might arise from my personal point of view rather than in terms of generalities. In other words, I would be presented as a person, not as a "case."

I would count on my doctor to keep my family and my associates informed as to my progress, to interpret the specialist's views and procedures to those most interested in my welfare.

And though financial considerations are of least significance, I would expect a noticeable saving in travel expense and other costs necessitated by away-from-home living.

I do not deny for a moment the advantages that might stem from care in a large out-of-town clinic.

Certainly for very complicated surgery I would be better off in the care of those whose devotion to a specialty within a specialty enabled them to achieve greater experience and more skill than the physician in the local community. And in many large clinics dedicated members of the staff often provide just as thoughtful and considerate care as doctor-friends. But these are special situations that arise infrequently.

I'm the sort who thinks there's no bed as comfortable as one's own, no meals as good as what's served at our table and—call it "corn" if you will—there's no place like home.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA) — Daily newspapers are still holding their own and even climbing a little as molders of political opinion, but television's influence is rising rapidly.

Introduction of the Kennedy-Nixon debates made TV dominant. But TV's gain came principally from radio's loss. Both radio and magazines had relatively minor influence on the election result.

These findings are the result of a scientifically selected poll of 1,500 U. S. adults conducted by a University of Michigan Survey Research Center team. The accuracy of such a small sampling among 68 million voters is, of course, open to question. But value of the survey is that similar polls were made in 1952 and 1956. So there is a continuity that reveals some trend in public opinion analysis.

THESE WERE THE key questions asked the 1,500 people polled:

"We're interested in finding out whether people paid much attention to the election campaign. Take newspapers for instance—did you read about the campaign in any newspaper? How about radio—did you listen to any speeches or discussions? How about television—did you watch any programs about the campaign? How about magazines — did you read about the campaign in magazines?" Here the the results:

Reading n'spapers	79%	69%	80%
Listening to radio	69	45	42
Watch'g television	53	74	87
Reading Magazines	40	31	41

To get some measure of the relative influence of the four media on voters, the poll takers then asked this question:

"OF ALL THE WAYS of following the campaign, which one would you say got the most information from — newspapers, radio, television or magazines?" Here are the results:

Newspapers	22%	24%	23%
Radio	27	11	5
Television	31	49	60
Magazines	5	5	4
Comb. of media	9	3	3
Did not follow campaign	6	8	5

To nail down the influence of the Kennedy-Nixon debates, the Michigan survey team of Ph.Ds. under Director Angus Campbell, Philip E. Converse, Warren E. Miller and Donald E. Stokes made an elaborate analysis which casts some doubts on the above findings.

They show, in brief, that 21 per cent of the people questioned did not see any of the debates on TV and that the previous opinions of 27 per cent were not changed by the debates. That washes out 48 per cent of the voters from TV influence.

Of the other 52 per cent who saw the TV debates, 32 per cent were pro-Kennedy and 18 per cent were pro-Nixon to begin with. So only 2 per cent were really influenced. And in this 2 per cent, there was no net gain for either candidate. Net impact was nil.

THIS CONCLUSION is supported by other questions asked in the survey to determine party loyalties in every national election from 1952 through 1960. It shows, in brief, that 27 per cent considered themselves Republicans in both 1952 and 1960; 47 per cent Democrats in 1952 as against 46 per cent in 1960. Practically no change.

The so-called independents, including independent Republicans and independent Democrats were 27 per cent in 1952, 23 per cent in 1960. The real independents professing no leanings toward either party increased from 5 to 8 per cent in the eight years. This indicates how relatively small is the independent vote which must be influenced to swing an election.

These findings bring out the point that most people vote their prejudices. Only the 2 per cent who were influenced by the TV debates, or the 8 per cent who were independents really weighed the issues and tried to come to an intelligent decision.

THESE MINORITIES are the people that all media of communication—newspapers, TV, radio and the magazines—have to aim at in trying to inform the public and mold opinion.

Executive System Is Blamed For Presidential Troubles

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 2 — Is there something wrong with the executive system in America? Or is there something wrong about electing to the Presidency of the United States a man who has had no executive training or intimate knowledge of the workings of the executive branch of the government? Or is there something wrong in having a transition period of several months between an outgoing and an incoming administration, thereby paralyzing executive planning for the immediate future and causing serious consequences like the ill-fated venture in Cuba?

Answers to these question are more important today than just how the United States is to help in Laos or what position is to be taken in Cuba. For if the executive office of the government of the United States isn't functioning efficiently, how can the Chief Executive be expected to act instantly and effectively at a time when a missile or a bomb may be launched suddenly from an enemy area?

It does little good to blame this or that group of advisers—those who had experience in the last Administration or the new set who have been brought in from academic circles. With all their earnestness and sincerity, most of the newcomers lack experience in, and first-hand knowledge of government operations at the top level.

Role of Committee

What's fundamentally wrong in the executive system. Various members of Congress are spending a lot of time complaining that they should have been "briefed" on the Administration's planning in Cuba. But it is the true role of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee—admittedly a partisan group with some publicity-seeking members always vocal — which needs to be studied, so that it can play a proper but not a medddling part in the field of foreign policy.

There are some members of Congress who feel they should make the nation's policy in world affairs. Others feel they should only advise on foreign policy. But, as a practical matter, no executive can be effective if he has to take into his confidence dozens of persons inside and outside of Congress who "leak" information regularly to favorite members of the press.

President Kennedy likes to listen to a variety of views and is to be commended for his patience and restraint. But no amount of conferencing with a lot of college professors can give him the maturity and experience he needs to run the high office to which he has been elected. He will be a much better President a year hence, because of actual experience in the office, than he is today. He will learn that too many academicians at his side can bring confusion instead of clarity, and that a diffusion of responsibility can only produce chaos and failure.

The founding fathers provided in the constitution for heads of departments who would be nominated by the President and confirmed with the advice and consent of the Senate. Cabinet government has worked successfully in Britain and in other English-speaking democracies. Although Mr. Kennedy's Cabinet got at the start a lot of publicity as an able body of men, it turns out that this same group is rarely consulted on the broad aspects of national and international policy and that they have become mere heads of their own departments.

What is needed here is a Cabinet Council that gives full time to counseling the President. The departments can be run by general managers, and the Cabinet Council could meet every day and give the President advice. If the present Cabinet members aren't qualified to be Presidential advisers on broad policy, there are plenty of able men in America who could serve in that capacity. But it is courting disaster to assume that academicians, who have little experience in the operations of government, can shunt the Secretary of State aside or that decisions can be made with one or two Cabinet officers without the chance for a larger group of mature men to sit down and work out a policy based on principles of enduring strength.

There's much that is wrong in the current operations of the executive system. The so-called Cuban fiasco is but the beginning of a series of failures unless President Kennedy gets rid of most of the "kibitzers" who are running around in circles in the new Administration and sets up at his side a Cabinet Council of men of stature to give full time every day to the task of helping him make national and international policies. He can't do it all himself.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I have two books, some 650 pages each, called "Twenty Years of Congress," 1861-1881, by James G. Blaine. These 20 years of Congress were from Lincoln to Garfield, and with a review of the events which led to the Political Revolution of 1860. They were published in Norwich, Conn., in 1884 by The Henry Bill Publishing Co.

The print is excellent, every page is titled. Although these books are over 75 years old, I do not think my copy has ever been read through by anyone. Many of the pages look untouched and unturned and I do not have the ambition to read it through either, at this time. Will quote just a little from it as 1961 this year being the Civil War Anniversary.

This in part from page 552: "At the outbreak of hostilities the Government discovered that it had no Navy at command. The Secretary, Mr. Welles, found upon entering his office, but a single ship in a Northern port fitted to engage in aggressive operations. In the beginning of the great war, which was to be waged upon the seas, wherein the Government proposed to close Southern ports, and the South to destroy Northern commerce, the advantage was clearly with the South."

Mr. Hammond of South Carolina, made the following statement in the U. S. Senate, on March 4, 1858, three years before the inauguration of Mr. Lincoln. "Without firing a gun, without drawing a sword, should the North make war on us, we could bring the whole world to our feet. What would happen if no cotton was furnished for three years? . . . This is certain, England would topple headlong and carry the whole civilized world with her. No, you dare not make war on cotton. No Power on earth dares make war on cotton. Cotton is King."

James G. Blaine further states: "At the outbreak of the war the States in rebellion were able to manufacture but few of the articles indispensable to the ordinary life of her people.. Cotton and tobacco were their only exports. For a supply of manufactures, the South had depended wholly upon its trade with the North and with Europe . . . As a striking evidence of the prosperity in the South, at the time it complained of oppression, the largest cotton crop, which had ever been grown was that of 1860. It numbered more than five million, two hundred thousand bales, most of it had found a ready market in Europe and North before the outbreak of the war."

The North was to strangle the South with a blockade and shut off her export of cotton and tobacco, but first the North had to create a navy. By the end of 1863 the North had 600 vessels of war, which were increased to 700 before the rebellion was subdued. Of the total, at least 75 were ironclad. One scientific engineer, constructed in less than 100 days an armored squadron of eight ships, in the aggregate of 5,000 tons burden, capable of steaming 9 knots per hour and destined for effective service upon the rivers of the Southwest. When the contractor, James B. Eads of St. Louis, agreed to furnish these steamers to the Government, the timber from which they were to be built was still standing in the forest and the machinery with which the armor was to be rolled was not constructed."

Naturally the price of cotton sold in Liverpool Dec. 1861 at 11d. per pound had risen in Dec. 1962 to 24d. and as a result half a million people in England were thrown out of work and reduced to beggary."

Series Introduces School 5 Science Fair Top Exhibits

School 5 will be represented at the Third Annual Science Fair in New Paltz by Deborah Crespino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Crespino; Arthur Bruno, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bruno; and Richard C. Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bush. These three were declared winners in the intermediate grades during the local Science Fair in March.

Awarded First Prize

Deborah Crespino captured the first prize in the sixth grade with an outer space map. Debbie credited the idea for the winning project to a television space program she watched and to some encyclopedia research she did in connection with the program. She also reported that the material she used in her celestial display was easily obtained from neighborhood sources and downtown stores.

The fifth grade blue ribbon was awarded to 10-year-old Arthur Bruno. Arthur prepared an exhibition of prehistoric animals. He reported that the idea for the successful project came after he had read about prehistoric animals. Several books from the Kingston City Library also supplemented his information and background for the exhibit.

Nine-year-old Richard C. Bush garnered the fourth grade blue ribbon with an exhibition of human cells. Richard, youngest of the three boys, credited a discussion by one of his older brothers with sparking his project. He said that one of his brothers was discussing his class work and mentioned human cells. Richard then decided to take this area as a project for the Science Fair and set about gathering books and necessary material. Richard used a variety of materials from several sources. The chicken, plaster of paris and alcohol were supplied by local stores with the rest of the material found around the neighborhood.

To Compete May 12

The three winners at School 5 will join the other fourth, fifth and sixth grade first prize winners from the Kingston Schools at New Paltz on Friday, May 12. The Third Annual Mid-Hudson School Study Council Science Fair will be an all-day affair followed by a special awards program Friday evening. The Kingston (Consolidated) School District will be represented at the Hudson Valley competition by 51 exhibitors.

Tastes Are Different

"Audiences over there do not like the subject of death to be treated humorously," the performer says. "One of the satires in my Twain program involves a hilarious story (at home) about a man who gets woven into a rug. This does not get good response abroad.

"I think it must be because of the last war. Also it may be the lack of love for the great exaggeration so common to American humorists. I note that other very exaggerated jokes do not get as big a reception overseas as they do at home."

Sacrifice Bid Will Pay Off

By OSWALD JACOBY

East and West have one of those holdings that delight rubber bridge players, but that cause duplicate players to tear their hair.

They can make all 13 tricks at either clubs, diamonds or no-trump and their non-vulnerable opponents have a nice save in spades against anything except seven no-trump.

The bidding started out the same way at both tables with a no-trump by West; two spades by North; six diamonds by East; and six spades by South.

At one table West looked at his two diamonds and put in a prompt double. Every one passed and North was set five tricks, for a 900 point loss.

	NORTH
	♠ K Q J 10 9 3
	♥ Q J 7
	♦ 8 2
WEST (D)		EAST
♠ A 8 7		♠ None
♥ A 6 5 3		♥ 4 2
♦ Q J		♦ A K 10 6 5 4 3
♣ K Q 10 8		♣ A J 7 2
	SOUTH
	♠ 6 5 4 2
	♥ K 10 9 8
	♦ 9 7
	♣ 5 4 3

East and West vulnerable
(See article for bidding.)
Opening lead—♦ K

At the other table West was made of sterner stuff. He decided that seven diamonds might well make and instead of doubling West passed and left the decision about seven to his partner.

East bid seven diamonds all right and when he got back to North he went to seven spades. East doubled that and picked up 1100 and a net profit of 200 points, or five IMPs for his side.

How could East and West have reached seven no-trump for the maximum? All East would have had to do would be to pass over North's seven spades. In that case West might have tried the no-trump grand slam. I say, might have tried because I rather feel that he would have settled for the sure profit and doubled.

Key Those Pet Projects To Your Mode of Living

A good many of you find relaxation in doing handwork: knitting, crochet, needlepoint and embroidery as well as painting and working in ceramics and tile. These are fascinating projects that can add individuality to your home if they are planned as part of an over-all scheme. But too many of us are prone to waste money and hours making things that have no affinity with anything we own or hope to own. How much better to think before plunging into a time-consuming project!

Dear Polly: My problem concerns what colors to use for the dining room in our new house. I want rugs, walls and draperies to go with my fine china (a delicate gray and blue), my pure white everyday china and my handsome embroidered wheat on chocolate brown tablecloth. (I spent two years making the cloth). I do lots of handwork and don't want room colors to clash with it. We like very contemporary things. What do you suggest?—Mrs. W. C. McG Jr.

Dear Mrs. McG.: You do have a problem in that your tablecloth and china have nothing in common. I simply can't picture them together, though both are lovely, I'm sure. Is it possible that the cloth can serve as a bedspread? (It has been done, you know). Your bedroom could then be decorated around it. Then play up your china in the dining room with white walls, gray-blue woodwork, curtains and rug.

Dear Polly: I am thinking of painting my bedroom walls cream or pale apricot. On one wall I will paint a mural of pink blossoms, brown stems, green leaves and some blue flowers. Furniture is brown walnut and I do not want to paint the pine woodwork. I would like an exquisite bedroom. What colors for walls, drapes, spread, rug and chair—Mrs. B. B.

Dear Mrs. B. B.: You certainly should paint that pine woodwork in an "exquisite" bedroom. Pale apricot walls, woodwork, bedspread and draw curtains (polished cotton or antique satin) would provide a nice background for the mural. Carpet or room-size rug could be brown or deep green with brown and apricot pin stripes or checked cotton taffeta for the chair. Play up your mural by planning the room so that it is the center of interest.

$Million Plan Smashed

Raiders Break Up Bogus Record Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — The four men sipped their drinks and talked excitedly with the recent acquaintance they knew as "Big Mike." They talked of money—big money—and of phonograph records.

The phone rang and "Big Mike" answered it. "Okay," he said into the mouthpiece.

Seconds later, the door to an adjacent room in the plush Plaza Hotel swung open and a combined force of New York City and Nassau County police burst in.

"I have an important announcement to make to you," "Big Mike" said to his surprised companions. "You are all under arrest. I am Inspector (John Lada) of the Nassau County police."

Thus an investigation of several months duration was culminated Tuesday night with the breaking up of what Nassau County Asst. Dist. Atty. William Cahn said was a large-scale counterfeit record ring.

Lada said the four men were discussing with him the final plans for a million-dollar, nationwide bogus record plan when raiding party entered the room.

Cahn said the four men were members of a ring which already had made at least $200,000 in another operation in which 50,000 bogus copies of a popular record were sold.

A fifth man—Henry Arak, of Brooklyn—had been taken into custody in Nassau County Tuesday as an accomplice in the earlier operation.

Milton Rabuse, 34, of Little Neck, Queens, a real estate operator.

Harold Zatail, 42, of Forest Hills, Queens, owner of the Starr Offset Service Co., Manhattan.

Each was charged with two counts of larceny; violations of state trademark laws, and two counts of conspiracy.

Association. In 1957 he was an Economy Party candidate for alderman of the 11th Ward and in 1959 served as chairman of the Economy Party.

Teacher 44 Years

Mrs. Murphy has taught in the Kingston school system for the last 44 years and will retire at the end of the present school year. Mrs. Murphy recently received the highest praise from school officials for her long and distinguished service to the school district and the students with whom she has been associated.

She taught one year in the Liberty schools before coming to Kingston. She received her bachelor's degree at Albany State College in 1916 and has the equivalent of the master's degree in postgraduate work at New York University and Columbia University.

Mrs. Murphy has been head of the mathematics department of the local school system since September, 1955. When she first came to Kingston she taught Latin and English as well as mathematics. For a period of time she served as co-ordinator of guidance before the appointment of James Tobin. During World War I she was active in the Girl Scouts and for many years was an examiner for Regents examinations.

The Soviets have released only sparse details of Gagarin's experience, and perhaps did not arrange for as complete a harvest of information from it.

The U. S. pilot is being asked to control his capsule in flight to some extent, operate a periscope and radio, observe stars and clouds through a porthole, and conduct other tests.

He will begin recording his observations and judgments soon after he boards a pick-up ship.

That same day he flies to quiet seclusion on Grand Bahama Island for very detailed physical exams to see if there are any subtle changes in faculties or condition.

The following day he will file written reports and talk extensively with experts in various fields of the space project to supply all possible technical data.

Child Swallows Cleaner

Martha Jean Harbeck, 23-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harbeck, of 12 Murphy Street, was given emergency treatment this morning at the Benedictine Hospital after she had consumed some chlorox. She was reported doing well at home this afternoon. Police were notified at 10:45 a. m., and she was taken to the hospital in a Fatum ambulance. Officers John Kennedy and Edward Ortlieb were dispatched to the house.

U.S. Cuban Blasts

agents, broke relations months ago, on their own.

But, by Castro's words, a Socialist — meaning Communist-ruled—state already exists in the Western Hemisphere.

Result of Invasion

The bearded one and his cohorts seem to be buying safety in exchange for turning Cuba over to the Communist party, lock, stock and barrel. This has been one direct result of the ill-timed invasion.

From now on, it can be assumed, the Communist party will run the show in Havana, with Fidel as front man, useful for whipping up support from anti-Yankee fanatics and the unlettered masses. But the Communists, with an ear for Kremlin admonitions, are likely to be cautious. They are not likely to put Khrushchev in the uncomfortable position of having to make the terrible decision—war or peace.

If the party entrenches itself Fidel will be in danger. It is a matter of Communist history.

Navy to Attempt Sea Launching of Manned Balloon

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—The Navy plans to make an attempt Thursday to launch a manned balloon from the deck of an aircraft carrier to a record altitude.

If weather conditions are favorable, the carrier Antietam will proceed to a point about 100 miles in the Gulf of Mexico from where the attempt is to be made.

Other tries will be made Friday or Saturday if the first attempt is washed out. Three such tries were blocked by the weather last weekend.

The balloon, fully inflated, contains 10 million cubic feet of helium. The plastic envelope has a surface area of about seven acres and it measures 411 feet at launch, or as tall as a 40-story building.

Cmdr. Malcolm Ross of Washington will pilot the balloon and Lt. Cmdr. Victor G. Prather, medical officer at the Bethesda, Md., Naval Medical Research Institute, will be the scientific observer.

The two men will go aloft in an open gondola of aluminum framing measuring 6 by 5 by 5 feet. They will wear pressurized suits.

The two will be exposed to temperatures ranging down to 65 degrees below zero.

The balloon is designed to reach an altitude of 116,000 feet, or 22 miles above the earth's surface. The present balloon record is 102,800 feet set by Air Force Capt. Joseph W. Kittinger Jr. in August 1960.

Row Over Zeus

Morse Gives Up As Army Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post said today Richard S. Morse has resigned as assistant secretary of the Army and director of Army research.

Morse, advocate of the Nike-Zeus antimissile missile, has been reported by friends as unhappy over the decision by the Kennedy administration not to put the Nike-Zeus into production, the newspaper said.

However, the Post added that Morse denied he was quitting because of disagreement over defense policies.

Morse, 49, a research and manufacturing executive, was appointed two years ago by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Post said John H. Rubel, deputy director of defense research and engineering, is expected to be named to succeed Morse.

is not yet certain that the Soviets do not want a test ban treaty on terms which would be acceptable to the Western powers as well as to the U.S.S.R.

No Fixed Deadline

In this circumstance, officials said, there is no decision yet on whether or when the United States should resume testing of nuclear weapons. Nor is there any firmly fixed deadline so far as the United States is concerned for the talks at Geneva, assuming no progress is made.

Since the Geneva negotiations first began late in 1958, there has been an informal moratorium on all nuclear weapons testing by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

Dean is scheduled to rejoin the conference next week following further detailed conferences in the State Department and another meeting with the President. He returned to Washington last weekend.

Emphasis on Geneva

A White House spokesman said following the 75-minute security session that the emphasis was on the Geneva talks.

Officials who attended the session were not listed. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara are regular members along with the President and vice president. It was announced that another council meeting will be held Friday.

Employers Make Threat to Close Construction Jobs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Negotiations in a wide-ranging construction strike resume today under an employers' threat to shut down all but highway projects unless a contract agreement is reached.

The Eastern New York Construction Employers Association threatened Tuesday to close the projects at 4:30 p.m. unless a strike by Local 106 of the Operating Engineers Union was settled.

The engineers and two plumbing union locals, Albany 7 and Troy 61, struck Monday when their contracts expired.

The striking unions claim approximately 2,500 members, but other unions have observed picket lines and about 10,000 workers are idled.

Some of Terms

The association, which represents employers in an area west to Utica and from Ulster and Dutchess counties to Glens Falls, has said the engineers were asking for pay increases ranging from 96 cents to $1.11 per hour. Engineers now are paid $3.24½ to $4.28½ per hour.

The association also said it would not agree to an engineers' proposal to cut the work week from 40 to 35 hours.

A union spokesman termed the employers' proposal for a 15-cent-an-hour boost over two years "ridiculous" and "the lowest made to any of the trades at this stage of the negotiations.

While the association's threat of closure affects only projects in its area, the engineers' local's jurisdiction extends into an area covered by the Northern New York Building Trades Employers Association.

President James McKenna of the Eastern New York employers, told reporters Tuesday that the shutdown would "put more pressure on unions reluctant to sign" contract renewals. "If you don't lick them now, you're dead," he said.

Will Set Pattern

The results of the negotiations with the engineers will probably set a pattern for agreements with about 12 other building-trades unions.

The major projects affected include a high school in Gloversville, and a Hospital in Saratoga Springs.

Claim Invasion Chief in Custody

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Capt. Manuel Artime, leader of the unsuccessful invasion of Cuba two weeks ago, was captured today, Radio Havana announced.

Artime had been hiding in the swamps of the Bay of Cochinos awaiting an opportunity to flee to the United States, the announcement said. The broadcast accused Artime of having fled Cuba to join the exile army with funds from an agricultural cooperative.

Artime was a member of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's rebel army in the successful revolution against President Fulgencio Batista. Castro later claimed that Artime was with his forces for a brief period of days.

The bearded Artime told newsmen in Mexico City last year that he was a representative at Manzanillo of the National Agrarian Reform Institute, Castro's agency administering the land redistribution program.

He said he fled Cuba after hearing an order had been issued for his execution.

Artime also said Castro wanted to establish a Tito type of communism, independent of Russia.

Reports from Cuba last week said Artime was not killed in the invasion and said the counterrevolutionary leader was at large in the Escambray Bay of Cochinos area.

H. J. Kaiser Jr. Dies Following Lengthy Illness

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser Jr., younger son of the internationally known industrialist, died Tuesday night after an extended illness. He was 44.

Henry Jr. was a vice president and director of Kaiser Industries Corp. and of many related companies of the multibillion dollar Kaiser organization.

He was an early champion of sharing the profits of automation with workers.

Kaiser called on labor and management to "wage a voluntary disarmament program against such weapons as the strike and the use of the bargaining table as a fight arena in a talk to the Los Angeles Rotary Club in March, 1960.

He had been confined to a wheel chair several months and frequently had been in hospitals.

He was named Oakland's outstanding citizen of 1960 for his many civic activities. But he was too ill to accept the award on Feb. 15 and his 8-year-old son, Henry J. Kaiser III, accepted it in his father's name.

Kaiser was born in Everett, Wash. He was graduated from Stanford University in 1940.

Personal Favor on $100 Ticket Sale For Kennedy Dinner Embarrasses Udall

By JACK BELL

Udall stood admittedly embarrassed today by exposure of an effort of a friend—as a "personal favor" to the secretary—to sell to representatives of the oil and gas industry tickets to a $100-a-plate May 27 dinner honoring President Kennedy.

Because his department administers industry programs, Udall said he was appalled, flabbergasted and embarrassed when a letter written by J. K. Evans of the Asiatic Petroleum Co. came to his attention.

Evans said Udall was "a friend of long standing" and had asked him to help the Cabinet member dispose of a "very sizable quota" of tickets for the dinner to raise party funds and to observe Kennedy's birthday, which comes two days later.

Republicans who have been shooting at Udall almost since he took office in January, generally were content to let the Cabinet member extricate himself as best he could from this situation.

Demands Firing

But Rep. William E. Miller of New York, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign, demanded that Kennedy fire Udall. Miller said the letter amounted to Udall's "black-jacking" of the oil and gas industry.

Udall conceded he had asked Evans to sell a few dinner tickets but denied categorically that he had suggested his friend solicit oil and gas industry officials. He said he told Evans to withdraw the letter.

Assistant White House news secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said he felt confident Kennedy had not been in touch with Udall about the letter.

Explains Memo

Orren Beaty, Udall's assistant, meantime was busy explaining why he wrote a memo to Interior Department officials telling them to notify Lawrence O'Brien in the White House 48 hours ahead of any announcement of contract awards. O'Brien, one of President Kennedy's advisers, handles patronage matters.

Beaty said it was a "routine practice to notify the White House and interested members of Congress" when the department had some news it thought was worth cheering about. In his memo, Beaty said "the secretary has asked me to follow through on this."

Bingo Probe Drops 2 Veterans' Posts

NEW YORK (AP) — The State Investigation Commission's public hearing on bingo operations has resulted in the suspension of two more veterans' posts.

Lester G. Spear, executive director of the American Veterans of World War II (AMVETS), announced Tuesday the suspension of the University Post 481, Ansonia Hotel, Manhattan; and Post 52, Tuckahoe, N.Y.

He said the suspensions resulted from the posts' involvement with convicted swindler William P. Buckner.

AMVETS Face Action

Last week, the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) suspended three of 155 chapters for the same reason.

Spear promised that "appropriate action" will be taken against the two AMVETS posts at the group's annual convention next month at Binghamton.

In another development at the commission's hearing Tuesday, William H. Gray Jr., city clerk of Yonkers, was accused of accepting $500 from Buckner to help in Buckner's bingo operations.

Gray testified Buckner had offered him $250 a month to expedite two bingo applications and that he had rejected the offer.

Two witnesses admitted the acceptance of payments in connection with bingo operations.

Albert Einstein, who resigned in January as an investigator for the State Lottery Control Commission, said he received $350 last year from Carl S. Lowenthal, a lawyer who was counsel for Pubplay Inc., a bingo corporation controlled by Buckner.

He also testified he had received $200 from two veterans' posts that ran bingo games.

Lowenthal, who had been subpoenaed to testify yesterday, notified the commission he could not make an appearance because he had entered a Manhasset, hospital with a heart ailment.

Says Some From Clergy

John T. Bartley, who was suspended last week as an investigator for lottery commission, testified that he received $30 last year from a veterans' post in Yonkers and $160 from James Farley, former manager of the Virga Bingo Supply Co. of Valley Stream.

He said the money had been paid by Farley for getting bingo supply customers. Bartley said he had received many bribe offers, "some of them from clergymen."

Killian Named As Monitor of U.S. Intelligence

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy has selected Dr. James R. Killian Jr. to lead the permanent presidential board that monitors the government's foreign intelligence activities, the New York Times said today.

Killian is chairman of the Corporation of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A Washington dispatch to the Times, reporting the selection of Killian, said it is the latest of a number of steps taken by Kennedy to restore confidence in the intelligence services after the recent unsuccessful attempt to set off a counter-revolution in Cuba.

The story said Kennedy had picked Killian to be chairman of the President's Board of Consultants on Foreign Intelligence Activities. This board was set up by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to keep watch over the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and all other agencies engaged in foreign intelligence. Killian was the board's first chairman.

Killian now will succeed the man who succeeded him as chairman, Gen. John E. Hull (ret.), former commander of U. S. forces in the Far East and president of the Manufacturing Chemists Association.

of its franchise, he noted, call for completion of its program in three years, and some two have expired.

Forgotten, He Intimates

"It seems to me," said Perry, "when anything happens in Kingston, we don't get it in the Fifth Ward.

Council President Kaye referred the Perry complaint to City Clerk Raymond A. McAndrew and Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly, who are to communicate with Kingston Cablevision. A recent report noted that another complaint against the latter came from TV dealers, who claim an ordinance violation through a program instituted at the Benedictine Hospital.

A full stop sign was authorized for Crane and East Union Street after Mayor Edwin F. Radel suggested such action. The mayor recalled three recent accidents at the intersection, and said he had advised Alderman Hastings, traffic committee chairman, of the need for effective action there.

Says He Asked 5 Times

Perry recalled submitting five resolutions asking for similar action and said he had also requested a traffic light there. He had a resolution on it last night.

Two women of his ward, Perry said, stopped him on the street, and told him that something was going to be done at the intersection and "the Democrats" were to do it. "Why didn't we get action before, when I asked for it?" he asked. "I want the people to know that they can't get action over night on these things."

Hastings noted there had been previous confusion in the area resulting from setting up signs at the wrong corners, and indicated this might have something to do with delayed action.

Streets Never Worse: Myers

Alderman Clark W. Myers (R) Second Ward, wanted to know why holes in several streets in his ward have not been filled. Madison Avenue was in the worst condition, he said, and he felt that even though weather conditions have not been at their very best recently, something should be done.

Joseph F. Carroll Jr., (R) 11th Ward, commended the traffic committee and city officials involved for lessening danger at the intersection of Fair and Wall Streets, the Boulevard and Greenkill Avenue, through construction of an island pattern.

The alderman also said he had been informed in a letter from Franklin H. Hazard, assistant superintendent of schools, that an education board committee was considering a drainage problem on the George Washington School property. Conditions there now lead to flooding of a Washington Avenue area.

Francis R. Koenig, (D) Ninth Ward, also noted that an education board committee is also considering solution of traffic and parking problems involving streets in the MJM and high school areas.

A zoning change petition asking a business designation for 12 and 14 Pearl Street, and filed by Attorney Norman Kellar and Tullia P. Kellar, was referred to the laws and rules committee. The building on the former Dr. Larkin property, is to house professional offices.

Going to Conferences

Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly, City Clerk Raymond A. McAndrew and Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye were granted permission to attend the annual Conference of Mayors June 18, 19 and 20 at Kiamesha Lake.

Dr. Herbert Derman, local laboratory director, and Dr. James Kelly, associate director, were authorized to attend a symposium on antibiotics assay methods at Rochester June 9. They and five members of the technical staff were authorized to attend a meeting of the New York State Association of Public Health Laboratories in Schenectady May 18 and 19.

Miss Marcia Clark, bacteriologist, was authorized to attend a seminar at the State Laboratory Albany, on fluorescent antibody technique for detection of hemolytic streptococcus. It will be held June 12 through 16.

A resolution by Alderman Carroll, seconded by Myers, asked that dead-end sign be placed on Arlmont Street, a foot beyond Hillsworth Avenue, to prevent unnecessary turning around at the dead end of the street.

Alderman Myers asked for two hour parking 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on the south side of Teller Street, beginning at Tietjen Avenue, and in a westerly direction to the end of the street. He asked for the same on the southwest side of Westrum Street, from Albany Avenue, southeast to Claredon Avenue.

Charges Dismissed

Charges of unlawful intrusion against two of five youths who were charged recently with having entered a vacant East Chester Street house without permission were dismissed in City Court Tuesday night. The charges were dropped against Richard Harris, 18, of 81 Foxhall Avenue, and Arthur Short, 17, of 141 Chambers Street. Two of the others involved, police said were 14 and the other 15 years old. Attorney Thomas Saccoman appeared for Short.

Must Make Good For Upset Tree, Held on 3 Counts

A young man, who, police said, went berserk and damaged two of the evergreens which enhance the uptown business district, was sentenced today in city court on three charges.

Thomas Foley, 25, of 96 Stockton Street, Springfield, Mass., was charged with malicious mischief, resisting arrest and public intoxication.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein ordered that he must make restitution for the trees, one of which had been pushed over and broken, and he added a suspended sentence of 30 days on the malicious mischief count. Foley was also placed on probation for a period not to exceed three years, and this, the judge indicated, could end early, if he completes restitution. The trees cost $22 each.

The judge gave him a choice of paying a $50 fine or spending 25 days in jail on the charge of resisting arrest, and five days on the public intoxication charge. The fine was not immediately paid, but the defendant indicated he would make arrangements to get the money for the fine and for restitution. It was reported this afternoon that the latter had been made.

A police report at 9:20 p. m., noted that Officer Frank Stip had called for a patrol car and Officers Edward Edwards and Thomas Coffey were dispatched to Fair Street. Bail of $1,000 was not posted and Foley spent the night in jail.

Judge Klein put over to Saturday, hearing on a third-degree assault charge against George Ashley, of 5 West Strand. He was arrested Tuesday night on complaint of Edward Johnson, of 5 West Strand. Attorney Francis Martocci represents Ashley.

Kidnaping Charge On Cossaboom Is Probed by Jury

A kidnaping charge against Robert G. Cossaboom, 32, who had been residing in Hartford, Conn., was being investigated by the Ulster County grand jury today.

Cossaboom was arrested at Hartford early in April on a warrant charging him with kidnaping his 14-year-old niece, Rosalie Orvis from the home of her mother, Mrs. Estella Boyer in Cottekill.

It was alleged the girl was taken from her home in the early morning of March 26. The warrant for his arrest was issued by Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky of the Town of Rosendale.

A former resident of this area, Cossaboom has a wife and children residing in this area but allegedly has been separated from them since last January.

A missing person alarm was sent out and it was later ascertained the girl was with her uncle.

The matter was investigated by District Attorney David W. Corwin, Assistant District Attorney Harry Gold and Ulster County Investigator Arthur H. Brown. Cossaboom was later returned to the Ulster County jail.

Capt. Thomas J. Hankard of the Hartford police said Cossaboom was arrested with his niece at Hartford on April 3 after he had been followed from a post-office sub-station where he had picked up mail. Hartford police said Cossaboom told them he had not kidnaped the girl, that she had willingly accompanied him to Hartford after he had found her hiding in the back seat of his car when he left Kingston several days prior.

Back JFK, But . . .

GOP Says Acheson Appeasers Return With Soft Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) —Republican leaders have pledged support for the Kennedy administration in matters affecting world peace. But almost simultaneously, GOP House members attacked the President for alleged appeasement in foreign policy.

Commenting on the failure of the Cuban invasion, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in Greenville, S.C., he doesn't think Republicans should publicly criticize the Kennedy administration for "mistakes which have hurt our world position."

But in a statement summarizing "the first 100 days of the Kennedy administration, the House GOP Policy Committee said:

"Many of the old 'Acheson appeasers' have reappeared on the scene, still befogged by the notion that softness is the best reply to Soviet aggression. One of the more disquieting aspects of this trend toward appeasement has been the tendency of President Kennedy to make ringing declarations concerning our determination to resist Communist aggression while hovering in the wings behind him are the appeasers busily plotting the next surrender."

And while House Republicans attacked Kennedy, the Republican leaders in Congress, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, pledged support to the President.

Explaining the GOP position to the National Press Club, Dirksen said: "Our first responsibility is to get all the facts available and to insist upon consultation with the administration.

"But when the irretrievable decision has been made in a world filled with fever and madness it becomes the responsibility of the minority to uphold the hand of the President and make it manifest to all the world that this is a united country."

However, Halleck said that on the domestic front, Republicans have "a responsibility to speak for the millions of good Americans who supported Vice President Nixon in the last election."

Urban Hearing

Alderman Woerner, in offering the resolution dealing with the Community College, emphasized that the aldermen were representatives of a city of some 30,000 residents. Alderman John P. Heitzman (D) 12th Ward, seconded the resolution.

Woerner also stressed that Kingston is the county seat, and he felt the aldermen should be on record as favoring location of the college in or near the city. It is, he felt, "the only logical area." He asked that the Board of Supervisors, which recently left to a referendum decision on the college proposal, be notified of the council's sentiment.

Be Patient if Big Volume Brings Clerical Delays

Q) "I would like to know if there is any set time between the sale of common stock and the arrival of the check from the broker who holds the certificates."—H. S.

A) If your sale is made "regular way," which is the normal procedure, your broker should mail you a check on the fourth business day following the date of your transaction. Saturdays and Sundays are excluded.

For example, if you sell on Monday, your payment should be mailed Friday. If your transaction is completed on Friday, a check should be sent to you on the following Thursday. You must of course allow a day or two for the check to reach you.

Any delay in getting your money after the sixth business day following sale means there has been an error somewhere along the line. And if an error has been made, be as patient and understanding as you can. Big volume trading this year has pushed the clerical workers in the brokerage offices almost to the limit of their endurances.

Q) "What do you think of buying American Photocopy and Hershey Chocolate at today's prices?"—R. A.

A) At today's quotations, I would say that the stocks you ask about represent two of the better values available. Both have had rapid price rises but seem likely to sell higher.

American Photocopy's profits are benefitting strongly from the repeat nature of the office copying business, so earnings and dividends have gone up consistently. The shares, recently split, are selling around 31 times 1960 earnings—a relatively fair price-to-earnings ratio for such a strongly growing situation. I would buy them for continued rapid growth.

Hershey Chocolate, a split candidate, is being helped by lower cocoa prices. Dividends have been raised in each of the last six years. I would buy Hershey for moderate growth and steady income.

"Get out of here. We haven't time for that."

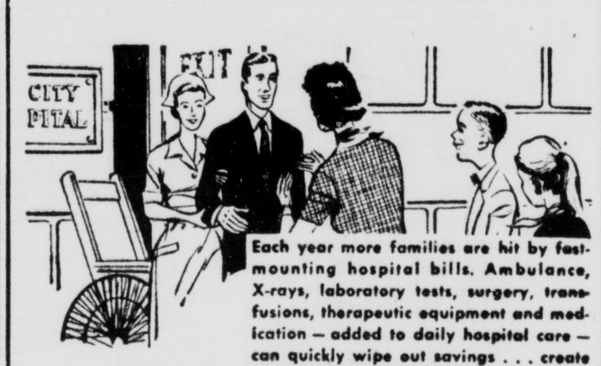
Winters was described as a quiet man, a "loner," and a perfectionist who is at the bank every day, holidays and weekends included. The institution is the last small independent bank in the county.

Winters joined the bank after he was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, at 19.

He served as village clerk and treasurer of Richmondville for 20 years.

Winters owns a 1951-model car with only 6,000 miles on its speedometer. But he has no license.

"He never took the driver's test," a friend explained. "He always has someone drive him if ever he wants to go anywhere."



Each year more families are hit by fast-mounting hospital bills. Ambulance, X-rays, laboratory tests, surgery, transfusions, therapeutic equipment and medication — added to daily hospital care — can quickly wipe out savings . . . create a debt it will take years to pay.

Civil Air Patrol To Participate in First Aid Course

Members of Kingston Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol will participate in the first aid course conducted by the American Red Cross beginning Wednesday 7:30 p. m. in the City Court Room, City Hall.

No uniforms will be worn for these training sessions, Sidney Lane, squadron commander said today. Since one of the main purposes of the CAP is search and rescue, a basic knowledge of first aid is very essential for all members, he said. All members are expected to take the course, and other interested persons are also invited to attend.

Lane said all squadron members have been invited to attend a concert and dance at the Municipal Auditorium Thursday on the occasion of the opening of the new Air Force Recruiting Office at 597 Broadway. The concert and dance will be given by the 64th Air Division Band from Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh.

On Friday and Saturday cadets of the squadron acted as guards at the emergency operating center in the Court House, checking identification cards for those wishing to enter the control center. They also assisted at the communications center in City Hall and at the NAWAS installation on Golden Hill. Several senior members of the squadron also assisted where needed.

The squadron was invited by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to be a part of their "Operation Survival" show on Saturday at the parking lot of Kingston High School Major Lane said his exhibit contained the squadron ambulance and communications equipment.

Benedictine Medical Staff Holds Its Annual Meeting

The annual dinner meeting of the medical staff of the Benedictine Hospital was held Tuesday evening, April 25, at the hospital. Also present was the Right Rev. Msgr. Daniel Shea, Sister Berenice, Sister Callista and Edwin B. Bolz, associate administrator.

The following staff officers and clinical departmental heads were named: Dr. Emil S. Goodyear, president; Dr. Robert A. McCaig, vice president; Dr. John A. Cooke Jr., secretary-treasurer; Dr. John A. Olivet, department head of medicine; Dr. B. J. Dutto, department head of general practice; Dr. John A. Cooke Jr., department head of surgery; Dr. Michael F. Diacovo, department head of ob-gyn-pediatrics.

Dr. Goodyear, chairman of the meeting, reviewed the medical staff activity for the past year and defined the tasks for the staff in future years. He said that Monsignor Martin Drury is greatly missed. He also wished a speedy recovery to Dr. William Bush, who is incapacitated at this time and was unable to attend the meeting. Dr. Goodyear concluded that "as members of the medical staff of the Benedictine Hospital we will continue the high standards of medical care with a view to always doing what is best for the patient."

Dr. Cooke, Dr. Dutto and Dr. Olivet reported for their departments and reviewed the growing trends indicated by the experience of 1960. Dr. Olivet observed that an analysis of the discharges in the medical department indicated an interesting trend. He said "respiratory infections for the year totaled 215, with various forms of pneumonia comprising 60 per cent of these. With these respiratory infections comprising over 11 per cent of hospital admissions, there may be some indication of the beginning downfall of the antibiotics as the panacea of all respiratory infections."

Sister Callista reporting for the School of Nursing stated "during the past years the educational program of the Benedictine Hospital has endeavored according to the philosophy of the school to provide for the total development of the student as a person who exemplified the spiritual and moral virtues of true womanhood, and assist her in acquiring knowledge and skills based on scientific principles for an understanding of the preventive, curative and rehabilitative aspects of nursing care."

Sister Berenice reported the overall observations of the administration. She said, "In 1952 when the south wing was opened, we were confident of having provided hospital space and facilities to satisfy all our needs for some time. This, however, was impossible when we are living in an era of constant growth. The development of the many new industries and the building of homes in these vicinities are largely responsible for our crowded hospitals. The public, too, is now more aware that new medical knowledge and improved medical treatment have extended life's span. Increased use of Blue Cross and other hospital insurances have been another factor in the use of hospital facilities. Consequently, our hospital is filled to capacity most of the time.

"Shortly after Mr. Bolz came to the Benedictine Hospital as associate administrator, he undertook and directed several major changes, both structural and procedural, particularly in the old section of the building. Several of these changes have been completed and are successful. The new post operative recovery room for example will be a great improvement when completed within the next few weeks.

"For the past year's services we express our sincere gratitude to the members of the medical staff for their assistance and direction in professional matters; to the members of the nursing profession for their unselfish service and loyalty; to the lay advisory board for their interest and cooperation; to the Ladies' Auxiliary for their generous helpfulness and cooperation, and finally to all our employes whose loyal and faithful service has contributed so greatly in the quality of care rendered to our patients.

"After having had such a remarkable friend and leader as the Right Rev. Msgr. Drury for so many years, we were deeply grieved at his passing. We are delighted, however, by the appointment of the Right Rev. Msgr. Daniel Shea as pastor at St. Mary's Church and dean of Ulster County."

Sister Berenice concluded "We are conscious of our many appeals over the years and of the great interest and generosity of all our friends irrespective of race, color or creed throughout Kingston and all Ulster County. This magnificent response revealed that the success of the campaigns was not due merely to a civic and public duty well rendered, but that it revealed a beautiful background of a spirit of liberality, broadmindedness and helpfulness rarely equalled in any community."

Mr. Bolz, the associate administrator, then outlined the statistical and financial report for the hospital for the year of 1960. These reports emphasized the increased activity at the hospital and the continuing need for support of all parties concerned with the operation of the hospital.

He stated that "as can be readily seen from the reports of activity, hospital progress can only be accomplished by a mutual understanding and united effort on the part of the governing board, lay advisory board, medical staff, hospital employes and the administration.

He concluded his report stating "the hospital which is a consolidation of efforts of the above parties has but one purpose, the care of the sick with no regard to the financial status of the patient. We are in a partnership in which each party to the agreement assumes a definite obligation to each other and the community which we serve."

An average of 1,500 persons desert New York City each week to make their homes in the suburbs.

If all the petty family arguments were placed end to end they'd reach very few sane conclusions.

How many Sunday dinners this summer will be the result of chickens wandering into the newly planted garden on the next farm?

Joe — Still engaged to Julia?

Sam — No.

Joe — Good!

Sam — What?

Sam — What?

Joe — How'd you drop the old hag?

Sam — I married her.

Man — Is you wife talkative?

Friend — Not exactly. But I got a cold and lost my voice for three days and she never did find it out.

An insurance agent was trying to convince a prospective customer of the merits of life insurance. He kept right at him. At one stage of the battle the agent used this argument:

Agent — Why, insurance is the greatest thing in the world. No man should be without it. I even carry a $50,000 policy payable to my wife.

An honest man said this: "When I hear that justice is on the way to my neighborhood, I'm going to leave town. Of all things I don't want and couldn't stand, it is justice."

A man, who was traveling on horseback in the Ozark Mountains stopped before a typical Arkansas farmhouse to inquire the way. After giving directions the mountaineer asked, What's the news? as he leaned his lank frame against the fence and pulled his long beard thoughtfully.

On finding that what had become a part of history was news to him, the traveler asked why he did not take some weekly or monthly periodical that he might keep in touch with the world at large.

Wal, said the old native, when my pa died nine years ago he left me a stack of newspapers that high—indicating a height of about four feet—and I ain't done reading of 'em yet.

Then there's the story of the two pessimists who met at a party and shook heads.

Kingston Chosen As Testing Area For Beauty Soaps

NEW YORK, May 3—Because Kingston has "nearly ideal communications and retail outlets," it has been chosen by the Colgate Palmolive Company as one of the key testing areas for a a major development in beauty soaps.

Robert Angelus, the company's associate general products manager, says that Kingston is one of the first areas in which the new soap, "Choice," will be marketed. Experience in selling the new product here will be used in planning national sales strategy when the soap is sold throughout the country.

"Choice is the first soap ever made in three different formulas, to meet the individual needs of dry, normal and oily skin," Angelus explained. "Because Kingston is like a miniature U. S. in its economic and social structure, it is ideal for consumer information and product testing."

The new soap, one of the most important scientifice developments in the history of the industry, was created after years of research. It is manufactured in three "skin-typed" formulas and colors, pink "Choice" for dry skin, white "Choice" for normal skin and aqua "Choice" for oily skin. It is available in both regural and bath sizes, in special foil packaging to match the soap colors.

Angelus said the product will be sold through supermarkets, drug stores and department stores in the biggest advertising and promotional campaign ever given a soap in this area.

The campaign will feature newspaper ads in color, TV magazines, and full coverage of sales promotion aids such as window banners and point of sale display in both food and drug outlets. Special direct mail literature will be sent to consumers featuring "cents-off" coupons, and other mailings are being distributed to all doctors, dermatologists, allergists and pediatricians in the area.

The product, developed under the guidance of dermatologists in the company's laboratories, is said to represent a major advance in the beauty soap market. It can be used by every member of a family, from baby to grandparents, yet meets the personal needs of each consumer's individual skin problems.

Panel studies by the company showed that 85 yer cent of people can correctly identify their own skin type, and further, these studies have shown that nine out of 10 women desire a soap that suits their individual needs.

The Union Center Community Church will present Clinton Chapter No. 445, Order of Eastern Star, 1961 minstrel show Tuesday, May 9, at 8 p. m. at the Port Ewen Town Hall. Proceeds will be used to shingle the church.

Ulster Grange No. 969, Ulster Park will sponsor a card party at 8 p. m. May 27 at the Grange Hall. Refreshments will be served.

Both President, Top Aides Found at Fault

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

By his own actions he has added to his problems and made it extra painful. He must do two things, both intimately related for success:

1. He must, because of the narrow election margin, win broad popular support and confidence.

2. To win it, he must make decisions which are right in the sense that they succeed and have public approval.

Two Basic Mistakes

After only three months in office, with his popularity mounting, he permitted the Cuban invasion which became a disaster.

It shook confidence in his judgment. A president so new in office can't afford many big mistakes. The Cuban affair was a big one.

Now he must overcome this setback and, as a result of it, work even harder at winning confidence in himself. This makes his total job that much tougher.

There were two basic mistakes on Cuba:

1. The aides upon whom he had to depend in the Cuban affair did a sloppy, poorly thought-out and miserably executed job.

2. Kennedy himself did nothing to prepare public opinion for the Cuban operation, which was a drastic step in American foreign policy.

Shoulders Blame

He could have given an explanation on TV, but he didn't. He could have done more at his news conferences, but he didn't do that, either.

He did issue a lengthy, so-called "white paper" denouncing Communist influence in Cuba. This was good for specialists but probably too long and detailed for most newspaper readers.

The whole bungled Cuban adventure raised a natural question: If a relatively small matter like this can be so thoroughly botched up, what can we expect in a critical situation with a first-rate power like Russia?

The simple fact was the United States was involved. The Kennedy administration even made hash in its explanations of what went wrong.

The administration has never made a public explanation. Various members of it gave various explanations which not only could not be attributed to them directly but in some instances contradicted one another.

No Explanations

But, since he seems to have no intention of revealing any more than is already known, and what is known is confusing, he will have to bear full responsibility.

Most likely this one episode by itself will recede in public memory and, by careful leadership in the months ahead, Kennedy may come out of this without bad damage.

Even so, he now has to be extra careful about every move he makes, at home or abroad.

If his popularity dips because of lessened confidence in him, his troubles with Congress will multiply until his leadership at home is truly jeopardized.

If he makes any more mistakes in foreign affairs the American allies' confidence will be shaken and the self-confidence of communism in dealing with him will be infinitely, perhaps even dangerously, increased.

Says Cuba Operation Mistake

Fulbright Lays Blame On White House, Top Agencies for Fiasco

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., says he believes the ill-fated Cuban invasion was a blunder for which the White House and several other agencies must share responsibility.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, commented Tuesday after his committee questioned top officials of the State Department and the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

He said a decision would be made later whether to call military advisers before either the full committee or the Latin American Affairs subcommittee.

"Insofar as I'm concerned, I know all I want to know," Fulbright told reporters after a four-hour briefing by Allen W. Dulles, director of the super-secret CIA, and Richard M. Bissell Jr., Dulles' deputy director for plans who reportedly played a major role in the CIA's part in the invasion by Cuban exiles.

Fulbright said the testimony confirmed his prior conviction that "the operation as a whole was a mistake" for which the White House, the Defense Department, the CIA and the State Department share "a collective responsibility."

Fulbright is known to have warned the administration against it when he learned of the planned invasion.

The senator said that Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who briefed the committee Monday, will return this afternoon for a further briefing on the world situation, including the crisis in Laos and current developments in Cuba.

One member of Fulbright's committee, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, reported that the invasion by the Cuban exiles was marked by "poorly conceived military planning."

"A dual mistake was made," Church told newsmen. "Communism can not be shot down in Latin America; it must be shown up, and this should be the object of our policy.

"But when a resort to arms was taken in Cuba, then the error was compounded by allowing a corporal's guard to attempt an army's work."

Approve Restoration

Congress and the Maryland and Delaware legislatures have passed acts approving restoration of the Mason-Dixon Line markers through those two states.

Beef Cattle Trade Termed As Big Business in Area

(Editors: While New York State is widely known for its dairy industry, beef cattle are big business in the Hudson Valley. The story of that rich investment is told here in an enterprise project by the Poughkeepsie Journal.)

By EDWIN H. ROZELL
Poughkeepsie Journal

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—Cattle-breeders from the great plains of the West, from the vast Pampas of the Argentine, from Canada and Europe, buy beef stock on ranches only 70 miles from New York City.

Breeding beef animals is big business in the rolling hills of Dutchess and nearby counties along the Hudson River. Steak-production has attracted bankers, industrialists, political leaders, movie stars and plain dirt farmers.

Sparkplug of Group

Among them is Myron Fuerst of Rhinebeck, a partner in a New York City importing firm and sparkplug of an informal aberdeen angus breeders' group.

"We have the right climate for beef cattle, and excellent pasture lands," Fuerst explained. "We are close to New York, making it easy for foreign buyers to visit our farms. We started with good foundation stock and our breeders have a boundless enthusiasm for improving breeds."

"There is no question that our herds are the best in the country," he added. "At one time or another we have won every major award in the United States at cattle shows and at Palermo, the largest show in Argentina.

"Within the last 12 months, we have shipped stock to most of the cattle-breeding states, to the Argentine, New Zealand, Canada, Scotland and England."

Dutchess County has 40 farms that breed beef cattle, 10 operated by part-time farmers. Thirteen others combine beef and dairy herds. There are about 8,000 beef and 22,000 dairy animals in the county.

Pine Plains Has Largest

The largest operation is 2,500-acre Briarcliff Farms at Pine Plains. There, the aberdeen angus, hereford and shorthorn herds of George W. Brown, president of Brown Oil and Chemical Co., Staten Island, fluctuate between 2,500 and 5,000 head.

As the home of high-quality beef cattle, Dutchess has completed a cycle that began with the Civil War, a century ago. Because of its nearness to New York City, the county became a beef-breeding center whose farms supplied much of the meat needs of the Union Army. Herds were driven to New York or shipped down the Hudson.

At that time, ancestors of Oakleigh L. Thorne, chairman of the Corporation Trust Co. of New York and a director of the New York Bontanical Garden, owned some of the finest shorthorns in the country. It was Thorne's grandfather, Oakleigh Thorne, who founded Dutchess' modern beef industry at Briarcliff in 1918. He was convinced that angus was the coming breed, best adapted to the area's lush pastures, wealth of running water, shade trees and cold winters. Oakleigh L. Thorne is carrying on the breeding project at Millbrook.

Next came Frederick H. Bontecou, wealthy horseman, former state senator and candidate for lieutenant governor when Thomas E. Dewey ran unsuccessfully for governor in 1938. When Bontecou died two years ago, his herd was valued at $330,000. His son, Jay, is carrying on and expanding.

Former U.S. Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. of Clove Creek Farm, Poughquag, and Joseph Curran, head of the National Maritime Union, raise herefords.

Actor James Cagney, whose 744-acre farm formerly was owned by singer Lanny Ross, crossbreeds scottish highlanders, black angus and herefords. He hopes to produce a marbleized, or tenderized, beef through cross-breeding.

Is Named Agent For Typewriters

BEN SKLON

Ben Sklon, an experienced typewriter man, has been appointed as agent for the Remington Rand Company, it was announced today.

Sklon, who closed his business in 1954 because of eye trouble, will be located in new quarters at 10 Hoffman Street, just off Broadway. His firm will be called Sklon's Typewriter Service, handling sales and services for typewriters, and business machines.

Sklon a native of Plattsburgh, entered the typewriter business many years ago in Newark, N. J., later leaving that business to handle dental supplies. He came to Kingston in the dental supply business but during World War 2 switched to the typewriter business which he operated until 1954 when trouble with his eyes forced him to discontinue that operation.

He recently completed a special training course at the Remington Rand plant in Elmira.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

ARE AMERICANS PRODIGAL?

This is the question asked by duPont's house organ, BETTER LIVING. It says: "Does the average American wallow in personal luxury while ignoring public needs? Do his schools crumble and hospitals decay while he revels in a kind of immoral fairyland—sipping champagne, nibbling roast quail and tossing the dark meat to his diamond-collared dog?"

E. F. Hutton

Various eggheads from Eastern colleges are talking big about "private affluence versus public poverty"; and, sad to say, the President has surrounded himself with members of the tribe.

One of them wrote a book called THE AFFLUENT SOCIETY, and has been rewarded with an ambassadorship. However, I doubt that the President believes all their stuff, as they contradict his statement that "17,000,000 Americans go to bed hungry every night." This is not true either, but it does help to balance off the woeful cry that we wallow in luxury.

The facts are, as duPont economists point out, that in the decade 1950-1960, our annual consumer spending went up 69%, but that our non-defense Government spending went up 116%.

In short, Americans were devoting an ever-greater share of their total income to the "neglected" public sector of the economy than to their personal comforts or luxuries.

If the Federal Government would stop raising taxes on incomes, gasoline, postage, etc., they would spend even more on their schools, parks, playgrounds, hospitals, etc.

Upstate Raiders Upset Officials

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Mayor Frank A. Sedita, candidate for re-election, has declined to discuss a pre-dawn raid on a house of prostitution, other than to say he had not led the raid.

"I don't want to discuss it, but I led no raid," he said Tuesday when asked for comment.

The raid, according to reports circulating at police headquarters, upset both the mayor and top police officials, who felt the city was without vice on such a scale since a recent crack-down.

No charges were made and police would not discuss the raid.

A crack-down on vice and gambling and a reorganization of police followed a probe last year by the State Investigation Commission. The commission had said that vice and gambling flourished openly here.

Sedita, a Democrat, said last week he would seek re-election to a second four-year term in the $20,000-a-year post, if the party wanted him.

Oswego Company To Expand Work

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP)—The S.H. Pomeroy Co. of Stamford, Conn., predicts employment will be increased at the Fitzgibbons Boiler Co., which Pomeroy has purchased.

Rex D. Cross, president of Pomeroy, said the Fitzgibbons operations would be expanded and a division of the Pomeroy firm moved to the Oswego plant.

The sale price of the Fitzgibbons firm was not announced. The boiler company, part of this community since 1893, had dwindled from 1,400 employes during World War II to fewer than 100.

Pomeroy said Tuesday it took control by the acquisition of 90 per cent of the Fitzgibbons' stock from Paul K. Addams of New York City and the estate of Homer Addams.

Pomeroy manufactures steel and aluminum windows and convector enclosures for air-conditoning units. The convector division is expected to be moved from Stamford to Oswego, Cross said.

AP Editor Plans To Retire Soon After 41 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Lewis Andrew Brophy, general business editor of The Associated Press for the last 10 years, is retiring May 31, it was announced today. He will be succeeded by Nafe Polowetzky, former foreign correspondent who became assistant general business editor last December.

Brophy will be 65 a few days before his retirement. He started with the AP in 1920, after working on newspapers in Columbus and Canton, Ohio. As an AP reporter in Ohio, he scored a notable beat in 1925 when the U. S. dirigible Shenandoah broke apart and crashed in hill farming country.

Transferred in the late 20s to Chicago and Washington, where he helped build the then-new AP Feature Service, Brophy became head of the Chicago bureau in 1930. In his seven years in that post, he and his staff handled the collapse of the Insull empire and many major crime stories, including the downfalls of Al Capone and John Dillinger.

In New York, starting in 1937, Brophy was a supervisor of the general news desk, and then news editor of the AP World Service.

He was named general business editor in 1951.

Polowetzky is 39 years old. A native of Harrison, N. J., and a graduate of Rutgers University, he served in the Army in World War II and then became a reporter on the Jersey Journal, Jersey City, N. J.

Polowetzky started with The Associated Press in 1944, worked in New York for five years, then went to London. His foreign duty for 12 years included coverage of the Korean War, the Suez Canal crisis, riots in Iran in 1952, riots in Japan in 1960. He was also one of a number of AP and other Western correspondents expelled from Communist Czechoslovakia in 1950 for "biased reporting."

Three Types

Sweden has three different types of long-distance telephone service. The ordinary variety of long-distance call is completed in routine fashion; for a faster service, you use the urgent class of call at double the ordinary rate; for really fast service you pay 20 times the ordinary long-distance service rate.

Disability May Be Added Now To G.I. Policies

Veterans holding GI Life Insurance policies were told today by Charles L. Culver, counselor, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and John B. Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency that a total disability income provision may be added to most GI Life Insurance policies for a small additional cost.

The veterans' officials explained that a policy holder must be in good health and under 60 years of age to qualify for this insurance feature. A veteran with a disability income provision added to his policy, will receive an income of $10 a month for each 1,000 of government insurance in force provided he becomes totally disabled from any cause before he reaches the age of 60. These payments begin after six months of total disability and continue as long as the disability lasts.

Veterans who have any questions about GI Insurance will receive up to the minute information about this and any other veteran benefit by contacting the local office of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street.

All active firemen are required to attend and all other members are invited, Chief Gordon said.

A special drivers' school will be held at the same time. All company drivers are required to attend in order to remain on the drivers' list.

Capt. Harold Auchmoody will be in charge of the school and Lieut. Robert Waddell will be the instructor.

Volunteers who believe they cannot be active may request Chief Gordon for assignment to the two-way radio section of the department.

Any legal resident of the Tillson Fire District, 18 years of age or older, interested in fire fighting, may apply for an application for membership.

Looking for a delicious way to use those leftover bits of ham in the refrigerator? Then try these roll-ups, made with biscuit dough and ground leftover ham. Serve with broccoli and Hollandise sauce.

IT'S BETTER with SILLER BRAND BUTTER

Ham Roll-ups
(Yield 6 to 8 Servings)

Two cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup milk, 2 cups cooked ham, ground; 4 tablespoons melted butter 2 tablespoons cream, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, 1½ tablespoons aromatic bitters.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together in a mixing bowl. Cut in shortening and add milk. Mix thoroughly. Roll dough out on floured board in a long rectangle. Mix ground ham with butter, cream, mustard and aromatic bitters. Spread thick layer of ham mixture over dough and roll up like a jelly roll.

Cut roll in slices about 1½-inches thick. Place on a cookie sheet and give each roll a sharp pat to flatten out. Bake in a hot (450 degrees F.) oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot with a cheese or cream sauce.

Stratton Has Eye On Governorship, Also U. S. Senate

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N. Y., is laying the groundwork he hopes will thwart any attempt by the Republican-controlled New York Legislature to gerrymander him out of a job next year.

And Stratton nurses hopes that the strategy he has mapped may lead eventually to the governor's manaion at Albany, N. Y., or the U. S. Senate.

The former Schenectady mayor is trying to project an image of himself to as many parts of the state as possible.

This, he reasons, will give him a base for seeking re-election no matter how the Legislature redefines his congressional district. Also, he could contend for a statewide elective office.

Although some New York Democrats have mentioned Stratton as a possible opponent next year to Republican Gov. Rockefeller in the gubernatorial race, Stratton says his main ambition is to remain in Congress.

But he doesn't believe Rockefeller is unbeatable.

Protecting Himself

Stratton says his strategy of projecting an image is designed primarily to protect himself against what he feels will be a hostile Legislature as far as reapportionment goes.

New York's population increased between 1950 and 1960, but it failed to keep pace with the national average. Consequently, the state will lose 2 of its 43 House seats.

The Legislature must redefine the boundaries of congressional districts before the 1962 election to compensate for this loss. Stratton feels he will be the major target of this reapportionment.

He says all he has heard about reapportionment are rumors that go like this:

Would Be Primary Fight

Combine Schenectady, Montgomery and Fulton counties—the hub of his support in the last election—with Albany County, now represented by Rep. Leo W. O'Brien, D-N. Y. This would force Stratton into a primary battle—if he chose to take this course—with the popular O'Brien.

Combine part of Stratton's 32nd District, or at least Schenectady, with either the 31st or the 34th Congressional Districts and force Stratton to run against Reps. Alexander Pirnie or Carleton J. King, both Republicans.

The disclosure earlier this year that the Air Force had under study a plan to close procurement facilities at Griffiss Air Force Rome, N. Y., proved advantageous to Stratton.

As a member of the House Armed Services Committee, he rushed with O'Brien and Pirnie into a battle to save the facilities—the Rome Air Materiel Area. The base is in Pirnie's district.

The Air Force has postponed until fall a decision on its closing plan.

Active for Area Bill

Stratton also pressed repeatedly in House talks and in statements published in the Congressional Record for passage of a bill for depressed areas.

Gloversville and Amsterdam, in his congressional district, would be eligible for aid under the bill signed by President Kennedy.

But Stratton made the bill a statewide matter as far as he was concerned by challenging a Syracuse University study that said the unemployment picture in New York had been exaggerated.

matter of FACT

The witch doctor isn't all hocus-pocus. For years, missionaries reported that African medicine men used an herb of remarkable powers. Finally somebody listened. And that's how serpasil, used in treating high blood pressure and mental ailments, found its way to 20th century acceptance.

WOMENS HATS IN THE THEATRE

Q: Is it improper to ask a woman to remove her hat in the theatre? I went to a matinee with a friend of mine the other day and the woman seated in front of me had on a rather high hat and, as I am not a very tall person, it was very difficult for me to see the stage over her hat. I stood it for as long as I could and then leaned over and asked her to please remove her hat. She did so but was not very amiable about it. My friend told me that I was wrong to ask this of her as no woman likes to get her hair all disheveled by removing her hat. Will you please give me your opinion of this?

A: It was entirely proper for you to ask the woman in front of you to remove her hat if it was obstructing your view, and she should have been amiable about doing so.

Inviting the Bridegroom's Former Fiancee

Q: In going over the list of names given us by my daughter's fiance, we notice he has included his former fiancee and her parents. I believe her presence will be embarrassing to my daughter and that her name should be removed from the list. Should I speak to him, or his mother, about it first?

A: Send the invitation by all means. There is no reason in the world why just because they were once engaged, they should not remain friends. To make an issue of it would imply jealousy on your daughter's part.

Q: I have a beautiful, large, English china platter that I have never used. A relative, who lives in a nearby city, is to be married soon. Would it be proper to send the platter as a wedding gift, and need I explain that it is not new? My income is so limited that any other gift I send would not be nearly as lovely.

A: The platter will make a lovely present, and you need not explain how long you have had it.

The fashshow has been arranged by the Page One Queen Committee as an added feature of the Reception and will be staged while the Page One Queen contestants are being interviewed by the judges.

The selection of furs was made by Mrs. Sylvia Leventhal and Stuart Randall of Kingston will commentate on the jewelry.

Miss Joan Woinoski, chairman of the Page One Queen Committee, will model the jewelry, while modeling summer frocks will be the Mmes. Eve Wulff, Pat McConnell and Kay Gilligan.

A queen and two attendants will be selected at the reception from 2-5 p. m. and will reign at the sixth annual Page One Ball Saturday evening, May 13 also at Wiltwyck.

Basis of the selection of the Page One Queen will be poise and personality as well as beauty. Dress will be evening or cocktail dress. There will be no bathing suit competition. Proceeds of the ball, which will highlight some topflight Broadway entertainment and the presentation of a group of achievement awards, will be used to establish a Children's Vacation Fund to send five needy children for two weeks each to an area camp this summer and to continue the Guild's annual scholarship award to a deserving Ulster County high school senior.

Tickets are available for the sixth annual dinner dance from any member of the Guild, composed of the area working press.

Home Extension Service News

Mrs. William Adams, chairman of the executive committee of the Ulster County Home Demonstration Department announces the appointment of Miss Louise Kakargo as assistant home demonstration agent. Miss Kakargo, a native of Chester, N. Y., will assume her duties in the county June 1. She will be graduated with a B.S. Degree in Home Economics from Russell Sage College, May 28.

With the appointment of Miss Kakargo to fill the vacancy of Mrs. Lenore Cleminshaw Lekke, the Ulster County Home Extension staff will be complete. Mrs. Phyllis W. Barlow of Mt. Marion is the agent and Mrs. Elizabeth Overbagh of Saugerties is the other assistant agent.

Mrs. Adams also asks the public and members to join in the celebration of National Home Demonstration Week, May 1-May 6. More than 1500 women of the Ulster County Extension Service are participating. Many of the units in the county have sampling exhibits of their work on display in store windows in Saugerties, Kingston, Ellenville, Accord, and Marlborough.

These women believe the American home plays a vital role in the social and economic life of our nation and is largely responsible for determining the character of our future citizens. Through the educational program of the Cooperative Extension Service in Agriculture and Home Economics a nation wide system of out-of-school training was established by Congress through the passage of the Smith-Lever Act of May 8, 1914.

In the fifty United States more than 83,000 women in cooperation with the home demonstration agents and state staff, develop and determine unit programs. Volunteer local leaders do much of the teaching in the units. More than 34,000 of the leaders give time, energy, and talents to this teaching each year.

Sedition Charge Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Inability to produce testimony by Americans brain-washed in the Korean War led to dismissal of sedition charges against three Americans who were accused of taking part indirectly in that brain-washing.

They are John and Sylvia Powell of San Francisco and Julian Schuman, formerly of New York. They had revived in Shanghai the China Weekly Review, founded by Powell's late father, the internationally known John B. Powell. The government charged they used it to disseminate Communist propaganda.

They were charged in one count of an indictment with circulating the magazine with intent, in the Korean War, to interfere with the operations and success of the U.S. armed forces and to promote success for enemies of the United States.

Ursula Alumnae

St. Ursula's Alumnae Association will hold a regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, May 9 at 8 o'clock in the school cafeteria. The entertainment program will feature Joseph Bosco, hair stylist of Saugerties who will demonstrate various hair fashions in the new simple styles. Community Concerts Kick-Off Meeting Is Set for Sunday; KHS Student Will Play

In an effort to complete the roster of more than 1500 members by noon Saturday, May 13, workers for Kingston Community Concerts Association will gather for the kick-off meeting Sunday afternoon, 5 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Headquarters for the drive will be open at the hotel next week from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily and until noon Saturday.

The series of concerts for next season will include the Boston Pops Orchestra with Arthur Fiedler, conducting; Metropolitan Opera and TV favorite Rise Stevens; and the young Bolivian violin virtuoso, Jaime Laredo.

As is customary no tickets are sold for the individual concerts and memberships which are the only admissions must be obtained from a worker or at headquarters by noon next Saturday.

Guest artist for the workers' meeting Sunday will be one of Kingston's "younger generation" musicians, Robert Baron, clarinet soloist with the Kingston High School Band and a pupil of Louis Bartolone, clarinet soloist with the West Point Military Band. The 16-year-old clarinetist gave a full length recital in Washington, D. C., at the studio of Anthony Chanaka, last month. Last year he was the only instrumentalist from the Kingston schools to attend the All State Festival and two years ago he appeared as guest soloist with the Dutchess County Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Ole Windingstad. A junior at KHS, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Baron, 59 Southfield Street. He will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Baron.

Workers will also have the opportunity to meet Robert Geissinger, New York representative who will be in Kingston next week to assist with the campaign.

Arrangements for Sunday's meeting are being made by Mrs. Herbert I. Bloom and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever. Workers are reminded to make reservations with Mrs. Bloom, Mrs. LeFever or Mrs. Bernard Forst.

Forum Series At Onteora on National Purpose

Dr. Louis Salkever, Professor of Economics at New Paltz State Teachers College, will head a list of panel members who will discuss the role of the United States in the world of today.

The forum this Thursday will be the first in a series of four which will be held every Thursday during the month of May at the Onteora Central School. Starting time for all forums will be at 8 p. m.

Other panel members scheduled for appearance this week include:

JOSEPH H. McCANN—Plant attorney for IBM in Kingston and manager of the plant's legal department. He is a man familiar with the needs, aims and thinking of the business world.

MATTHEW OSTOYICH, Chairman of the Social Science Department at the Onteora Central School. He recently was awarded a Ford Foundation Fellowship to the University of Rochester.

The panel this week will be asked to try and define the National Purpose.

Serving as moderator for the forum will be the Rev. Roger Brown of Shandaken. He is, at present, conducting a very successful class on "Understanding Internation Relations" at the Onteora Central School each Thursday afternoon.

The program each Thursday evening will include many outstanding speakers who are well versed in the fields of politics, education, art, religion, history and the press.

OCS Elections Slated Today

Voters in the Onteora Central Schools District went to the polls today to determine the fate of a $1,708,034 budget and to elect one trustee to the Board of Education for a five-year term.

The polls will be open from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m., with voting at four designated polling centers in Shandaken, West Hurley, Woodstock and the main building at Boiceville.

Candidates for the 5-year term on the board are David R. Fox of West Hurley, the incumbent, and Raymond C. Cruthers of West Shokan.

Democrats Set Meeting Date

An important meeting of the Woodstock Democratic town committee and nominating committee of the Democratic Club will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the George Eichler residence in Bearsville.

Several important policy matters will be discussed by the Democratic committee headed by Charles J. Tiano, chairman.

The Democratic Club nominating committee will select a slate of candidates to be recommended for election at the monthly meeting of the club on Thursday, May 11, at Deanie's in Woodstock.

Christian Science Sermon Theme: Adam

Man's perfect, spiritual relationship to God will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday in Woodstock.

Opening selections from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Adam and Fallen Man" will include these passages from the first chapter of Genesis: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: . . . So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them . . . And God, saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy these lines will be read (p. 259): "The Christ-like understanding of scientific being and divine healing includes a perfect Principle and idea,—perfect God, and perfect man,—as the basis of thought and demonstration."

The Golden Text comes from Psalm 138: "The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever."

COLLEGE BOUND — Two members of the Senior class at Onteora Central High will continue their education in the fall. Gertrude Choquette, left, a member of the National Honor Society, plans to major in history education at Albany State Teachers College. The daughter of Mrs. Mary MacFarland, Miss Choquette lives at RD 2, Kingston. She has served as business manager of the 1961 Yearbook and has tutored students as part of the Honor Society program. She has also been active in the Future Teachers Club and the Junior-Senior Musicals.

Rosary Loiacano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Loiacano of Shandaken, plans to enter Oneonta State Teachers College in September as a prospective high school mathematics teacher. Miss Loiacano has been in the Student Council, Future Teachers Club and is currently secretary of the Senior Class. She has also been active in dramatics, having taken part in the annual Junior-Senior Musical.

Select Simon For Judging Music Festival

HARRY SIMON

Onteora Central School officials anounced today that Harry Simon, Director of Music, has been selected as a judge for the New York State Music Competition to be held this spring. Simon was chosen to serve as an adjudicator by officials of the New York State Music Association. This marks the third successive year he has been assigned to adjudicate by the State Association.

Only the outstanding music educators in New York State are selected for judging assignments. Harry Simon's selection is based on the state-wide attention the Onteora High School Symphonic Band received in 1958 and his excellent record in the music education field.

In May of 1958 at Ossining, the band achieved a first in New York State Music Association history by receiving the highest rating possible in New York State (A-6); grade six is the most difficult music the band can perform, an A rating is the highest grade possible. It was the first band in New York State, "only six years in existence," to receive the highest rating possible.

In May of 1959 the band entered into competition at Port Chester, New York and again received the highest rating possible, A-6.

Once again, in May of 1960 the band entered the State Music Competition at Hastings-on-the-Hudson and was awarded the A-6 rating.

The band has been lauded by Dr. Joseph Saetveit, head of the New York State Music Education Department in Albany and adjudicators from all parts of New York State.

Jazz Festival At School Hall On May 12 and 13

Area residents will have an opportunity to hear an exciting sound in Jazz on May 12 and 13, when a six piece band headed by Herbert Deutsch performs at the Woodstock elementary school at 8 p. m.

Herbert Deutsch, who heads the band, teaches at Hofstra College in Long Island. A composer of growing stature, he composed the music for the Shakespeare Festival in Central Park. He has written on jazz for the magazine, Jazz Age, and is one of the fine young musicians today who are interpreting and keeping alive the remarkable background of Jazz.

Among the other members of the band are Paul Hubbell, clarinet, and Dick Rath, trombone. Hubbell is a member of a group who recently cut a new LP record under the title, Jazz From Then Till Now.

Dick Rath will open with Eddie Condon in New York on May 15.

Central Center Is Arranged for Demos Rummage

For the added convenience of Woodstockers who wish to donate articles for the big rummage sale, annually sponsored by the local Democratic Club, a centrally located collection center in the heart of the village will open its doors for the first time this Saturday, May 6. The storage and collection center will be housed in the former Lamont Simpkins office, next door to Hilda Lightstone's and directly across the street from the Cafe Espresso.

The center will be open on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons between the hours of 1 and 4 p. m. during May and through the first week in June. All types of donations are needed for the sale which is scheduled at the Woodstock Playhouse on June 3. Especially useful will be foodstuffs, tops, flowers, clothing, pictures, furniture, picture frames, etc.

In addition to the Tinker Street location, three other collection centers are in daily operation, including: the basement of Mrs. Helen Buttrick's house on Rock City Road, the garage behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kricker on the Bearsville Flats, and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Gilligan in Bearsville.

Rummage sale chairmen, Jean Gaede and Betty Biesele, issued an appeal this week to fill all four centers to overflowing in order to insure a financially successful sale in June.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser Jr., 44, son of industrialist Henry J. Kaiser Sr., and vice president of Kaiser Industries, died Tuesday after a long illness. He was the second son of the noted construction magnate and took an active part in the management of many of the varied Kaiser enterprises. He was born in Everett, Wash.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Frank William Bubb Sr., 68, a member of the Washington University faculty for many years and one of the research scientists who helped develop the atomic bomb, died Tuesday of cancer.

NEW YORK (AP) — Hildreth Meiere, 68, painter of murals and designer of mosaics for many of the nation's major buildings, died Tuesday. She was a past president of the National Society of Mural Painters.

Niagara Falls will retreat into Lake Erie in 27,000 years, if erosion continues at the present rate.

African Raiders Prevent Strikes

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Thousands of armed police and plain clothesmen swept through South African cities and Negro townships Tuesday night, raiding the homes of whites and non-whites.

Purpose of the raid, one of the biggest in South Africa's history, apparently was to forestall nationwide strikes and protest demonstrations threatened by the non-white majority to coincide with proclamation of the new republic of South Africa May 31.

It was not known how many arrests were made, but the whole country swarmed with police. It was believed that one object was to determine the source of leaflets that have appeared calling on non-whites to stage three-day strikes at the end of May.

Retired Musician Victim of Stabbing

He was not robbed and police could not find any motive for the attack.

Police said it was Markussen's habit to go each evening to a YMCA to listen to music and play chess or checkers with friends. He apparently was returning from the YMCA, door key in hand, when he was attacked.

In UCAL Competition

Marlboro Central Tossers Score Over Wallkill, 9 to 4

Bill Hyatt's first inning triple gave Marlboro Central a 2-0 lead over Wallkill, and the team went on to register a 9-4 victory to square its UCAL record at 1-1.

Hyatt shared the Marlboro pitching chores with Vin Caserto, pitching hitless ball for one and two thirds innings. Caserto was the Marlboro starter and yielded the three Wallkill safeties in 5 and ⅓ frames.

While Hyatt and Caserto were shuttling between the pitcher's mound and left field, Wallkill's two pitchers — Mullen and Pink replaced each other at first base and the pitching mound.

A four run explosion in the sixth inning highlighted my Caserto's double took the game out of danger for Marlboro which had a 5-4 lead at the time.

Rickie Benevento slammed a double and Auregema had two singles for the winners. Mullen stroked two singles and knocked in two runs for Wallkill. Gaffney, the second baseman, accounted for the other.

Caserto struck out six and walked seven. Pink, the Wallkill starter, had seven strikeouts to go with eight walks.

Marlboro plays at Highland on Friday.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

The 1961 golf season may or may not have "started" in the Kingston area, depending on your evaluation of the weather, but there is no doubt the sport is booming around the country.

The National Golf Foundation says that 225 new regulation courses were opened in the United States during 1960. This raises the total in the U. S. to an all-time high of 6,011. In addition, 51 par-3 layouts were brought into play to raise the total in this category to 374. The grand total is now 6,385. Private clubs remain by far in the majority of regulation length courses with 3,162.

Most intensive growth, however, is in the number of semi-private courses of which there are now 1,997 compared to 1141 in 1959. Municipal and other tax-supported courses make up the remainder with a total of 852. While these courses comprise only 15 per cent of the regulation length courses, they absorb 40 per cent of the national play.

If by any chance you are one of those cynics who think golf is a passing fancy, listen to this urgent plan of action to provide 30,000 golf courses by the year 2000. Addressing the annual meeting of the NGF, its president, Joseph M. Graffis Sr., said:

"In the light of the experience and the development of golf playing facilities over the past 50 years, such a goal may very well be on the conservative side. To achieve this goal would require a rate of growth almost three times greater than reported last year."

Graffis reported that this goal of almost five times as many golf courses for the year 2000 as we now have reflects the growth of activity and compares with our present figure of more than 6,000 courses opposed to just 1000 50 years ago. Par-3 course construction reflects the growing interest in these shorter courses in recent years. The par-3 course has yet to catch on in this part of the country but is popular in the south, southwest and Pacific coast.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Between the men's and women's golf calendars, Wiltwyck Country Club will be a beehive of activity this season. No less than a half dozen major area championships are scheduled at the uptown layout which gets more pleasing to the eye as the months roll by. . . . Buzzy Costello shooting sub-par in the KHS opener indicates the season is really "open." . . . If you hear the exclamation, "OB, OB" around Wiltwyck these days, it's a new bit of links jargon the boys brought up from Florida: Jim Turck, Johnny Provenzano, Dr. George C. Rifenbary and Harry (Leafy) Le Fever, who make up a rather fearsome foursome, . . . You don't know what OB stands for? . . . One of the 61 local qualifying competitions for the U. S. Open golf championship will be conducted Monday, May 22, at Wolferts Roost Country Club in Albany. . . . On designing golf courses, architect Robert Trent Jones, who built the Wiltwyck course says: "Most players have a tendency to slice so we try to keep the water and other trouble on the hook side. Of course, we can change it now and then for variety. But we try to build a comfortable course for all classes of golfers — and you must remember that it's the average players who support the course." . . . Mal Johnson ,25, assistant pro at Pasadena GC, St. Petersburg, Fla., has moved across town to become head pro at Sunset Golf and Country Club, winter habitat of Tony and Wiggie de Lisio, . . . The rustic contemporary building of the new Spring Valley CC at Sharon, Mass., consists of three sections: a social unit, a locker and pro shop unit and a connecting section containing card and lounge rooms. What no escalator? The Twaalfskill Club's opening cocktail party scheduled Sunday between 5 and 7 p. m.

• Why They Hit So Far:

So the Palmers, Souchaks and the like belt 240 to 280 yards Joe Dante, New Jersey PGA vice president, has a theory about this distance: "Granted that the clubs and the balls are better than they were 30 years ago. But that doesn't account for all of the extra distance by any means. I think these fellows hit the ball so far because they are all hitting with a square face, which doesn't need any manipulating to get it to the ball in the right position. In the old days the pros, almost all of them, went to the top of the swing with an open face. Then they had to square it as they brought it to the ball. These fellows today keep it square all the way — going back, at the top and coming down. They don't have to do anything to get it square. So they can just belt away annd concentrate on hitting hard." Sounds logical, duffers, so let's all make with the square face!

Sportsmen Plan Club Opening

Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association will celebrate the completion and reopening of its trap shooting grounds at the club at Honk Lake on Sunday.

Richard McDole, chairman of the club's Traps Committee, and the club president, Richard Craft, and the committee have spent considerable time getting the traps area in shape to meet the exacting requirements of the Ulster County Trap Shooting circuit.

Teams from New Paltz, Walker Valley, Glasco and Wawarsing will compete in the circuit shoot which gets under way at 1 p. m. The traps are also available to other member clubs in the Federation. Refreshments will be available at the adjoining clubhouse of the Ellenville Pistol and Rifle Club.

Family picnics may be arranged for at the clubhouse and the open clam bake shed adjoining the main club house.

Eighth Circuit Blow Topples Minnesota, 6-4

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tiger hung on to a one-game lead in the American League race with a 6-3 victory at Washington Tuesday night as Jim Bunning won his first of the season. Second place New York beat Minnesota 6-4 on Mickey Mantle's grand-slam home run in the 10th inning.

Cleveland defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 11 innings, Kansas City beat Boston 7-4 and Baltimore clipped the Los Angeles Angeles 7-6 on a ninth-inning home run by Jim Gentile.

Bunning walked just two and struck out seven. The Tigers staked him to a quick lead on a two-run homer in the second inning by Norm Cash. Billy Bruton hit a sacrifice fly for a 3-0 lead in the third and then brought in the clincher against loser Tom Sturdivant (1-1) with a fifth-inning single.

The Yankees pulled into a 2-2 tie with the Twins on Bill Skowron's solo homer in the seventh off Camilo Pascual. The Cuban right-hander retired the first two batters in the 10th, then gave up a double by Tony Kubek and issued two walks that loaded the bases for Mantle's slam. It was the Mick's eighth home run, high in the AL, and gave him 22 RBI, tops in the majors.

Killebrew Hits 3rd

Jim Coates (1-0) was the winner as the second of four Yank pitchers. Luis Arroyo finally saved it, after Harmon Killebrew hit his third home run, off Ryne Duren, leading off the 10th.

An error, a walk and a single by Johnny Romano broke up the tie for Cleveland against losing reliever Russ Kemmerer (0-1). Frank Funk won his first with three innings of three-hit, shutout relief. The White Sox scored their two in the sixth off Mudcat Grant on singles by Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox, a double steal, a wild pitch and Romano's error.

Gentile's fifth home run of the season cracked a 6-all tie for the Orioles, who blew a 5-1 lead. Gus Triandos and Jerry Adair also homered for the Birds while Earl Averill, Ted Kluszewski and Leon Wagner hit home runs for the Angel's first five scores. Hoyt Wilhelm won his third in relief. Tom Morgan (1-1) was the loser.

A two-run single by pinch-hitter Al Pilarcik overhauled a 3-2 Boston lead and winning pitcher Bud Daley squeezed in the deciding run for the A's as they scored three in the sixth against Ike Delock (1-1).

Continue Home Run Barrage Against Losers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers walloped three home runs—for a total of 16 allowed by Milwaukee's pitching staff in three games — and handed the Braves their third straight defeat, 11-9, Tuesday night. Pittsburgh regained first place, beating St. Louis 6-0 behind the six-hit pitching of Harvey Haddix after the Chicago Cubs dropped San Francisco to second place by beating the Giants 9-4.

Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 3-2 in the other NL game.

Frank Howard, John Roseboro and Tommy Davis homered for the Dodgers off Nottebart and losing reliever Ken MacKenzie (0-1) at Milwaukee. But it was a six-run seventh inning—in which the Dodgers had just two hits, and neither a homer—that did the job and left the Braves' staff with a total of 32 runs allowed in three games.

Haddix, bouncing back from a bout with the flu, walked just one and struck out three for his first victory as the Pirates hung up their fifth success in the last six games. Ernie Broglio, who was 4-0 against the Bucs while winning 21 last season, lost for the third time in four decisions. Rocky Nelson and Roberto Clemente each drove in two runs, but the Bucs got the only tally Haddix needed before Broglio faced the third man in the order. Bill Virdon lined a leadoff double in the first inning and scored on Dick Groat's single.

Rookie Billy Williams was 4-for-4 and drove in five runs for the Cubs, completing their scoring with his first home run—a bases-loaded shot in the second inning off reliever Ed Fisher. George Altman's one-on homer had triggered a five-run first against loser Jack Sanford (1-2). Don Cardwell, winning his third without a loss, blanked the Giants on two hits until the ninth. Then Willie McCovey's two-run homer gave San Francisco a share of another home run record—14 in three games.

The Reds bunched three of their four hits for all their runs in the fourth inning off Dallas Green (1-3)—who pitched perfect ball in five of his six frames. Vada Pinson's first home run touched off the rally after Green had retired the first 10 he faced.

Ring Magazine Picks Pender as Top Boxer

In Dramatic Finish

Joe Mahar Blasts 686; Zeeh's Capture Pennant

Big Joe Mahar's 686 series not only set a league record on the final night, but catapulted the Zeeh's Beverage squad to the championship of the Central Rec League.

In a dramatic finish, Zeeh's, trailing Capri Rest by two games going into the final session, swept three from Shamrock Tavern, while Herzog's flattened Capri in three straight, the first game by 5 pins.

Racking up 20 strikes, Mahar blasted games of 215, 248 and 223 for the new record. The old mark of 677 was shared by Paul Stevenson and Gerry Kearney. Big Joe had two misses and a split.

Rain Postpones Scholastic Sport Schedule Again

Rain, a common word this spring, hampered the high school spring sports program again yesterday, postponing just about everything that was scheduled.

The Kingston High School at Poughkeepsie baseball game was put off until Friday, June 2, as was the jayvee game between the schools.

Postponed until today was the DCSL, baseball tilt at Saugerties between the Sawyers and Beacon High school. Poughkeepsie High school will play the Kingston High golf team today in a match previously postponed on Monday.

On the original slate today are track meets with Wallkill at Onteora and Haldane and Marlboro at New Paltz, a college baseball game with New Paltz at Danbury and a tennis match between New Paltz and Danbury.

Added to tomorrow's slate are two UCAL baseball games —New Paltz at Rondout Valley and Onteora at Highland. Also set to be played is a non-league contest between Our Lady of Lourdes and Kingston at Dietz stadium, a DUSO tennis match between Newburgh and a track meet at Middletown with the Middies opposing Kingston.

The New Paltz and Valley Central baseball game, scheduled for tomorrow, will be played at a later date because the Huguenots are slated to play a league tilt.

Crack Schenectady '5' In Van Winkle Tourney

A 907-average powerhouse from Schenectady will be one of the top favorites to win the net division for women in the third annual Rip Van Winkle team handicap tournament which opens at the Ferraro Bowlerama on May 12.

Marty Christian, veteran 187-average Dorpian star, will lead the Woman's City All Stars of Schenectady in their bid to dethrone Manhattan Balls of Kingston. She has been a top-notch shooter for more than 20 years.

Stella Tencza Due

One of the metropolitan districts best known woman stars, Stella Tencza, will be on hand with a 190-average bowler, Pauline DeLuca, in the lineup. Stela, who has several titles in New York and New Jersey, carries a 183 average. Also on the team are Mary Wyand 162, Joan Oleski 183 and Jean Lurichin 183.

Manhattan Balls will seek to repeat last year's net division championship with the HVL squad of Rose Schatzel, Sis Balash, Ada Dubost, Hilda Murphy and Dot Rawding. The team will not be sponsored by Manhattan Balls in the tournament and will compete under the name of the R.S.A.H.D. Five. The initials represent the first name of each bowler.

Last year's entry roster of 205 has been surpassed with 225 as of Tuesday and entries have come in from 64 different establishments in New York and New Jersey. Heavy delegations are expected from Hudson and the Berkshire Lanes at Millerton.

Neil Glennon, tournament secretary, reminds bowlers that the deadline for entries is Sunday, May 7.

Still Slugging

Jackie Jensen Had Lot Company In Low Bracket

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Jensen has lots of company in the bottom depths of the batting averages. The woods are full of big name stars who gladly would swap this year's percentages for a taste of their 1960 record.

Bil Mazeroski, the home run hero of Pittsburgh's World Series victory, has found the base hits few and far between this spring. Averages going into today's games found Maz way down at .179. Hal Smith, his Pirate teammate whose homer set the stage for Mazeroski's blow, also is way down yonder at .143.

Roger Maris, a fearless slugger for the New York Yankees at this time last year, has been wallowing in a slump at .204. Hector Lopez and Bobby Richardson, each at .220, keep him company.

Billy Bruton, former Milwaukee center fielder who was traded to Detroit, is dragging ar ound a .190 average and Baltimore's Marv Breeding won himself a place on the bench with a .179 mark, giving way to rookie Jerry Adair at second base.

Dale Long and R.C. Stevens were expected to give the new Washington Senators a punch at the plate but Long is hitting .156 and Stevens .188, prompting Manager Mickey Vernon to think about recalling Bud Zipfel from Houston.

Norm Siebern of Kansas City is 100 points off at .167. Sherm Lollar, veteran Chicago catcher, is down to .212 with young Camilo Carreon replacing him behind the plate.

Cus Bars Liston From Title Bout

"Liston is not included in Patterson's plans at all," snapped D'Amato, chief of the Patterson advisory staff, "not at all."

That brings up the question of how much D'Amato has to say about Patterson's professional activity. After Floyd took care of Ingemar Johansson less than eight weeks ago, he proclaimed himself a free man.

"I'm making my own decisions from now on," he said then. "D'Amato will remain my manager, but I will make the decisions."

If D'Amato is talking for Patterson, Liston will not be the only hopeful who will remain on the outside looking in.

"Patterson will not fight anyone this year who has a future," thundered D'Amato.

This presumably would rule out the likes of Britain's Henry Cooper who also thought he was near the head of the line.

D'Amato hinted that the tax situation has something to do with his decision to sidestep the headliners this year. Patterson made almost $1,000,000 in his last defense against Johansson. If he fights again this year, the purse will go almost completely for taxes. D'Amato figures there is no use fighting a tough opponent for practically nothing.

A rumor made the rounds Tuesday that Tom McNeeley of Boston, unbeaten in 23 bouts, would be Patterson's next opponent. Apparently he would qualify only if he didn't have a future.

"I really don't know him that well," said D'Amato. "I would have to investigate him. But if he has a future that would eliminate him. We have three opponents in mind for the September defense. All are Americans."

Don't Downgrade the Trout; He Beat the Mayflower Here

If you can boast that your ancestors came over on the Mayflower, don't do your bragging to a brook trout—because he can go you one better!

According to Dr. C. Willard Greene, Chief of the Bureau of Fish in the New York State Conservation Department, the brooky was around these parts long before the Mayflower even set sail.

It's generally believed, Dr. Greene says, that the brook trout was literally "pushed down" from the Arctice by encroaching ice during the glacial period, more than 10,000 years ago. When the glaciers finally pulled back and the North American icebox began warming up again, the trout stayed on in the colder streams.

Indians who lived in the area found that the trout fishing was just fine, and so did the early colonists. But by the late 1800's, the fish were in real trouble.

Extensive cutting of trees had resulted in erosion and the widening of streams. With the shade gone, the water began warming up. Factories brought about pollution, and there were dams to contend with. Suddenly, the trout found themselves living in a watery version of Tobacco Road — in silt-laden streams racing their course unchecked, never slackening for the pools or eddies required by any self-respecting trout.

That Henry Ford

Then, to make matters even worse for the poor fish, a fellow named Henry Ford came along and began mass-producing a newfangled thing called the "horseless carriage." Roads were built, usually in the natural highways that followed the stream valleys. And fishermen could drive almost to the trout's doorstep.

When trout numbers began to drop, the anglers imported other species of fish to "restore good fishing"—like perch, pickerel and bass. But that didn't help the trout. In fact, this was the coup de grace in many trout ponds, because the introduced species began competing with the trout for food and also preying on the trout fry and fingerlings.

So in 1926, the State Conservation Department decided to put on its hip boots and step into the picture. Since then, through its program of biological surveys, research, habitat improvement and stocking, the Department has put the brooky back in business. Its Stream Improvement Unit has worked on hundreds of miles of public fishing streams, and the Department has also "reclaimed" more than 100 trout ponds and lakes throughout the State, by getting rid of the undesirable species. And last year alone, it stocked more than 2,200,000 brook trout that ranged in size from one inch or under to seven inches, and that tipped the scales at more than 72 tons.

"The trout are here to stay," Dr. Greene says, "but with the progress of civilization, they're still going to need all the help they can get."

Electric Aids Now Replace Old Fitting Out Manpower

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Yes, say boatmen around the country as they begin getting ready for launching time.

Many have done the same work on the same craft every spring throughout a number of years. They point out that new products and methods are cutting down the time needed to keep a boat shipshape. Fitting out still costs just as much, or more, but it's easier to do.

The reasons are various. Added up they indicate the inside line to simpler mainteance may be a handy extension electrical power line. We counted 11 different power tools being well handled by amateur boatmen turned shipfitters.

All-purpose aid for the busy boatsyardsman is the pistol-grip quarter-inch drill. After boring a hole with it, he promtly adds an accessory to make it a power screw driver.

* * *

A plug cutter may be attached that will make small wooden dowels to top the screw and hide the hole completely. A sanding disc is fastened on the drill and the area is polished for paint or varnish.

Small orbital and belt sanders are available as drill accessories, but for heavy duty sanding—an always present hevy duty chore at painting time—the full size models are recommended. Several reasons of built-up paint coats can be cut down with belt or disc sanding and course grit paper, followed by finer abrasives and smoothing with the orbital motion machine.

Carpentry aboard the boat is easier as well with a small power saw gripped in the jaws of that same drill, or a table saw set up in the cockpit. Cabin lockers can be fitted to size and vent slots cut in them with a handy saber saw driven by electric power. A planer-jointer can come aboard.

Quite new, as power drill accessories go, is the metal nibbler, a gadget that can cut hatch edging to size and shear through thinner metals.

* * *

Setting up a workshop aboard the boat is handy and easy once a powerline extension is brought on deck, but most boatmen first stretch out a canvas worksheet over the cockpit floor so that scraps and shavings will not scatter about and work down to clog the limber holes of the bilges.

If bilge water has collected during the winter in low corners where it cannot drain out, a tiny auxiliary pump can be hitched to the electric drill.

When a backyard is a boatyard, a heavy-capacity electric cord from the house should bring sufficient power to the boat. Most boatyards keep a number of these on hand for loan or rental. At greater distances, investigate the new small portable self-powered generators available that deliver adequate current for most average power tools.

One last aid — not really a tool—that no old-time sailor ever knew. This is a vacuum cleaner. Sneak it aboard just before launching time to suck up all loose shavings, leaves and chips that could clog up a bilge pump when most needed. Some models even have a spray device that can blow a mist of wood preservative fluid beneath floorboards.

Downes Looking Ahead to Pender After Big Win

LONDON (AP) — Terry Downes went into a rare mood of relaxation today and confidently awaited a second shot at American Paul Pender's share of the world middleweight title.

Downes, the Cockney who learned his trade with the U.S. Marines, was full of bounce after defeating Tony Montana of Phoenix, Airz., before a crowd of 12,000 at London's Wembley Indoor Stadium Tuesday night.

The crowd got out of hand at one stage of the evening. A furious brawl broke out at the ringside. Bottles flew and chairs were uprooted. A contingent of London bobbies restored order.

All this had nothing to do with the Downes-Montana bout, which preceded the disorders. Montana retired with a vicious slash across his left eyebrow after five rounds of the scheduled 10-rounder.

"Montana was a good workout for me," said the unmarked Briton. "There's a big prize in the wind, and I reckon I've done my share. Now it's up to the promoters to arrange another fight with Pender."

Fourth Ranking

Downes, British middleweight champion, is rated fourth challenger for the world title. Pender is recognized as the titleholder in New York, Massachusetts and Europe. Elsewhere, Gene Fullmer is recognized as the champ.

Last January Downes fought Pender in Boston and lost on a technical knockout after seven rounds. But American audiences applauded the Briton's performance.

Pender is expected to come to London early in July to defend his version of the world title against Downes again. But promoter Harry Levene, who staged Tuesday night's entertainment, declined to confirm the booking.

The fight that caused the near-riot around the Wembley ring was a British featherweight title bout between champion Terry Spinks of London and challenger Howard Winstone of Wales.

Winstone stopped Spinks in 10. Immediately, fist fighting and shoving broke out between groups of rival Welsh and English fans.

Texas Keglers Lead ABC Teams

DETROIT (AP) — The Meyerland builders of Houston, Texas, rocketed into first place in the regular team division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament Tuesday night with a 3,134 total.

The team coupled games of 1068, 970 and 1096 in ousting previously leading Cliff Anton's Investors of St. Louis. The Investors went into first place April 22 with a 3,055 total. The tournament ends May 31.

Crozier Sets New Record In Derby Trial Stakes

By JOHN CHANDLER

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Crozier set 15,500 customers to talking about his dazzling speed as he dashed the fastest mile in the history of ancient Churchill Downs.

A question mark all spring, the colt wore down California's Four-and-Twenty and bounced home in 1:34 3-5 Tuesday to win the $16,850 Derby Trial Stakes and clip two-fifths second off the record set in 1954 when Hasty Road edged Determine, another California-owned colt.

Determine, a Kentucky horse who went west, came back to turn the tables on Hasty Road in the Kentucky Derby four days later.

Four-and-Twenty will be back with his stablemate, Flutterby, and could turn this 87th run for the roses into another Far Western parade. Both colts are from the Alberta Ranches, Ltd., of Calgary, Alberta.

Alabaman Fred W. Hooper is the owner-breeder of Crozier, and the colt's brilliant Derby Trial victory may have frightened away a few rivals. The entry box for Saturday's $125,000-added classic opens at 7 a.m. Thursday and the guess is that from 12 to 15 horses may go.

It was the general opinion that Carry Back would go postward Saturday at 5:30 p.m., EST—CBS television—the favorite at around 8 to 5. The final Caliente future book odds had him 3-1 co-favorite with Four-and-Twenty, who won the Santa Anita Derby.

Four-and-Twenty, beaten 3¼ lengths in Tuesday's Derby trial, led most of the way until Crozier's late run in the stretch. Ethel D. Jacobs' Dr. Miller closed with a good burst to take third place.

Wrigley Field Proving Boon To AL Sluggers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Wrigley Field holds less than 22,000 people, but it's beginning to look as though the outfield needs enlarging a lot more than the grandstands.

The Los Angeles Angels have played six games at the old Coast League park, and the meager seating accommodations haven't been strained yet. But baseballs are flying out of the place in great volume.

Six more sailed out Tuesday night as the Baltimore Orioles moved over the .500 mark by defeating the Angels 7-6 before a small turnout of 6,664. Each side hit three homers, but the decisive shot was Jim Gentile's ninth-inning drive far over the right-field wall.

It was Gentile's fifth homer of the season. Gus Triandos hit his third for the Orioles and Jerry Adair got his second. For the Angels, Ted Kluszewski hit his fifth (No. 3 against Baltimore) and Leon Wagner and Earl Averill each hit his third.

When the artillery duel was over, the home run count at Wrigley Field had climbed to 15. Three less were hit at the nearby Coliseum in the Dodgers' first six games this season, although the Coliseum's celebrated left-field screen is 90 feet closer to home plate than the left-field wall at Wrigley.

The measurement that could make Wrigley just about as vulnerable to the long as the Coliseum is to right-center. It's only 345 at the American League park, nearly 440 at the Coliseum.

Misses Top Ten By Single Pin

DETROIT (AP)—Ray Bianco of Scranton, Pa., who lost two fingers while operating his dragline mining shovel three years ago, came within one pin of cracking the top 10 standings of the regular division singles in the American Bowling Congress tournament Tuesday.

The 45-year-old Bianco, competing in his second ABC, rolled 681 on games of 216, 244 and 221. He left the 1-2-10 "washout" on his final delivery to miss a spot in the top 10. The 10th place total is 682.

Palmer, Player Set Sights on $40,000 Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Two of professional golf's hottest campaigners, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player, took aim today at one target they've missed—the $40,000 Tournament of Champions' title.

And also here is the incomparable Sam Snead, who has taken three shots at the $10,000 top booty and never come close.

The three are among the 26 pros who tee off Thursday in the ninth annual classic of the cactus country—72 holes over the par 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Each of the 26 has won a major PGA-sanctioned event during the past 12 months, else they would not be eligible to compete here.

Starting in 1956, the best Palmer has done is a tie for fifth place, achieved last year.

Reading Slugger Lives Up to Rep

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jose Villar is the big guy the Reading Indians are counting on to provide the batting power in their bid for the Eastern League pennant.

The outfielder, who hit 23 homers and batted .317 last year in the Class D Alabama-Florida League, showed his heavy bat Tuesday night with a two-run homer in the seventh inning that gave Reading a 5-3 victory over Binghamton.

As a result of the outcome, the EL standings were scrambled once again.

Springfield, rained out at home against Johnstown, backed into first place by 25 percentage points. Binghamton dropped from first into a tie for second with Reading.

Beginning HS Students Attend Guidance Parley

A program was held at Saugerties High School Monday evening for eighth grade students planning to enter high school in the fall and for their parents. The purpose of the program, which was sponsored by the guidance department, was to assist the students and their parents in planning for senior high school.

The program was opened with words of welcome by David S. Cunningham, principal of the high school. Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools, discussed the topic, "Getting the Most Out of High School." He stressed the need for students to realize the value of a high school education in order to get the most out of the opportunities available. David Jones, freshman class advisor, explained some of the adjustments and problems that the future freshman would face when they entered senior high school.

Miss A. Frances Larned, director of guidance, suggested ways in which parents could help their children in starting to plan for advanced education and Kenneth Lane, guidance counselor, discussed different types of courses available for entering freshmen.

Approximately 300 parents and students from Saugerties Junior High School and St. Mary's School attended the program. Many of the parents arranged to meet Mr. Lane for individual conferences to discuss their children's future educational and vocational plans.

After the program, those interested were conducted on tours of the high school with members of the Future Teachers of America Club acting as their guides.

Guidance Head Visits Colleges

Miss A. Frances Larned, director of guidance at Saugerties High School, has recently completed a four day tour of colleges during which she visited 14 campuses in central and western New York and conferred with admissions officers at 11 of the institutions.

During her tour from April 24 until April 27 she visited University of Buffalo, State College of Education, Buffalo, Canisius College, St. Bonaventure University, State College of Education, Fredonia, Alfred University, State Agricultural and Technical Institute, Alfred, Houghton College, State College of Education, Geneseo, Keuka College, Hobart College, William Smith College, State Agriculture and Technical Institute at Morrisville and Cazenovia Junior College. The purpose of her visits were to confer about admissions policies, become acquainted with the facilities of the colleges, and check on the progress of Saugerties High School students attending any of the colleges.

It is the policy of the guidance department of Saugerties High School for the counselors to become personally acquainted with as many colleges and other institutions of higher education as possible in order to be able to provide competent advice concerning advanced education to both students and parents Both guidance counselors, Miss Larned and Kenneth Lane, have made college visits previously. Others are planned for the near future. Expenses for the visits have been met from title V, National Defense Education Act funds.

List Suggestions For Chauffeur's License Changes

ALBANY—Drivers who must convert their chauffeur licenses under the state's new classified chauffeur license law, today were offered these three suggestions by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

1. Obtain a form (MV-3B) from your nearest Motor Vehicle office.

2. Fill it out, and have your employer attest to your experience in driving, as required on the form.

3. Return the completed form, with both stubs of your present chauffeur license, to the Motor Vehicle office, by May 31. Your license will be stamped in the appropriate class.

Every New York State driver who intends to operate a tractor-trailer, truck-trailer, bus or truck with a maximum gross weight in excess of 18,000 pounds after May 31 of this year must obtain a classified license.

Taxi drivers still must have chauffeur licenses, but need not qualify in any of the three classes. Thus, except for renewing their licenses if they expire this year, they need take no action.

Chauffeurs whose licenses expire this year have received full instructions and forms by mail. Those who have not received their instructions and application in the mail, but whose licenses expire this year, should contact the nearest Motor Vehicle office to straighten out their records.

Bike Inspection Set

The New Paltz Jaycees are sponsoring a bicycle rodeo for all children of the area who own bicycles to take place on the Campus School playgrounds May 6.

The purpose of this event is to inspect every child's bike for mechanical perfection and to provide reflective tape for all of those who attend. Important instruction for safe operation of bicycles will also be taught. It is hoped that this will also make every parent concious of checking on their children's bicycles to see they are kept in top operating condition and are properly equipped with lights, reflectors, bells, or horns, and brakes that work. They should also be sure that the bike is the right size for the child who rides it.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—There are probably more stay-up-lates in the television audience than get-up-earlies. But Tuesday the ranks of early risers were swelled 15 per cent, one rating service found, by sleepy-eyed viewers who wanted to watch the first American attempt to put a man in space.

We were disappointed, of course, but word of the postponement of the manned missile launching did not come until almost three hours and many cups of black coffee after this reporter had turned on the set.

But it was not a wasted vigil. Between 6 a. m. (EST) and 9 a. m., I was exposed to all or parts of lecture-demonstrations on iron, on the mathematical laws of probability, on archeological finds in an ancient Roman colony; to a "Felix the Cat" cartoon; to any number of news and weather reports.

In addition I was briefed several times on the anticipated flight of the astronaut. And I witnessed John Daly's debut as substitute for Dave Garroway on NBC's "Today" show.

The "Today Show," starting at 7 a. m. had an ideally flexible format for watching-and-waiting. John Daly was a particularly happy choice to take over the Garroway spot on short notice. A veteran broadcaster completely at ease before the cameras, well-informed and articulate, Daly kept the program running smoothly, although the daily supply of chit-chat and chuckles was missing.

He didn't have much help, either, because Garroway's usual comedy helper on the show, Jack Lescoulie was taking a day off, and the show's "Girl of the Week," a blonde model, had made her debut on the program only the day before.

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10 (EDT)—with Andy Williams substituting, on short notice, for Como; Steel Hour, CBS, 10-11 — "Summer Rhapsody," with Glenda Farrell and Tom Tully.

The Global View:

'Prestige' Depends Upon Political Bias

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Analyst

NEW YORK—(NEA)—President Kennedy is finding out the hard way that international "prestige" is a poor yardstick for measuring the success or failure of foreign policy.

How is prestige measured, anyway? When the President first assumed office, influential "liberals" and leftists believed he would adopt a soft policy toward the Comumnist bloc. Richard Crossman, Britain's "socialistic" gadfly, described the President in the pro-neutralist "New Statesman" as a "great liberal."

However, after the Cuban fiasco, the "New Statesman" was quick to denounce Kennedy as "guilty of a bare-faced attempt to overthrow a neighboring government by force."

India's Prime Minister Nehru, whose views are often confused by his profound neutralism, also strongly criticized the rebel landing in Cuba as American "intervention."

But Nehru had second thoughts—and even some kind words for Kennedy—as soon as the landing turned out to be a tragic failure!

Had the Cuban freedom fighters succeeded in overthrowing Castro—with or without the aid of the Central Intelligence Agency — President Kennedy would have been written off in the biased history of the neutralists and leftists as an "American imperialist."

Since the anti-Castro revolt failed, the President is again in the good graces of the "New Statesman" and Prime Minister Nehru.

In other words, a weak United States is "progressive;" a strong United States is "imperialist."

To be sure, the views of the neutralists are not always consistent. They have an entirely different yardstick to measure prestige in the case of Soviet Russia.

But no sooner did Premier Khrushchev crush the Hungarian revolt than Sartre and his "fellow humanitarians" began to crawl back into Moscow's "progressive" fold.

In other words, as the neutralists and "liberals" see it, a weak Russia is "imperialist" but a strong Communist Russia is "progressive."

There is no doubt that, in the coming months, President Kennedy's prestige will rise and fall depending on the strength or weakness of his foreign policy.

Should the President withhold aid from the Cuban freedom fighters or accept the pro-Communist Prince Souvanna Phouma as the "neutralist" premier of Laos, he will be glorified by the neutralists as a "great liberal."

However, should he adopt a strong pro-American and anti-Communist foreign policy in Cuba, Laos, Vietnam and elsewhere, he will surely be denounced as a "barefaced imperialist."

Science at Work In Various Fields

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A benefit from games, freedom-loving fish, and germs that like radiation are on the week's science agenda:

Dividend from Games

In table tennis, a little ball can travel at speeds estimated up to 100 miles an hour or more. Skilled players rely on concentrated watching and trained reflexes to make their return shots.

"There is no time for the brain to give an order," Dr. Andrew Gai, a tournament player who was born in Hungary, writes in Medical Tribune.

As a dividend from this kind of sport, the reflexive or automatic response could be useful in everyday life, he says. For example, a good player is apt to be quicker and more assured in meeting a sudden crisis while driving an automobile.

Irish Story

Aquariums sometimes display sawfish with their peculiar bills, but no swordfish.

Nobody has ever been able to keep a swordfish in captivity, says the Marine Studios at St. Augustine, Fla. They and their close cousins are hefty fighters who keep struggling to the end against capture.

Even if captured quickly, this type of fish keeps struggling and thrashing until it builds up in its blood such a concentration of metabolic wastes that it would not likely live long. Tranquillizers or other drugs might keep them asleep until they reached an aquarium, but whether these fishes would accept captivity "is another question, so far unanswered."

Radiation Resistance

Germs that laugh at radiation are being studied for clues to the mechanism of radiation resistance and how to protect other living things from deadly rays.

These germs turned up in 1955 during tests aimed at preserving meat and other foods by ionizing radiation. Some bits of meat still spoiled, and were found to harbor the resistant bacteria. The germs were able to survive 10,000 times as much radiation as a human being can. They don't cause any disease, and are easily killed by heat. The germs now have been found to be a new, distinct species, and tentatively have been named Micrococcus radiodurans, says Dr. A. W. Anderson, bacteriologist at Oregon State University.

Meets Physical Standards

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. Lewis A. Froman, 54-year-old president of Russell Sage College, proved he could meet the physical standards of his own students.

Froman, a six-footer and former college athlete, went through most of a series of strenuous exercises Tuesday without loosening his jacket or tie. The result: a rating of almost excellent.

Is New Director

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—John D. McKechnie of Hillburn, Rockland County, is the new director of the Public Service Commission's utilities division.

McKechnie, a PSC employe for 28 years, succeeds Ernest A. Bamman of Dobbs Ferry, who has retired. McKechnie was named to the $18,836-a-year post Tuesday.

Briton Given 42 Years, Was Red Spy for Decade

LONDON (AP)—George Blake, a British government official, was sentenced to 42 years in prison today for spying for the Soviet Union for nearly a decade.

It was the stiffest sentence ever handed down in Britain in peacetime for spying. Atomic spy Klaus Fuchs was sentenced to 14 years and was released in 1959 after serving nine years.

Blake, 38, pleaded guilty. The nature of his government job and of the information he passed was not disclosed for security reasons.

The presiding lord chief justice, Lord Parker, said the information communicated, though not of a scientific nature, was clearly of the utmost importance to the Soviet Union and "rendered much of this country's efforts completely useless."

The judge did not spell out the meaning of "this country's efforts." Court reports speculated that it concerned British security measures against Soviet espionage.

Atty. Gen. Reginald Manningham-Buller told the court that Blake's crime was "even graver" than those of the two Britons, two Americans and a Russian convicted in March of passing British navy submarine and underwater defense secrets to Moscow.

Manningham-Buller said, however, that Blake's job "fortunately did not give him any access to information relating to secret weapons or atomic or nuclear weapons, but he has nevertheless done most serious damage to the interests of this country."

Justice Parker noted that Blake is "a British subject, albeit let me add not by birth." He did not disclose the defendant's birthplace.

Nonsense!

You can do it—and win.

Mrs. Robert C. Healing, a suburban housewife, did it with a bit of prune juice and a lot of pluck.

And now she won't have to pay the two per cent city sales tax on her favorite brand of prune juice when she comes to market.

With prices as they are, "every little bit helps," said Mrs. Healing as she was declared the winner over the city tax collector.

It took a lot of letter writing—all the way to the Department of Agriculture in Washington and to the State Tax Commission in Albany.

The result: the city of Poughkeepsie Tuesday lifted its sale tax from one brand of prune juice.

Mrs. Healing, who says she is "around 40," lives in the Town of Poughkeepsie with her husband, two children and an elderly aunt. There's no sales tax there.

She buys some of her groceries in the city of Poughkeepsie, which has a sales tax—but not on food.

Recently she objected to paying the sales tax on her brand of prune juice, contending it was food. She wrote to city Tax Collector John E. Deyo, who replied that the brand was taxable because it was diluted with water and therefore not food in the strict sense.

More letters. The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Duffy - Mott Co. of New York City, which produces the brand, both said it was food. But Deyo wouldn't surrender.

The appeal then went to the State Tax Commission. Commission Counsel Edward H. Best ruled the juice was exempt from taxation.

Then the city commissioner of finance, Aubrey B. Coons, ruled likewise.

Livingston Manor Bank President Held

NEW YORK (AP)—The 64-year-old president of the Livingston Manor National Bank has been accused by the FBI office here of embezzling $2,000 in bank funds on or about July 7, 1959.

Harry W. Voorhess, who attained the bank's top post in 1953 after 25 years as an employe, was arrested by New York City FBI agents at the bank Tuesday.

Voorhess, a widower and father of four, was released without bail for grand jury action when he appeared before U. S. Commissioner Thomas F. Saccoman of Kingston in Liberty.

Voorhess is charged with violation of the Federal Reserve Act. Conviction could bring five years in prison or a $5,000 fine, or both.

'Hatred Spirit' Burns in Angola Missionary Says

LONDON (AP)—A British missionary says a "spirit of hatred" is burning in Angola, with thousands being slaughtered and mutilated in racial strife sweeping the Portuguese West African territory.

The Rev. Clifford J. Parsons, who spent 20 years in Angola, told a British Baptist convention Tuesday night that Portuguese security forces and Africans were both perpetrating atrocities on a vast scale.

This Is Spring?

Snow Hits State, Frost Is on Way

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Enough snow to hide the robin's red breast proved today that spring was far behind in parts of New York State. A chance of frost was in the offing.

Early risers in the Albany area found a thin layer of wet snow on automobile windows and lawns. The Syracuse area also had flurries.

The Weather Bureau said frost might strike much of the state tonight. Thursday was expected to be generally fair and a little warmer.

Cheaper Electric Rates Approved For 3 Villages

NEW YORK (AP) — The State Power Authority announced today it has approved new electric rate schedules for the villages of Wellsville, Springville and Little Valley.

The three Upstate municipalities will begin receiving power from the Niagara power project later this month.

Authority Chairman Robert Moses said the communities have estimated they will save approximately $100,000 a year by purchasing Niagara power.

In a separate announcement, Moses said construction of the new golf house and the improvement and enlargement of the two public golf courses in Hyde Park, Niagara Falls, will be rushed so that the facilities will be ready for use early in the summer of 1962.

When the golf house is completed, it will be turned over to the city for public use, together with the land provided by the Power Authority for enlarging one course from 9 to 18 holes, and other improvements.

In the electric rate announcement, Moses said:

Wellsville, in Allegany County, estimated its saving at $73,000. This represents about 30 per cent of its present power costs. Under the new schedule, $38,000 will be passed on to the municipality's electric customers in the form of lower electric rates and $25,000 will be applied toward improvements of the system, including major substation additions. There will be an average reduction of 13 per cent in both residential and commercial rates.

Springville, in Erie County, placed its saving at $23,000 a year. Of this, $15,000 will be passed on to customers and $8,000 will be used for system improvements, including a new garage and new street lighting in the business section. Residential rates will be cut 8 per cent, commercial rates 7 per cent and large power users' rates 8 per cent.

Little Valley, in Cattaraugus County, set its saving at $13,500 a year, about 27 per cent of the present power costs. Approximately $9,000 will be passed on to customers and $4,500 will be applied toward improvements of the system. Residential rates will be cut 15 per cent, commercial rates 21 per cent and three-phase power rates 6 per cent.

The word "nightingale" means "night singer" and is taken from the Anglo-Saxon "galan," which means "to sing."

Urban Hearing Set for May 16

Resolution Adopted Recommending College Be at Kingston if Approved

May 16 was set for public hearing and first major action on the city's urban renewal project at Tuesday night's meeting of the Common Council which also approved payroll deductions for dues paying of civil service employes and moved toward a study of local recreational facilities.

After a proposal by Alderman Lawrence E. Woerner (D) Fourth Ward, the aldermen adopted a resolution asking that a Community College, if one is approved, be located in or near Kingston.

The council recessed to May 16 when a public hearing on proposed designation of a first phase of downtown urban renewal will open at 7 p. m. It will be followed by a meeting of the aldermen who are expected to act on a proposal that could gain the city some $500,000 credit in defraying its share of the cost of urban renewal.

Must Designate Project

A report at an April 18 council meeting noted that the city must designate to federal officials its first urban renewal project before June 1 in order to gain credit based on construction of the Mary's Avenue school, which is in the general project area.

School officials had indicated that May 15 had been set as the latest date for start of the school in order to have it ready for occupancy in September, 1962, but in order to permit the desired action on urban renewal this date was advanced to June 1.

Facilities Count

The city is permitted to contribute toward its share of urban renewal costs through providing sewer, water, street, school and other facilities. The federal government pays two thirds of the cost of urban renewal projects and the city and state each contribute a sixth.

The city is expected to designate an area between lower Broadway and Hasbrouck Avenue as the site of its first urban renewal project, and if approval of this is gained in time, credit may be claimed for the school facility, which will be at another end of the general project area.

The May 16 public hearing on the proposal will be conducted by the planning board and the council's urban renewal committee.

Can Deduct Dues

After a favorable report by its laws and rules committee, the council approved a measure permitting payment of dues by city employes, who are members of the New York State Civil Service Employes Association, through payroll deductions. The sums will be collected by the city and forwarded to the association.

After a suggestion by Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D), Third Ward, Council President Harold L. Kaye named a special committee to make a survey of the city's recreational facilities. Its findings and recommendations could become effective by 1962.

To Make Study

Hastings cited an instance which led him to believe that facilities might be lacking in some instances, and he proposed the study "to see if we are, or we are not providing full facilities."

Named to the special committee

Auto Show Is Set on Saturday

Entertainment Is Feature of Event

Final plans for the postponed Rondout Auto Show were announced today by the retail division of the Rondout Area Business Men's Association.

Originally planned for last week, it was rained out and is now slated for Saturday, May 6.

In proper street setting, area auto dealers will display 1961 car models on the Strand, between Hasbrouck Avenue and Broadway. Announced dealers for the all day exhibition are Parsons of Kingston, Bob Nadler, Inc., Ber-Van Motors, Albany Avenue Garage, DeWitt Cadillac-Oldsmobile and Franz-Rambler.

Festive Setting

Within the exhibition area, there will be a festive air. Free pony rides will be featured for children accompanied by adults. A local dance band will play during the afternoon for dancing and listening. Radio broadcasts will eminate from the area with interviews of visiting persons. Bobby Banner, a native of Kingston and the Rondout area, now a nation-wide hit recording star, will appear during the afternoon, too.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel will officiate at the opening ribbon cutting ceremonies with Rondout Area Business Men's Association president, Manuel Lipton, Saturday morning at 10:30 at the corner of Broadway and Strand.

Bares Jewish Courage

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — The gripping story of the anti-Nazi uprising in the Warsaw ghetto, swept with hunger and disease but filled with courage, was told by a woman survivor in the trial of Adolf Eichmann today.

In a low but unfaltering voice, Mrs. Zivia Lubotkin told of weeks of heroic resistance against overwhelming German forces in the walled-in Jewish quarter.

With home-made bombs that had to be fused with matches, a few arms and scarce ammunition, the Jews battled thousands of German troops trying to round them up for deportation to the gas chambers, she said

TWO CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE — A blaze Tuesday afternoon that reportedly started from a kerosene heater in this multiple dwelling in the Ellenville area caused the death of two youngsters, William Henry Merchant, 19 months, and Leon Merchant, 7 months, sons of Mulvina Merchant, who was at a neighbor's. Francine, 5 years old, sought the help of another family, one of three occupying the wooden structure. All of Ellenville's fire fighting equipment answered the alarm. Napanoch stood by to cover the village. An investigation is under way.(Freeman photo).

Two Tots Lose Lives In Fire at Ellenville

At 2:37 p. m. Tuesday fire which apparently started from a kerosene heater in a three-family house at 51 Chapel Street, Ellenville, claimed the lives of 7-month-old Leon Merchant and 19-month-old William Henry Merchant.

The fire started while the children's mother, Mulvina Merchant, was two doors away at a neighbor's where she had gone to pick up clothing for the children.

Francine Merchant, five years old, discovered the fire and went to an upstairs apartment occupied by Alvena Postell to summon aid. William Miller of Cragsmoor was passing in a car and also observed smoke in the house. He summoned the Ellenville police department and firemen. Mrs. Postell, who lives around the corner at 1 Mountain Avenue in the same building, also called firemen. Edna Tompkins, across the street also called firemen.

The Merchant home was filled with smoke and before firemen were able to subdue the flames there was considerable damage by fire.

William Henry Merchant was in a carriage in an adjoining bedroom and when firemen arrived the carriage was removed from the house and the infant taken to Veterans Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. He apparently died from suffocation.

Leon Merchant, seven-months was in a crib in the living room where the fire started behind the stove, he was pronounced dead on the scene. The fire was burning briskly in the wall between the living room and bedroom when firemen arrived.

At 3:48 a. m. today a trailer occupied by Arthur Haywood on Oak Ridge Road in Ellenville, was destroyed by fire.

Again at 7:53 a. m. fire struck in the area at the Star Bungalow Colony on Greenfield Road, Route 52 and three rooms were destroyed in the annex of the hotel. Ellenville and Woodbourne fire departments responded. First Assistant Fire Chief William McCombs headed the Ellenville department.

Coroner Awaits Probe

An investigation of the fire at the Merchant home was being continued today by Investigator Michael Lisman of the Ellenville State Police station and Ellenville Chief of Police Abe Rand. Coroner Arthur C. Chipp was withholding his verdict pending the outcome of the investigation.

The Merchant family occupied an apartment in the three family corner house at the corner of Chapel Street and the Shawwangunk Trail.

Chief Rand arrived at the home at approximately the same time as the firemen. Assisting the Ellenville police was Sergeant Leo Gorton and Officer Bernard Krustel.

Investigator Michael Lisman, Corporal M. J. Bonney and Trooper E. Whelan arrived at the scene shortly after and assisted in the investigation.

William Henry Burris, who resides at the Chapel Street address, made an application for reduction of a 90-day sentence in the county jail on learning of the death of the Merchant children. On consent of District Attorney David W. Corwin, County Judge Raymond J. Mino and Justice Frank Decker of Town of Wawarsing the sentence was reduced to the number of days he had spent in jail. He had been committed by Jusice Decker on a malicious mischief charge. Burris was taken to his home by a deputy sheriff.

U. S. Cuban Blasts May Bring On New Sanctions

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The Castro regime—in which Fidel now seems more figurehead than ruler—probably rushed to proclaim itself part of the world Communist bloc in order to claim Soviet protection against any future U.S. moves.

President Kennedy has told the allies of the United States that Washington will intervene—going it alone if necessary—to prevent Communist penetration of the Western Hemisphere, regardless of the implicit perils.

Red Risks Something Else

The Havana government now says Cuba is a "Socialist" state in the Soviet sense of the word. The big question: How much is Premier Khrushchev willing to risk to protect a self-proclaimed Communist regime thousands of miles from world Communist frontiers?

Would Khrushchev risk starting World War III in the Western Hemisphere?

A U. S statement Tuesday, blasting Castro's regime as more Communist than the rest of the Iron Curtain satellites, may be a prelude to additional Washington moves against the Havana regime—perhaps to a total embargo on shipments of all goods to Cuba, perhaps also to bringing pressure on other members of the Organization of American States (OAS) to take action against Havana.

Would Hurt Havana

These moves would hurt the Havana government. The Soviet Union is not in a position to supply Cuba with all its food, medicine and other everyday needs. A break in relations with other Latin American states could deprive the Castristas of their nests of espionage, agitation and subversion throughout much of the Western Hemisphere. Some Latin-American governments, badgered beyond endurance by Castro

U.S. May Glean More Data in First Space Try

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —America's initial astronaut likely will top Yuri Gagarin in bringing home critical knowledge needed for man, the thinking machine, to wheel around in space.

Alan B. Shepard—if he makes the first flight—apparently will be far busier than the Soviet pilot was, doing more tasks. Navy Comdr. Shepard has been selected for the job, but some change could disqualify him.

Friday Try Likely

Meanwhile, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the first space try may be delayed at least until Friday.

Trouble with the Redstone booster rocket was the reason. The difficulty was with a tube which feeds liquid oxygen to the rocket's fuel tanks.

Two storm fronts in the Florida area forced the postponement of yesterday's historic attempt.

Sweeper, Cablevision Are Council Subjects

A public works policy pertinent to renting of city-owned equipment and lack of action by Kingston Cablevision in the Fifth Ward were criticized at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting by Alderman Samuel J. Perry, of that ward, and the council's minority leader.

Perry also hit at lack of action in authorizing a stop sign at Crane and East Union Street.

The alderman said he had inquired last fall as to the possibility of the hiring of city equipment for private use, and was told that the Board of Public Works had decided that city equipment could not be rented.

Used at IBM Lot

He had learned, however, he said, that on April 8 and 9, a sweeper had been rented to a private concern, which, he said, he did not wish to name. Alderman Donald M. Hastings, (D) Third Ward, who later answered Perry, revealed that the sweeper had been used to clean the IBM parking area.

Perry said he found the rental cost to be $221.13, and he wanted to know why an out-of-town concern could rent equipment when a city concern was refused the privilege.

Hastings, who revealed that the other concern Perry referred to was the Hudson Cement Corp., of North Street, claimed a union problem dealing with operation of the equipment was involved, and he cited an instance of conflict dating back to the building of the Broadway underpass.

Perry revealed that the cement company requested rental of the equipment not for a parking lot, but for building of a private driveway. If he were the mayor, he said, he would "go along" in instances where such rentals are of some benefit to the city.

5th Isn't Swept

"They rent a sweeper out of town," he said, "and the Fifth Ward isn't swept yet . . . What do they call this a joke or something?"

Alderman Joseph F. Carroll Jr., (R) 11th Ward, proposed that if a rule or law were involved the city should abide by it, and Council President Harold L. Kaye indicated he would check on that point.

Perry complained that Kingston Cablevision was now working out of the city and has done nothing in the fifth Ward. Terms

Cool, Rainy Month Due for New York

The Bureau said Tuesday that Binghamton and New York City areas could expect more than four inches of rain, and the rest of the state more than three inches.

Temperatures were forecast to range from 1 to 4½ degrees below normal. The normal readngs for May range from nearly 55 degrees in Binghamton to slightly more than 61 in New York City.

Banker Pays Town Debts Of $402,500 With Stocks

RICHMONDVILLE, N.Y. (AP) —"Richmondville has been good to me," is banker Chauncey Winters' explanation for giving this Schoharie County village of 743 persons the equivalent of $402,500 in IBM stocks.

Winters, a white-haired, 68-year-old bachelor, is cashier and vice president of the independent Bank of Richmondville in this pretty, dairy-belt community 40 miles west of Albany.

A sewer and water project built in 1955 still was awaiting a $300,000 bond issue and the village tax rate seemed about to double when Winters acted.

He asked Mayor George Davis, "How much do you need?"

Davis replied that $309,000 would pay the village's debts, including the sewer system bill.

"How about 450 shares of IBM stock?" Winters countered.

He later "rounded" the figure to 500 shares, with a cash value of $357,000.

Wnters said he acquired IBM stock for $7,000 after the stock market crash in 1929. The stock has split several times since then.

"My idea," said Winters, "was that it had grown to such proportions that I would like to capitalize on it. Not needing it myself, I thought I would apply it to some beneficial purpose. This struck me as good a purpose as any other."

He still retains some IBM stock.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has proclaimed next week School Safety Patrol Week in recognition of the work performed by the 5,000 student members of the safety units in New York State.

Rockefeller, in a proclamation signed Tuesday, said statistics indicate that traffic deaths among elementary school children decreased 79 per cent during the 35 years school safety patrols have been in existence.

Election of two members to the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) — Bernie Singer, an uptown business man and Mrs. Edith Case Muurphy, retiring head of the Kingston High School mathematics department —on Tuesday climaxed a spirited campaign conducted by seven candidates.

Singer and Mrs. Murphy will succeed retiring members of the Board, Robert Herzog, president, and Robert O'Reilly, vice president. Each successful candidate will serve terms of five years without salary.

How Votes Went

Singer and Mrs. Murphy headed the slate of candidates, Singer polled a total of 2,234 and Mrs. Murphy, 1,908.

Results of the other candidates follow: Robert S. Stedge, Town of Ulster, a justice of the peace—1,515; Hugh Greer, member of the Kingston Fire Department—1,253; Robert MacKinnon, local attorney — 972; Howard Mansfield, IBM employe and resident of Tillson—683; Mrs. Ruth Clair, a teacher in the Onteora Central School district and member of the Kingston school board before consolidation—604.

500 More Vote

Dr. Earl Soper, superintendent of schools, reported a total of 9,169 votes were cast by 5,001 voters in yesterday's election, about 500 more than in the last school board election.

Four write-in votes were cast, one for each of four persons. They were: George Jacobson, Second Ward; Charles Ellis, who received a vote at George Washington School, and Albert Meyers and George McEvoy who received a vote each at Tillson School.

Mrs. Murphy and Stedge were sponsored by the Non-Partisan Committee, and Greer and MacKinnon ran as Independent candidates.

U. S. 7th Fleet Is Still On Laos-Area Mission

SINGAPORE (AP) — The U.S. 7th Fleet, its exact whereabouts secret, remained in Southeast Asian waters today on its announced mission of deterring Communist aggression.

There were reports that the aircraft carrier Coral Sea was steaming northward toward the Gulf of Siam, near Communist-threatened Laos and South Viet Nam. U.S. Navy officials said only that the carrier is heading for her home base.

Completes Exercise

The fleet has just concluded its part in the six-nation Southeast Asia Treaty Organization military exercise "Pony Express" with landings in the wild jungle country of North Borneo.

With 6,000 American and British marines and Australian infantrymen, 60 ships and 20,000 navy personnel, it was the biggest military operation ever held by SEATO.

In Bangkok, SEATO Secretary-General Pote Sarasin told newsmen after a SEATO council emergency session—its fifth in 10 days —he is more optimistic about prospects for a Laos cease-fire.

Officials of Thailand's pro-Western government maintained an air of guarded optimism, watching for any sign that the rebels may drag out cease-fire talks and delay a proposed international peace conference for Laos.

Ave in Phnom Penh

W. Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's roving ambassador, arrived in Phnom Penh today for talks about Laos with Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state. He will leave Thursday for Bangkok, en route home.

Harriman told reporters "It is our hope that a basis can be established for a completely neutral government in Laos and a cease-fire may soon come there."

"There can be no real cease-fire until fighting is stopped in all sectors," Harriman said.

Ship Sinks, 6 Trapped

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A 92-foot brigantine, the Albatross, sank in the Gulf of Mexico Tuesday, trapping six of her crew below decks, it was learned today.

Thirteen other crewmen, many of them reportedly teen-age Americans, managed to get into lifeboats before the 93-ton square rigger went down in a squall.

The Albatross was sailing on a training cruise from Progreso on Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula to Nassau in the Bahamas when the storm struck her, 125 miles west of Key West, Fla.

President to Try Once Again for Nuclear Ban Pact

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy intends to send his nuclear test ban negotiator back to Geneva in a few days with instructions to make another determined effort to reach agreement with the Soviet Union.

Informants said this effort will not involve any new concessions by the United States and Britain. It will involve further patient exchanges with the Soviet delegation in the hope that the way can be opened for a treaty banning nuclear weapons testing.

NSC Reviews Issue

The whole nuclear weapons testing issue was reviewed by Kennedy and top military and diplomatic officials at a meeting of the National Security Council at the White House late Tuesday. Arthur H. Dean, Kennedy's special ambassador at Geneva, and John J. McCloy, the President's disarmament adviser, participated.

Informants said Dean gave a full accounting of the Geneva negotiations since they were resumed March 21. Dean's report indicated that in one respect at least the Soviets had moved backward, away from progress toward an agreement.

But the President was described today as being determined that further efforts at negotiation should be made since he

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The pro-Communist rebel command today ordered its troops to stop shooting, but a battalion of its troops reportedly launched an attack against forces of the Western-backed government in southern Laos.

The Vientiane government also reported a mortar attack Tuesday night against its command center just south of where cease-fire talks were held by officers of the government and Pathet Lao armies.

Despite the rebel attacks, most observers felt a cease-fire would be worked out. The tendency in Vientiane was to blame the attacks on poor communications and the usual Laotian confusion.

Forces of the Vientiane government have been under orders for several days not to fire unless fired upon.

The Pathet Lao rebel radio broadcast a general cease-fire order effective at 8 a.m. and called on the Western-backed government of Premier Boun Oum to join promptly in negotiations for an armistice.

Rebel broadcasts over North Viet Nam's Radio Hanoi, quoted by Peiping Radio, said the cease-fire order was issued to both the Pathet Lao forces fighting for years to take over the Indochinese kingdom for the Communists and the allied troops loyal to paratroop Capt. Kong Le, whose coup last summer briefly put Prince Souvanna Phouma in power.

The broadcasts made no mention of cease-fire negotiations which reportedly began Tuesday in the no-man's land some 45 miles north of Vientiane between an officer of Boun Oum's army and military representatives of the Pathet Lao.

The Vientiane and Pathet Lao officers first made contact Monday. Boun Oum's government announced Tuesday a provisional cease-fire was in effect in the front area astride the Luang Prabang-Vientiane highway where they were meeting.

Maintaining the Communist stand that Souvanna Phouma is still the only legal premier of Laos and Kong Le his "supreme commander," the rebel broadcasts said the captain had proposed the cease-fire to the Pathet Lao as well as ordered it for his own troops, presumably the remnant of the paratroop battalion that carried out his coup last August.

"Headquarters of the patriotic Laos fighting units has, acting on the proposal of supreme commander Captain Kong Le, ordered all military units under its command to cease firing as of 8 a.m. Laos time," the Pathet Lao broadcast said.

Kong Le called on the Vientiane government to send delegates without delay to negotiate at the village of Na Mon, seven miles south of Vang Vieng, or in the area of Hin Keup, another village in the no-man's land where the Nam Lik River crosses the north-south highway.

It was in approximately that area that the Vientiane government's representative met Pathet Lao representatives.

Boun Oum's foreign minister, Tiao Sopsaisana, said his government's envoy, Lt. Col. Siho Lamphanthakhou, was instructed to avoid political issues and negotiate only for a quick cease-fire and a time and place for further meetings of Vientiane representatives with those of the Pathet Lao and Souvanna Phouma.

Prelude to Conference

The cease-fire is supposed to be the prelude to a 14-nation conference scheduled to start May 12 in Geneva to work out a permanent peace for Laos. The United States and Britain have said they would not attend, however, until an end to the fighting is verified. A three-nation truce commission, made up of India, Canada and Poland, is due in Laos later this week to supervise the cease-fire.

The Boun Oum regime and the Pathet Lao still have to work out a coalition government to represent Laos at the Geneva conference.

Predictions Fall Down On Seaway Tonnage

OTTAWA (AP)—To all intents and purposes, the experts have temporarily gone out of the predicting business so far as the St. Lawrence Seaway is concerned.

Before the waterway opened in 1959, they had worked out a set of estimates of the tonnage it would handle annually for its first 50 years. The estimates were important because the Seaway's toll structure was based on them.

The experts predicted 25 million tons of cargo would be shipped in 1957, but only 20,590,000 tons were moved. In 1960 volume was supposed to increase to 29 million tons it decreased to 20,279,000.

Not Taken Seriously

Consequently this year's original estimate of 33 million tons is no longer taken seriously. Economists and businessmen are waiting for the actual 1961 figures in the hope that three years of operation will provide a sound basis for revised forecasts.

Unofficially, business and shipping circles anticipate an early-season traffic increase because of accumulated grain stores, followed by a decline because of the continuing slump in the U. S. steel industry.

When the season opened, less than 22 million bushels of grain was stored in eastern elevators, which have a total licensed storage capacity of 110 million bushels. Another 22.6 million bushels moved east in the first 10 days of navigation, and lakehead shipping sources predicted a marked increase in the next few weeks.

Iron Less Promising

Short-term prospects for iron ore are less promising. As the season began, the American steel industry, main customer for Labradore ore, had a 75 million-ton stockpile as a result of many months of light demand for its products. Last year Labrador shipped 9.8 tons compared with 13 million in 1957.

The extensive switch to production of compact cars has reduced the American automobile industry's demand for steel. It has also cut down another profitable source of seaway traffic by reducing the volume of European car imports.

Counts on Grain, Ore

Despite the two years in which it has offered a variety of opportunities to foreign shippers, the Seaway continues to count most heavily on the old Great Lakes mainstays, grain and iron ore.

The Seaway's 1961 performance may have a big influence on the deliberations of the Canadian-American tolls committee when it meets in 1964.

Under the present plan, the Seaway is supposed to return its $471 million cost by 2009, 50 years after its opening date. The original estimates were prepared as a basis for toll schedules designed to meet the deadline. If the estimates have to be downgraded, the committee has a choice between raising tolls or extending the amortization period.

Rebuttal to Levitt

Governor Defends N. Y. Tax Program

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says "the so-called rich" are paying a larger percentage of state taxes under his fiscal program than they did before it went into effect two years ago.

He also says that political motivations were behind Democratic charges that the new state income tax system benefits those in the higher income brackets.

The Republican governor defended his tax program Tuesday night in addressing a fund-raising dinner of the Citizens Union.

In effect, Rockefeller's remarks were a rebuttal to Democratic State Comptroller Levitt's statements in an interview on Sunday. But the governor did not mention Levitt by name.

Rockefeller said:

"Any person who has a basic sense of integrity and the time and ability to understand the tax structure could not honestly make the statements."

Elsewhere in his remarks, Rockefeller said "the best thing the Kennedy administration can do to meet the unemployment problem is to accelerate the federal road-building program.

Rockefeller added that when his administration's tax program went into effect, 85 per cent of the taxpayers paid 19 per cent of the taxes. "Today 85 per cent pay 18 per cent of the taxes," he said, adding: "so that the so-called rich" are paying a larger percentage.

Rocky, Congress Members to Have Working Dinner

Telegrams inviting all New York members of Congress to the dinner in the new Senate Office Building were sent out this week by Rockefeller and the New York Congressional Steering Committee.

The New York Department of Commerce office here said it had received no word of an agenda for the meeting.

Rockefeller, however, is expected to seek support at the dinner for programs affecting both the state and the nation.

At a similar dinner last year he urged support of his plan for the government to relinquish the 10 per cent tax on local telephone service for use by municipalities for school aid.

The plan was later rejected by then President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Hotel Exposition Slated May 9-11 At Area Raceway

New products and services of interest to all in the feeding and housing industry will be shown at the annual Hotel Show and Exposition which is is to be held next week at the Monticello Raceway.

As usual, a large number of persons are expected to attend from Sullivan County, but requests for admission tickets have been coming in from points as much as 75 miles distance and the show management expects the 1961 version to be the best from the standpoint of both attendance and variety of exhibits.

While invitations have been sent out, it is the normal policy of the Sullivan County Hotel Association which sponsors the show, to admit all persons who have an interest in the resort economy. Admission may be gained by the presentation of a business card. No person under the age of 18 will be permitted to enter.

Among the items and services to be exhibited are commercial kitchen and restaurant equipment, all food items, entertainment devices and facilities, office machines, sanitary supplies, advertising specialties, furniture, interior decorating services, automobiles and vending machines.

Show hours are from 7 p. m. until midnight, the evenings of May 9, 10 and 11.

Udall Is Elected In Close Contest, Kin in Cabinet

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Democrat Morris K. Udall, winner in one of Arizona's closest congressional elections, today prepared to follow the footsteps of his older brother to Washington.

But he said a recent unpopular announcement by his brother almost cost him the victory.

Udall, 38, a Tucson attorney, nosed out Republican Mac C. Matheson by about 2,600 votes in nearly complete unofficial returns from Tuesday's special election in the 2nd District. He won the seat vacated by his brother, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, who resigned to accept appointment to the Cabinet.

As interior secretary, Stewart recently announced settlement of a long-standing dispute over farmers squatting on federal lands along the Colorado River in Yuma County. The ruling was that the farmers must evacuate the lands.

"This was an unpopular decision in the Yuma area," Morris said. "I had counted heavily on winning Yuma County. I lost it."

He indicated he felt other matters involving his brother within the past few weeks may have cost him votes. He had few to spare.

MOOERS FORKS, N.Y. (AP)—State Police banked today on cold and hunger to drive from densely wooded terrain an accused killer armed with a .22 caliber rifle.

Charles Ducharme, 20, is accused of shooting his former girlfriend, Betty Ann Davison, 17, a pretty, blonde high school senior. Ducharme was jealous because she was dating another youth, police said.

Ducharme fled in his automobile after the shooting Sunday night in this community north of Plattsburgh.

His car was found abandoned along a dirt road in nearby West Chazy. On the seat was a note warning police "I have four boxes of shells and will use them if necessary."

Police said that Ducharme was familiar with the terrain and a good woodsman. However, State Police said last night, he was wearing a light jacket and had no food with him.

Savings Banks Report Records

New York State's 127 savings banks increased their mortgage holdings on properties in the state by almost a half-billion dollars in 1960, according to the 68th annual report of the Savings Banks Association of the State of New York published today.

In the 1950-1960 decade, the report shows, the savings banks helped to make home ownership possible for an estimated one and a half million New York State people, as their mortgage holdings on New York State properties rose from $4.5 billion to $9.5 billion.

New savings bank mortgage financing in the state during that period included not only homes, but also 121 schools, 387 office buildings, 1,297 shopping centers and stores, 102 hospitals and 466 houses of worship, as well as other community projects throughout the state.

The savings banks at the end of 1960 were handling a record total of 11,583,365 deposit accounts for people whose savings had reached $21,433,699,370, also a record. Interest-dividends paid to depositors during 1960 totaled $740 million.

Entitled "Savings Build the Future in New York State," the 32-page report documents the progress of the savings bank industry in the state and reports on the work of the Association's 14 standing committees.

HAVEN'T SEEN ANYTHING YET

The best way to solve community development problems is to get all kinds of local organizations working together on a comprehensive, do-it-yourself program. That is the view of Arthur H. Motley, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

On the highly specific side, he said that legislation now pending in Congress "could kill chambers of commerce and other local voluntary organizations working for community development . . . (and) could eliminate independent local government."

That's quite a statement. But Mr. Motley has evidence to support it. More than 250 local subsidy bills are pending. They provide Federal aid for repairing streets, sidewalks, bridges, parking lots, recreation facilities, garbage disposal facilities, sewage and sanitation facilities, police and fire protection, and many other local matters.

The thinking behind such proposals can only be that the Federal government should do everything. If that is to be the case, local government along with civic groups might as well shut up shop and call it a day. Then, in the matter of Federal taxes, controls and regimentation, it will be a case of 'we ain't seen nothing yet."

LONG TAX ARM

Another income tax time has come and gone. And millions of us feel a sad flatness in the pocketbook.

Once the income tax was a rich man's tax—people of small and moderate earnings paid little or nothing. But now, as Citizens Public Expenditure Survey observes, "the long arm of the Internal Revenue Service reaches out to nearly everybody."

Here's the cold statistical story: Of the total federal tax, people who earn under $5,000 a year pay 21 per cent. The $5,000-$10,000 group pays 39 per cent. The $10,000-$15,000 earners pay 11 per cent. The $15,000-$50,000 people pay 17 per cent. And the real big income group—$50,000 and over—pays only 12 per cent.

This isn't because the rich are favored—income tax rates reach a top bracket of 91 per cent. It simply reflects the fact that there are not enough wealthy people to foot the bill for government—but there are millions of individuals in the modest income brackets. So, inevitably, the latter must pay the great bulk of government costs. And they, collectively, would gain the most from reductions in non-essential government spending.

DRIVE-IN JUSTICE

This is the age of the drive-in. The trend that began years ago with a few outdoor theaters now embraces restaurants, banks and even church services. Now comes the latest addition—a drive-in traffic court.

In Dearborn, Mich., Judge John T. McWilliams has installed a "toll booth" in the courthouse which allows motorists to drive up and pay minor fines while remaining in their cars. A closed-circuit television system allows both judge and defendant to see and talk with one another.

We should not be surprised if the next step is a slot machine in which one deposits his ticket, along with the stipulated fine, and receives a stamped receipt.

MEDICAL LOGIC

Phenomenal advances have been made, during the past few decades, in the detection and cure of human ailments. It does not follow that all Americans get the benefit of all that the medical profession has learned.

One major reason for this, quite aside from the economic considerations involved, is that many Americans do not undergo a periodic examination by a physician. Without such examinations, at more or less regular intervals, it is impossible for a man or woman to receive the full benefits of medical science.

Numerous physical ailments can be dealt with effectively if they are detected early. Often the presence of disease in early stages is not revealed to the layman by readily apparent symptoms. It follows that only periodic examination by experts can turn up evidence of such disease. The logic is inescapable. Heeding it may prevent misery, or even add years to one's life.

'These Days'

NEO-NAZISM

It is unbelievable but it is true that there is such an organ as "The American Party World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists." Its headquarters is in Arlington, Virginia, and its Commander is Lincoln Rockwell. This party has a program which seems to be a hodge-podge of conflicting ideas; nevertheless, this paragraph makes it clear that Rockwell adores Hitler, which is surprising in an American:

"We believe that Adolf Hitler was a gift of an inscrutable Providence to a world on the brink of Jewish-Bolshevik catastrophe, and that only the blazing spirit of this heroic man can give us the strength and inspiration to rise, like the early Christians, from the depths of persecution and hatred, to bring the world a new birth of radiant idealism, realistic peace, international order, and social justice for all men."

The seven articles of the program are described as "fundamental, absolute, and timeless Truth. . . ."

Most of the concepts in Commander Lincoln Rockwell's program originated in Houston Stewart Chamberlain's "The Foundations of the Nineteenth Century," although I do not know whether Rockwell has seen this amazing attempt to establish a theory or Nordic supremacy.

The significance of Nazism in the United States is that it is one of a large number of mass movements on the extreme Right, none of which is, of itself important, but all of which added together represent a ground-swell of opposition to Liberalism. This opposition cannot be ignored. While some of these movements seem to be without sanity, those who join them are often very sincere Americans who are dissatisfied with current conditions and who find themselves frustrated in any attempt to hold back the tides of Socialism.

Yet Rockwell is a Socialist, a National Socialist, and he expresses his Socialism in these words:

"We believe that no man is entitled to the services and products of the labor of his fellow men, unless he contributes at least an equal amount of goods or services of his own production or invention. We believe that the contribution by a member of society of nothing else but the tokens called 'money' is a fraud upon his fellows, and does not excuse a man capable of honest work of his responsibility to produce his share."

This is definitely anti-capitalist. It is as strong in its opposition to capitalism as anything written by Karl Marx. In a word, interest, dividends, rents are excluded. All that may be measured for reward is production of goods or services. And presumably, as there is to be no private capital, everything will be government owned. In fact, the first sentence of the program reads:

"We believe that an honest man can never be happy in a naked scramble for material gain and comfort, without any goal which he believes is greater than himself, and for which he is willing to sacrifice his own egotism. . . ."

The American Nazi are, of course, violently anti-Semitic. The development of Marxism is attributed to Jews, although both Stalin and Khrushchev have, at times, been anti-Semitic. Rockwell sets forth his purpose as follows:

". . . we announce our purpose to be nothing less than a world-wide effort to free humanity from Jewish domination and subversion in all their forms, and the creation of the idealistic, racially realistic, socially progressive, international world order which we must have, if we are to remain masters of our own planet."

"To this world-wide goal, we solemnly pledge our lives."

Jews are to be killed; all debts from non-Jews to Jews are to be cancelled and an International Jew Control Autnority (like Eichmann's) is to be established: ". . . to protect the rare honest Jews from the wrath of the people newly awakened to the truth about the Jews, and to make a long-term, scientific study to determine if the Jewish virus is a matter of environment and can be eliminated by education and training, or if some other method must be developed to render Jews harmless to society."

The negroes are to be treated more mercifully. A new state is to be established in Africa to which negroes are to be sent. In fact, Rockwell's concept is, to a degree, similar to that of Elijah Muhammad. The Nation of Islam does not plan to establish this new state in Africa; their plan is that the United States give up some of its territory.

★ The Doctor Says ★

Preferring Local Hospital Based on Solid Reasons

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here are some of the reasons I'd personally prefer to be treated in my home town community hospital, provided that it was accredited and my care was undertaken by a qualified diplomate, as previously defined.

Since the factor of time is of such great importance in the treatment of all acute accidents, surgical emergencies and the complications of childbirth, I'd feel obligated to show my loyalty to members of the staff in the event of a non-emergency condition.

If I were a patient in my community hospital, I could be visited by members of my family and I could, if necessary, conduct my affairs through associates, partners or a secretary.

At home, too, I should be under the direct supervision of my family doctor on whom, to quote Dr. Thomas Rardin, I would "lean for understanding, troubleshooting, guidance and information." I would rely on him to represent me in the event of a consultation, whether formal or informal. I would expect that he would interpret me to his colleagues, examine problems that might arise from my personal point of view rather than in terms of generalities. In other words, I would be presented as a person, not as a "case."

I would count on my doctor to keep my family and my associates informed as to my progress, to interpret the specialist's views and procedures to those most interested in my welfare.

And though financial considerations are of least significance, I would expect a noticeable saving in travel expense and other costs necessitated by away-from-home living.

I do not deny for a moment the advantages that might stem from care in a large out-of-town clinic.

Certainly for very complicated surgery I would be better off in the care of those whose devotion to a specialty within a specialty enabled them to achieve greater experience and more skill than the physician in the local community. And in many large clinics dedicated members of the staff often provide just as thoughtful and considerate care as doctor-friends. But these are special situations that arise infrequently.

I'm the sort who thinks there's no bed as comfortable as one's own, no meals as good as what's served at our table and—call it "corn" if you will—there's no place like home.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA) — Daily newspapers are still holding their own and even climbing a little as molders of political opinion, but television's influence is rising rapidly.

Introduction of the Kennedy-Nixon debates made TV dominant. But TV's gain came principally from radio's loss. Both radio and magazines had relatively minor influence on the election result.

These findings are the result of a scientifically selected poll of 1,500 U. S. adults conducted by a University of Michigan Survey Research Center team. The accuracy of such a small sampling among 68 million voters is, of course, open to question. But value of the survey is that similar polls were made in 1952 and 1956. So there is a continuity that reveals some trend in public opinion analysis.

THESE WERE THE key questions asked the 1,500 people polled:

"We're interested in finding out whether people paid much attention to the election campaign. Take newspapers for instance—did you read about the campaign in any newspaper? How about radio—did you listen to any speeches or discussions? How about television—did you watch any programs about the campaign? How about magazines — did you read about the campaign in magazines?" Here the the results:

	1952	1956	1960
Reading n'spapers	79%	69%	80%
Listening to radio	69	45	42
Watch'g television	53	74	87
Reading Magazines	40	31	41

To get some measure of the relative influence of the four media on voters, the poll takers then asked this question:

"OF ALL THE WAYS of following the campaign, which one would you say got the most information from — newspapers, radio, television or magazines?" Here are the results:

	1952	1956	1960
Newspapers	22%	24%	23%
Radio	27	11	5
Television	31	49	60
Magazines	5	5	4
Comb. of media	9	3	3
Did not follow campaign	6	8	5

To nail down the influence of the Kennedy-Nixon debates, the Michigan survey team of Ph.Ds. under Director Angus Campbell, Philip E. Converse, Warren E. Miller and Donald E. Stokes made an elaborate analysis which casts some doubts on the above findings.

They show, in brief, that 21 per cent of the people questioned did not see any of the debates on TV and that the previous opinions of 27 per cent were not changed by the debates. That washes out 48 per cent of the voters from TV influence.

Of the other 52 per cent who saw the TV debates, 32 per cent were pro-Kennedy and 18 per cent were pro-Nixon to begin with. So only 2 per cent were really influenced. And in this 2 per cent, there was no net gain for either candidate. Net impact was nil.

THIS CONCLUSION is supported by other questions asked in the survey to determine party loyalties in every national election from 1952 through 1960. It shows, in brief, that 27 per cent considered themselves Republicans in both 1952 and 1960; 47 per cent Democrats in 1952 as against 46 per cent in 1960. Practically no change.

The so-called independents, including independent Republicans and independent Democrats were 27 per cent in 1952, 23 per cent in 1960. The real independents professing no leanings toward either party increased from 5 to 8 per cent in the eight years. This indicates how relatively small is the independent vote which must be influenced to swing an election.

These findings bring out the point that most people vote their prejudices. Only the 2 per cent who were influenced by the TV debates, or the 8 per cent who were independents really weighed the issues and tried to come to an intelligent decision.

THESE MINORITIES are the people that all media of communication—newspapers, TV, radio and the magazines—have to aim at in trying to inform the public and mold opinion.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I have two books, some 650 pages each, called "Twenty Years of Congress," 1861-1881, by James G. Blaine. These 20 years of Congress were from Lincoln to Garfield, and with a review of the events which led to the Political Revolution of 1860. They were published in Norwich, Conn., in 1884 by The Henry Bill Publishing Co.

The print is excellent, every page is titled. Although these books are over 75 years old, I do not think my copy has ever been read through by anyone. Many of the pages look untouched and unturned and I do not have the ambition to read it through either, at this time. Will quote just a little from it as 1961 this year being the Civil War Anniversary.

This in part from page 552: "At the outbreak of hostilities the Government discovered that it had no Navy at command. The Secretary, Mr. Welles, found upon entering his office, but a single ship in a Northern port fitted to engage in aggressive operations. In the beginning of the great war, which was to be waged upon the seas, wherein the Government proposed to close Southern ports, and the South to destroy Northern commerce, the advantage was clearly with the South."

Mr. Hammond of South Carolina, made the following statement in the U. S. Senate, on March 4, 1858, three years before the inauguration of Mr. Lincoln. "Without firing a gun, without drawing a sword, should the North make war on us, we could bring the whole world to our feet. What would happen if no cotton was furnished for three years? . . . This is certain, England would topple headlong and carry the whole civilized world with her. No, you dare not make war on cotton. No Power on earth dares make war on cotton. Cotton is King."

James G. Blaine further states: "At the outbreak of the war the States in rebellion were able to manufacture but few of the articles indispensable to the ordinary life of her people. Cotton and tobacco were their only exports. For a supply of manufactures, the South had depended wholly upon its trade with the North and with Europe . . . As a striking evidence of the prosperity in the South, at the time it complained of oppression, the largest cotton crop, which had ever been grown was that of 1860. It numbered more than five million, two hundred thousand bales, most of it had found a ready market in Europe and North before the outbreak of the war."

The North was to strangle the South with a blockade and shut off her export of cotton and tobacco, but first the North had to create a navy. By the end of 1863 the North had 600 vessels of war, which were increased to 700 before the rebellion was subdued. Of the total, at least 75 were ironclad. One scientific engineer, constructed in less than 100 days an armored squadron of eight ships, in the aggregate of 5,000 tons burden, capable of steaming 9 knots per hour and destined for effective service upon the rivers of the Southwest. When the contractor, James B. Eads of St. Louis, agreed to furnish these steamers to the Government, the timber from which they were to be built was still standing in the forest and the machinery with which the armor was to be rolled was not constructed."

Naturally the price of cotton sold in Liverpool Dec. 1861 at 11d. per pound had risen in Dec. 1962 to 24d. and as a result half a million people in England were thrown out of work and reduced to beggary."

Executive System Is Blamed For Presidential Troubles

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 2 — Is there something wrong with the executive system in America? Or is there something wrong about electing to the Presidency of the United States a man who has had no executive training or intimate knowledge of the workings of the executive branch of the government? Or is there something wrong in having a transition period of several months between an outgoing and an incoming administration, thereby paralyzing executive planning for the immediate future and causing serious consequences like the ill-fated venture in Cuba?

Answers to these question are more important today than just how the United States is to help in Laos or what position is to be taken in Cuba. For if the executive office of the government of the United States isn't functioning efficiently, how can the Chief Executive be expected to act instantly and effectively at a time when a missile or a bomb may be launched suddenly from an enemy area?

It does little good to blame this or that group of advisers—those who had experience in the last Administration or the new set who have been brought in from academic circles. With all their earnestness and sincerity, most of the newcomers lack experience in, and first-hand knowledge of government operations at the top level.

Role of Committee

What's fundamentally wrong in the executive system. Various members of Congress are spending a lot of time complaining that they should have been "briefed" on the Administration's planning in Cuba. But it is the true role of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee—admittedly a partisan group with some publicity-seeking members always vocal — which needs to be studied, so that it can play a proper but not a medddling part in the field of foreign policy.

There are some members of Congress who feel they should make the nation's policy in world affairs. Others feel they should only advise on foreign policy. But, as a practical matter, no executive can be effective if he has to take into his confidence dozens of persons inside and outside of Congress who "leak" information regularly to favorite members of the press.

President Kennedy likes to listen to a variety of views and is to be commended for his patience and restraint. But no amount of conferencing with a lot of college professors can give him the maturity and experience he needs to run the high office to which he has been elected. He will be a much better President a year hence, because of actual experience in the office, than he is today. He will learn that too many academicians at his side can bring confusion instead of clarity, and that a diffusion of responsibility can only produce chaos and failure.

The founding fathers provided in the constitution for heads of departments who would be nominated by the President and confirmed with the advice and consent of the Senate. Cabinet government has worked successfully in Britain and in other English-speaking democracies. Although Mr. Kennedy's Cabinet got at the start a lot of publicity as an able body of men, it turns out that this same group is rarely consulted on the broad aspects of national and international policy and that they have become mere heads of their own departments.

What is needed here is a Cabinet Council that gives full time to counseling the President. The departments can be run by general managers, and the Cabinet Council could meet every day and give the President advice. If the present Cabinet members aren't qualified to be Presidential advisers on broad policy, there are plenty of able men in America who could serve in that capacity. But it is courting disaster to assume that academicians, who have little experience in the operations of government, can shunt the Secretary of State aside or that decisions can be made with one or two Cabinet officers without the chance for a larger group of mature men to sit down and work out a policy based on principles of enduring strength.

There's much that is wrong in the current operations of the executive system. The so-called Cuban fiasco is but the beginning of a series of failures unless President Kennedy gets rid of most of the "kibitzers" who are running around in circles in the new Administration and sets up at his side a Cabinet Council of men of stature to give full time every day to the task of helping him make national and international policies. He can't do it all himself.

Series Introduces School 5 Science Fair Top Exhibits

School 5 will be represented at the Third Annual Science Fair in New Paltz by Deborah Crespino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Crespino; Arthur Bruno, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bruno; and Richard C. Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bush. These three were declared winners in the intermediate grades during the local Science Fair in March.

Awarded First Prize

Deborah Crespino captured the first prize in the sixth grade with an outer space map. Debbie credited the idea for the winning project to a television space program she watched and to some encyclopedia research she did in connection with the program. She also reported that the material she used in her celestial display was easily obtained from neighborhood sources and downtown stores.

The fifth grade blue ribbon was awarded to 10-year-old Arthur Bruno. Arthur prepared an exhibition of prehistoric animals. He reported that the idea for the successful project came after he had read about prehistoric animals. Several books from the Kingston City Library also supplemented his information and background for the exhibit.

Nine-year-old Richard C. Bush garnered the fourth grade blue ribbon with an exhibition of human cells. Richard, youngest of the three boys, credited a discussion by one of his older brothers with sparking his project. He said that one of his brothers was discussing his class work and mentioned human cells. Richard then decided to take this area as a project for the Science Fair and set about gathering books and necessary material. Richard used a variety of materials from several sources. The chicken, plaster of paris and alcohol were supplied by local stores with the rest of the material found around the neighborhood.

To Compete May 12

The three winners at School 5 will join the other fourth, fifth and sixth grade first prize winners from the Kingston Schools at New Paltz on Friday, May 12. The Third Annual Mid-Hudson School Study Council Science Fair will be an all-day affair followed by a special awards program Friday evening. The Kingston (Consolidated) School District will be represented at the Hudson Valley competition by 51 exhibitors.

"Audiences over there do not like the subject of death to be treated humorously," the performer says. "One of the satires in my Twain program involves a hilarious story (at home) about a man who gets woven into a rug. This does not get good response abroad.

"I think it must be because of the last war. Also it may be the lack of love for the great exaggeration so common to American humorists. I note that other very exaggerated jokes do not get as big a reception overseas as they do at home."

Sacrifice Bid Will Pay Off

By OSWALD JACOBY

East and West have one of those holdings that delight rubber bridge players, but that cause duplicate players to tear their hair.

They can make all 13 tricks at either clubs, diamonds or no-trump and their non-vulnerable opponents have a nice save in spades against anything except seven no-trump.

The bidding started out the same way at both tables with a no-trump by West; two spades by North; six diamonds by East; and six spades by South.

At one table West looked at his two diamonds and put in a prompt double. Every one passed and North was set five tricks, for a 900 point loss.

	NORTH
	♠ K Q J 10 9 3
	♥ Q J 7
	♦ 8 2
WEST (D)		EAST
♠ A 8 7		♠ None
♥ A 6 5 3		♥ 4 2
♦ Q J		♦ A K 10 6 5 4 3
♣ K Q 10 8		♣ A J 7 2
	SOUTH
	♠ 6 5 4 2
	♥ K 10 9 8
	♦ 9 7
	♣ 5 4 3

East and West vulnerable
Opening lead—♦ K

At the other table West was made of sterner stuff. He decided that seven diamonds might well make and instead of doubling West passed and left the decision about seven to his partner.

East bid seven diamonds all right and when he got back to North he went to seven spades. East doubled that and picked up 1100 and a net profit of 200 points, or five IMPs for his side.

How could East and West have reached seven no-trump for the maximum? All East would have had to do would be to pass over North's seven spades. In that case West might have tried the no-trump grand slam, I say, might have tried because I rather feel that he would have settled for the sure profit and doubled.

Key Those Pet Projects To Your Mode of Living

A good many of you find relaxation in doing handwork: knitting, crochet, needlepoint and embroidery as well as painting and working in ceramics and tile. These are fascinating projects that can add individuality to your home if they are planned as part of an over-all scheme. But too many of us are prone to waste money and hours making things that have no affinity with anything we own or hope to own. How much better to think before plunging into a time-consuming project!

Dear Polly: My problem concerns what colors to use for the dining room in our new house. I want rugs, walls and draperies to go with my fine china (a delicate gray and blue), my pure white everyday china and my handsome embroidered wheat on chocolate brown tablecloth. (I spent two years making the cloth). I do lots of handwork and don't want room colors to clash with it. We like very contemporary things. What do you suggest?—Mrs. W. C. McG Jr.

Dear Mrs. McG.: You do have a problem in that your tablecloth and china have nothing in common. I simply can't picture them together, though both are lovely, I'm sure. Is it possible that the cloth can serve as a bedspread? (It has been done, you know). Your bedroom could then be decorated around it. Then play up your china in the dining room with white walls, gray-blue woodwork, curtains and rug.

Dear Polly: I am thinking of painting my bedroom walls cream or pale apricot. On one wall I will paint a mural of pink blossoms, brown stems, green leaves and some blue flowers. Furniture is brown walnut and I do not want to paint the pine woodwork. I would like an exquisite bedroom. What colors for walls, drapes, spread, rug and chair—Mrs. B. B.

Dear Mrs. B. B.: You certainly should paint that pine woodwork in an "exquisite" bedroom. Pale apricot walls, woodwork, bedspread and draw curtains (polished cotton or antique satin) would provide a nice background for the mural. Carpet or room-size rug could be brown or deep green with brown and apricot pin stripes or checked cotton taffeta for the chair. Play up your mural by planning the room so that it is the center of interest.

$Million Plan Smashed

Raiders Break Up Bogus Record Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — The four men sipped their drinks and talked excitedly with the recent acquaintance they knew as "Big Mike." They talked of money—big money—and of phonograph records.

The phone rang and "Big Mike" answered it. "Okay," he said into the mouthpiece.

Seconds later, the door to an adjacent room in the plush Plaza Hotel swung open and a combined force of New York City and Nassau County police burst in.

"I have an important announcement to make to you," "Big Mike" said to his surprised companions. "You are all under arrest. I am Inspector (John Lada) of the Nassau County police."

Thus an investigation of several months duration was culminated Tuesday night with the breaking up of what Nassau County Asst. Dist. Atty. William Cahn said was a large-scale counterfeit record ring.

Lada said the four men were discussing with him the final plans for a million-dollar, nationwide bogus record plan when raiding party entered the room.

Cahn said the four men were members of a ring which already had made at least $200,000 in another operation in which 50,000 bogus copies of a popular record were sold.

A fifth man—Henry Arak, of Brooklyn—had been taken into custody in Nassau County Tuesday as an accomplice in the earlier operation.

Milton Rabuse, 34, of Little Neck, Queens, a real estate operator.

Each was charged with two counts of larceny; violations of state trademark laws, and two counts of conspiracy.

agents, broke relations months ago, on their own.

Result of Invasion

The bearded one and his cohorts seem to be buying safety in exchange for turning Cuba over to the Communist party, lock, stock and barrel. This has been one direct result of the ill-timed invasion.

From now on, it can be assumed, the Communist party will run the show in Havana, with Fidel as front man, useful for whipping up support from anti-Yankee fanatics and the unlettered masses. But the Communists, with an ear for Kremlin admonitions, are likely to be cautious. They are not likely to put Khrushchev in the uncomfortable position of having to make the terrible decision—war or peace.

If the party entrenches itself Fidel will be in danger. It is a matter of Communist history.

Navy to Attempt Sea Launching of Manned Balloon

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—The Navy plans to make an attempt Thursday to launch a manned balloon from the deck of an aircraft carrier to a record altitude.

If weather conditions are favorable, the carrier Antietam will proceed to a point about 100 miles in the Gulf of Mexico from where the attempt is to be made.

Other tries will be made Friday or Saturday if the first attempt is washed out. Three such tries were blocked by the weather last weekend.

The balloon, fully inflated, contains 10 million cubic feet of helium. The plastic envelope has a surface area of about seven acres and it measures 411 feet at launch, or as tall as a 40-story building.

Cmdr. Malcolm Ross of Washington will pilot the balloon and Lt. Cmdr. Victor G. Prather, medical officer at the Bethesda, Md., Naval Medical Research Institute, will be the scientific observer.

The two men will go aloft in an open gondola of aluminum framing measuring 6 by 5 by 5 feet. They will wear pressurized suits.

The two will be exposed to temperatures ranging down to 65 degrees below zero.

The balloon is designed to reach an altitude of 116,000 feet, or 22 miles above the earth's surface. The present balloon record is 102,800 feet set by Air Force Capt. Joseph W. Kittinger Jr. in August 1960.

Row Over Zeus

Morse Gives Up As Army Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post said today Richard S. Morse has resigned as assistant secretary of the Army and director of Army research.

Morse, advocate of the Nike-Zeus antimissile missile, has been reported by friends as unhappy over the decision by the Kennedy administration not to put the Nike-Zeus into production, the newspaper said.

However, the Post added that Morse denied he was quitting because of disagreement over defense policies.

Morse, 49, a research and manufacturing executive, was appointed two years ago by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Post said John H. Rubel, deputy director of defense research and engineering, is expected to be named to succeed Morse.

No Fixed Deadline

In this circumstance, officials said, there is no decision yet on whether or when the United States should resume testing of nuclear weapons. Nor is there any firmly fixed deadline so far as the United States is concerned for the talks at Geneva, assuming no progress is made.

Since the Geneva negotiations first began late in 1958, there has been an informal moratorium on all nuclear weapons testing by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

Dean is scheduled to rejoin the conference next week, following further detailed conferences in the State Department and another meeting with the President. He returned to Washington last weekend.

Emphasis on Geneva

A White House spokesman said following the 75-minute security session that the emphasis was on the Geneva talks.

Officials who attended the session were not listed. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara are regular members along with the President and vice president. It was announced that another council meeting will be held Friday.

Employers Make Threat to Close Construction Jobs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Negotiations in a wide-ranging construction strike resume today under an employers' threat to shut down all but highway projects unless a contract agreement is reached.

The Eastern New York Construction Employers Association threatened Tuesday to close the projects at 4:30 p.m. unless a strike by Local 106 of the Operating Engineers Union was settled.

The engineers and two plumbing union locals, Albany 7 and Troy 61, struck Monday when their contracts expired.

The striking unions claim approximately 2,500 members, but other unions have observed picket lines and about 10,000 workers are idled.

Some of Terms

The association, which represents employers in an area west to Utica and from Ulster and Dutchess counties to Glens Falls, has said the engineers were asking for pay increases ranging from 96 cents to $1.11 per hour. Engineers now are paid $3.24½ to $4.28½ per hour.

The association also said it would not agree to an engineers' proposal to cut the work week from 40 to 35 hours.

A union spokesman termed the employers' proposal for a 15-cent-an-hour boost over two years "ridiculous" and "the lowest made to any of the trades at this stage of the negotiations.

While the association's threat of closure affects only projects in its area, the engineers' local's jurisdiction extends into an area covered by the Northern New York Building Trades Employers Association.

President James McKenna of the Eastern New York employers, told reporters Tuesday that the shutdown would "put more pressure on unions reluctant to sign" contract renewals. "If you don't lick them now, you're dead," he said.

Will Set Pattern

The results of the negotiations with the engineers will probably set a pattern for agreements with about 12 other building-trades unions.

The major projects affected include a high school in Gloversville, and a Hospital in Saratoga Springs.

Claim Invasion Chief in Custody

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Capt. Manuel Artime, leader of the unsuccessful invasion of Cuba two weeks ago, was captured today, Radio Havana announced.

Artime had been hiding in the swamps of the Bay of Cochinos awaiting an opportunity to flee to the United States, the announcement said. The broadcast accused Artime of having fled Cuba to join the exile army with funds from an agricultural cooperative.

Artime was a member of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's rebel army in the successful revolution against President Fulgencio Batista. Castro later claimed that Artime was with his forces for a brief period of days.

The bearded Artime told newsmen in Mexico City last year that he was a representative at Manzanillo of the National Agrarian Reform Institute, Castro's agency administering the land redistribution program.

He said he fled Cuba after hearing an order had been issued for his execution.

Artime also said Castro wanted to establish a Tito type of communism, independent of Russia.

Reports from Cuba last week said Artime was not killed in the invasion and said the counterrevolutionary leader was at large in the Escambray Bay of Cochinos area.

Personal Favor on $100 Ticket Sale For Kennedy Dinner Embarrasses Udall

By JACK BELL

Udall stood admittedly embarrassed today by exposure of an effort of a friend—as a "personal favor" to the secretary—to sell to representatives of the oil and gas industry tickets to a $100-a-plate May 27 dinner honoring President Kennedy.

Because his department administers industry programs, Udall said he was appalled, flabbergasted and embarrassed when a letter written by J. K. Evans of the Asiatic Petroleum Co. came to his attention.

Evans said Udall was "a friend of long standing" and had asked him to help the Cabinet member dispose of a "very sizable quota" of tickets for the dinner to raise party funds and to observe Kennedy's birthday, which comes two days later.

Republicans who have been shooting at Udall almost since he took office in January, generally were content to let the Cabinet member extricate himself as best he could from this situation.

Demands Firing

But Rep. William E. Miller of New York, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign, demanded that Kennedy fire Udall. Miller said the letter amounted to Udall's "black-jacking" of the oil and gas industry.

Udall conceded he had asked Evans to sell a few dinner tickets but denied categorically that he had suggested his friend solicit oil and gas industry officials. He said he told Evans to withdraw the letter.

Assistant White House news secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said he felt confident Kennedy had not been in touch with Udall about the letter.

Explains Memo

Orren Beaty, Udall's assistant, meantime was busy explaining why he wrote a memo to Interior Department officials telling them to notify Lawrence O'Brien in the White House 48 hours ahead of any announcement of contract awards. O'Brien, one of President Kennedy's advisers, handles patronage matters.

Beaty said it was a "routine practice to notify the White House and interested members of Congress" when the department had some news it thought was worth cheering about. In his memo, Beaty said "the secretary has asked me to follow through on this."

Bingo Probe Drops 2 Veterans' Posts

NEW YORK (AP) — The State Investigation Commission's public hearing on bingo operations has resulted in the suspension of two more veterans' posts.

Lester G. Spear, executive director of the American Veterans of World War II (AMVETS), announced Tuesday the suspension of the University Post 481, Ansonia Hotel, Manhattan; and Post 52, Tuckahoe, N.Y.

He said the suspensions resulted from the posts' involvement with convicted swindler William P. Buckner.

AMVETS Face Action

Last week, the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) suspended three of 155 chapters for the same reason.

Spear promised that "appropriate action" will be taken against the two AMVETS posts at the group's annual convention next month at Binghamton.

In another development at the commission's hearing Tuesday, William H. Gray Jr., city clerk of Yonkers, was accused of accepting $500 from Buckner to help in Buckner's bingo operations.

Gray testified Buckner had offered him $250 a month to expedite two bingo applications and that he had rejected the offer.

Two witnesses admitted the acceptance of payments in connection with bingo operations.

Albert Einstein, who resigned in January as an investigator for the State Lottery Control Commission, said he received $350 last year from Carl S. Lowenthal, a lawyer who was counsel for Pubplay Inc., a bingo corporation controlled by Buckner.

He also testified he had received $200 from two veterans' posts that ran bingo games.

Lowenthal, who had been subpoenaed to testify yesterday, notified the commission he could not make an appearance because he had entered a Manhasset hospital with a heart ailment.

Says Some From Clergy

John T. Bartley, who was suspended last week as an investigator for lottery commission, testified that he received $30 last year from a veterans' post in Yonkers and $160 from James Farley, former manager of the Virga Bingo Supply Co. of Valley Stream.

He said the money had been paid by Farley for getting bingo supply customers. Bartley said he had received many bribe offers, "some of them from clergymen."

Killian Named As Monitor of U.S. Intelligence

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy has selected Dr. James R. Killian Jr. to lead the permanent presidential board that monitors the government's foreign intelligence activities, the New York Times said today.

Killian is chairman of the Corporation of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A Washington dispatch to the Times, reporting the selection of Killian, said it is the latest of a number of steps taken by Kennedy to restore confidence in the intelligence services after the recent unsuccessful attempt to set off a counter-revolution in Cuba.

The story said Kennedy had picked Killian to be chairman of the President's Board of Consultants on Foreign Intelligence Activities. This board was set up by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to keep watch over the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and all other agencies engaged in foreign intelligence. Killian was the board's first chairman.

Killian now will succeed the man who succeeded him as chairman, Gen. John E. Hull (ret.), former commander of U. S. forces in the Far East and president of the Manufacturing Chemists Association.

Forgotten, He Intimates

"It seems to me," said Perry, "when anything happens in Kingston, we don't get it in the Fifth Ward.

Council President Kaye referred the Perry complaint to City Clerk Raymond A. McAndrew and Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly, who are to communicate with Kingston Cablevision. A recent report noted that another complaint against the latter came from TV dealers, who claim an ordinance violation through a program instituted at the Benedictine Hospital.

A full stop sign was authorized for Crane and East Union Street after Mayor Edwin F. Radel suggested such action. The mayor recalled three recent accidents at the intersection, and said he had advised Alderman Hastings, traffic committee chairman, of the need for effective action there.

Says He Asked 5 Times

Perry recalled submitting five resolutions asking for similar action and said he had also requested a traffic light there. He had a resolution on it last night.

Two women of his ward, Perry said, stopped him on the street, and told him that something was going to be done at the intersection and "the Democrats" were to do it. "Why didn't we get action before, when I asked for it?" he asked. "I want the people to know that they can't get action over night on these things."

Hastings noted there had been previous confusion in the area resulting from setting up signs at the wrong corners, and indicated this might have something to do with delayed action.

Streets Never Worse: Myers

Alderman Clark W. Myers (R) Second Ward, wanted to know why holes in several streets in his ward have not been filled. Madison Avenue was in the worst condition, he said, and he felt that even though weather conditions have not been at their very best recently, something should be done.

Joseph F. Carroll Jr., (R) 11th Ward, commended the traffic committee and city officials involved for lessening danger at the intersection of Fair and Wall Streets, the Boulevard and Greenkill Avenue, through construction of an island pattern.

The alderman also said he had been informed in a letter from Franklin H. Hazard, assistant superintendent of schools, that an education board committee was considering a drainage problem on the George Washington School property. Conditions there now lead to flooding of a Washington Avenue area.

Francis R. Koenig, (D) Ninth Ward, also noted that an education board committee is also considering solution of traffic and parking problems involving streets in the MJM and high school areas.

A zoning change petition asking a business designation for 12 and 14 Pearl Street, and filed by Attorney Norman Kellar and Tullia P. Kellar, was referred to the laws and rules committee. The building on the former Dr. Larkin property, is to house professional offices.

Going to Conferences

Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly, City Clerk Raymond A. McAndrew and Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye were granted permission to attend the annual Conference of Mayors June 18, 19 and 20 at Kiamesha Lake.

Dr. Herbert Derman, local laboratory director, and Dr. James Kelly, associate director, were authorized to attend a symposium on antibiotics assay methods at Rochester June 9. They and five members of the technical staff were authorized to attend a meeting of the New York State Association of Public Health Laboratories in Schenectady May 18 and 19.

Miss Marcia Clark, bacteriologist, was authorized to attend a seminar at the State Laboratory Albany, on fluorescent antibody technique for detection of hemolytic streptococcus. It will be held June 12 through 16.

A resolution by Alderman Carroll, seconded by Myers, asked that dead-end sign be placed on Arlmont Street, a foot beyond Hillsworth Avenue, to prevent unnecessary turning around at the dead end of the street.

Alderman Myers asked for two hour parking 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on the south side of Teller Street, beginning at Tietjen Avenue, and in a westerly direction to the end of the street. He asked for the same on the southwest side of Westrum Street, from Albany Avenue, southeast to Claredon Avenue.

Charges Dismissed

Charges of unlawful intrusion against two of five youths who were charged recently with having entered a vacant East Chester Street house without permission were dismissed in City Court Tuesday night. The charges were dropped against Richard Harris, 18, of 81 Foxhall Avenue, and Arthur Short, 17, of 141 Chambers Street. Two of the others involved, police said were 14 and the other 15 years old. Attorney Thomas Saccoman appeared for Short.

Must Make Good For Upset Tree, Held on 3 Counts

A young man, who, police said, went berserk and damaged two of the evergreens which enhance the uptown business district, was sentenced today in city court on three charges.

Thomas Foley, 25, of 96 Stockton Street, Springfield, Mass., was charged with malicious mischief, resisting arrest and public intoxication.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein ordered that he must make restitution for the trees, one of which had been pushed over and broken, and he added a suspended sentence of 30 days on the malicious mischief count. Foley was also placed on probation for a period not to exceed three years, and this, the judge indicated, could end early, if he completes restitution. The trees cost $22 each.

The judge gave him a choice of paying a $50 fine or spending 25 days in jail on the charge of resisting arrest, and five days on the public intoxication charge. The fine was not immediately paid, but the defendant indicated he would make arrangements to get the money for the fine and for restitution. It was reported this afternoon that the latter had been made.

A police report at 9:20 p. m., noted that Officer Frank Stip had called for a patrol car and Officers Edward Edwards and Thomas Coffey were dispatched to Fair Street. Bail of $1,000 was not posted and Foley spent the night in jail.

Judge Klein put over to Saturday, hearing on a third-degree assault charge against George Ashley, of 5 West Strand. He was arrested Tuesday night on complaint of Edward Johnson, of 5 West Strand. Attorney Francis Martocci represents Ashley.

KidnapingCharge On Cossaboom Is Probed by Jury

A kidnaping charge against Robert G. Cossaboom, 32, who had been residing in Hartford, Conn., was being investigated by the Ulster County grand jury today.

Cossaboom was arrested at Hartford early in April on a warrant charging him with kidnaping his 14-year-old niece, Rosalie Orvis from the home of her mother, Mrs. Estella Boyer in Cottekill.

It was alleged the girl was taken from her home in the early morning of March 26. The warrant for his arrest was issued by Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky of the Town of Rosendale.

A former resident of this area, Cossaboom has a wife and children residing in this area but allegedly has been separated from them since last January.

The matter was investigated by District Attorney David W. Corwin, Assistant District Attorney Harry Gold and Ulster County Investigator Arthur H. Brown. Cossaboom was later returned to the Ulster County jail.

Capt. Thomas J. Hankard of the Hartford police said Cossaboom was arrested with his niece at Hartford on April 3 after he had been followed from a post-office sub-station where he had picked up mail. Hartford police said Cossaboom told them he had not kidnaped the girl, that she had willingly accompanied him to Hartford after he had found her hiding in the back seat of his car when he left Kingston several days prior.

Back JFK, But . . .

GOP Says Acheson Appeasers Return With Soft Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) —Republican leaders have pledged support for the Kennedy administration in matters affecting world peace. But almost simultaneously, GOP House members attacked the President for alleged appeasement in foreign policy.

Commenting on the failure of the Cuban invasion, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in Greenville, S.C., he doesn't think Republicans should publicly criticize the Kennedy administration for "mistakes which have hurt our world position."

But in a statement summarizing "the first 100 days of the Kennedy administration, the House GOP Policy Committee said:

"Many of the old 'Acheson appeasers' have reappeared on the scene, still befogged by the notion that softness is the best reply to Soviet aggression. One of the more disquieting aspects of this trend toward appeasement has been the tendency of President Kennedy to make ringing declarations concerning our determination to resist Communist aggression while hovering in the wings behind him are the appeasers busily plotting the next surrender."

And while House Republicans attacked Kennedy, the Republican leaders in Congress, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, pledged support to the President.

Explaining the GOP position to the National Press Club, Dirksen said: "Our first responsibility is to get all the facts available and to insist upon consultation with the administration.

"But when the irretrievable decision has been made in a world filled with fever and madness it becomes the responsibility of the minority to uphold the hand of the President and make it manifest to all the world that this is a united country."

However, Halleck said that on the domestic front, Republicans have "a responsibility to speak for the millions of good Americans who supported Vice President Nixon in the last election."

Urban Hearing

Alderman Woerner, in offering the resolution dealing with the Community College, emphasized that the aldermen were representatives of a city of some 30,000 residents. Alderman John P. Heitzman (D) 12th Ward, seconded the resolution.

Woerner also stressed that Kingston is the county seat, and he felt the aldermen should be on record as favoring location of the college in or near the city. It is, he felt, "the only logical area." He asked that the Board of Supervisors, which recently left to a referendum decision on the college proposal, be notified of the council's sentiment.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The number of Pittsburgh families receiving free government food has increased about 80 per cent since last fall, reports William Clair, city supplies director.

Clair said Tuesday about 25,000 families, or roughly 80,000 persons, are now on the rolls.

Be Patient if Big Volume Brings Clerical Delays

Q) "I would like to know if there is any set time between the sale of common stock and the arrival of the check from the broker who holds the certificates."—H. S.

A) If your sale is made "regular way," which is the normal procedure, your broker should mail you a check on the fourth business day following the date of your transaction. Saturdays and Sundays are excluded.

For example, if you sell on Monday, your payment should be mailed Friday. If your transaction is completed on Friday, a check should be sent to you on the following Thursday. You must of course allow a day or two for the check to reach you.

Any delay in getting your money after the sixth business day following sale means there has been an error somewhere along the line. And if an error has been made, be as patient and understanding as you can. Big volume trading this year has pushed the clerical workers in the brokerage offices almost to the limit of their endurances.

Q) "What do you think of buying American Photocopy and Hershey Chocolate at today's prices?"—R. A.

A) At today's quotations, I would say that the stocks you ask about represent two of the better values available. Both have had rapid price rises but seem likely to sell higher.

American Photocopy's profits are benefitting strongly from the repeat nature of the office copying business, so earnings and dividends have gone up consistently. The shares, recently split, are selling around 31 times 1960 earnings—a relatively fair price-to-earnings ratio for such a strongly growing situation. I would buy them for continued rapid growth.

Hershey Chocolate, a split candidate, is being helped by lower cocoa prices. Dividends have been raised in each of the last six years. I would buy Hershey for moderate growth and steady income.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Banker Pays . . .

where Winters is an officer. Three years ago, the uncle told a female, would-be bankrobber who made a "bomb" threat:

"Get out of here. We haven't time for that."

Winters was described as a quiet man, a "loner," and a perfectionist who is at the bank every day, holidays and weekends included. The institution is the last small independent bank in the county.

Winters joined the bank after he was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, at 19.

He served as village clerk and treasurer of Richmondville for 20 years.

Winters owns a 1951-model car with only 6,000 miles on its speedometer. But he has no license.

"He never took the driver's test," a friend explained. "He always has someone drive him if ever he wants to go anywhere."

Each year more families are hit by fast-mounting hospital bills. Ambulance, X-rays, laboratory tests, surgery, transfusions, therapeutic equipment and medication — added to daily hospital care — can quickly wipe out savings . . . create a debt it will take years to pay.

Civil Air Patrol To Participate in First Aid Course

Members of Kingston Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol will participate in the first aid course conducted by the American Red Cross beginning Wednesday 7:30 p. m. in the City Court Room, City Hall.

No uniforms will be worn for these training sessions, Sidney Lane, squadron commander said today. Since one of the main purposes of the CAP is search and rescue, a basic knowledge of first aid is very essential for all members, he said. All members are expected to take the course, and other interested persons are also invited to attend.

Lane said all squadron members have been invited to attend a concert and dance at the Municipal Auditorium Thursday on the occasion of the opening of the new Air Force Recruiting Office at 597 Broadway. The concert and dance will be given by the 64th Air Division Band from Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh.

On Friday and Saturday cadets of the squadron acted as guards at the emergency operating center in the Court House, checking identification cards for those wishing to enter the control center. They also assisted at the communications center in City Hall and at the NAWAS installation on Golden Hill. Several senior members of the squadron also assisted where needed.

The squadron was invited by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to be a part of their "Operation Survival" show on Saturday at the parking lot of Kingston High School Major Lane said his exhibit contained the squadron ambulance and communications equipment.

Oklahoma's Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge is a living museum of America's pioneer past. Here buffalo still roam the ranges, along with antelope, deer and longhorns. Since the animals may charge without provocation, signs along the highway warn visitors against leaving the road.

Benedictine Medical Staff Holds Its Annual Meeting

The annual dinner meeting of the medical staff of the Benedictine Hospital was held Tuesday evening, April 25, at the hospital. Also present was the Right Rev. Msgr. Daniel Shea, Sister Berenice, Sister Callista and Edwin B. Bolz, associate administrator.

The following staff officers and clinical departmental heads were named: Dr. Emil S. Goodyear, president; Dr. Robert A. McCaig, vice president; Dr. John A. Cooke Jr., secretary-treasurer; Dr. John A. Olivet, department head of medicine; Dr. B. J. Dutto, department head of general practice; Dr. John A. Cooke Jr., department head of surgery; Dr. Michael F. Diacovo, department head of ob-gyn-pediatrics.

Dr. Goodyear, chairman of the meeting, reviewed the medical staff activity for the past year and defined the tasks for the staff in future years. He said that Monsignor Martin Drury is greatly missed. He also wished a speedy recovery to Dr. William Bush, who is incapacitated at this time and was unable to attend the meeting. Dr. Goodyear concluded that "as members of the medical staff of the Benedictine Hospital we will continue the high standards of medical care with a view to always doing what is best for the patient."

Dr. Cooke, Dr. Dutto and Dr. Olivet reported for their departments and reviewed the growing trends indicated by the experience of 1960. Dr. Olivet observed that an analysis of the discharges in the medical department indicated an interesting trend. He said "respiratory infections for the year totaled 215, with various forms of pneumonia comprising 60 per cent of these. With these respiratory infections comprising over 11 per cent of hospital admissions, there may be some indication of the beginning downfall of the antibiotics as the panacea of all respiratory infections."

Sister Callista reporting for the School of Nursing stated "during the past years the educational program of the Benedictine Hospital has endeavored according to the philosophy of the school to provide for the total development of the student as a person who exemplified the spiritual and moral virtues of true womanhood, and assist her in acquiring knowledge and skills based on scientific principles for an understanding of the preventive, curative and rehabilitative aspects of nursing care."

Sister Berenice reported the overall observations of the administration. She said, "In 1952 when the south wing was opened, we were confident of having provided hospital space and facilities to satisfy all our needs for some time. This, however, was impossible when we are living in an era of constant growth. The development of the many new industries and the building of homes in these vicinities are largely responsible for our crowded hospitals. The public, too, is now more aware that new medical knowledge and improved medical treatment have extended life's span. Increased use of Blue Cross and other hospital insurances have been another factor in the use of hospital facilities. Consequently, our hospital is filled to capacity most of the time.

"Shortly after Mr. Bolz came to the Benedictine Hospital as associate administrator, he undertook and directed several major changes, both structural and procedural, particularly in the old section of the building. Several of these changes have been completed and are successful. The new post operative recovery room for example will be a great improvement when completed within the next few weeks.

"For the past year's services we express our sincere gratitude to the members of the medical staff for their assistance and direction in professional matters; to the members of the nursing profession for their unselfish service and loyalty; to the lay advisory board for their interest and cooperation; to the Ladies' Auxiliary for their generous helpfulness and cooperation, and finally to all our employes whose loyal and faithful service has contributed so greatly in the quality of care rendered to our patients.

"After having had such a remarkable friend and leader as the Right Rev. Msgr. Drury for so many years, we were deeply grieved at his passing. We are delighted, however, by the appointment of the Right Rev. Msgr. Daniel Shea as pastor at St. Mary's Church and dean of Ulster County."

Sister Berenice concluded "We are conscious of our many appeals over the years and of the great interest and generosity of all our friends irrespective of race, color or creed throughout Kingston and all Ulster County. This magnificent response revealed that the success of the campaigns was not due merely to a civic and public duty well rendered, but that it revealed a beautiful background of a spirit of liberality, broadmindedness and helpfulness rarely equalled in any community."

Mr. Bolz, the associate administrator, then outlined the statistical and financial report for the hospital for the year of 1960. These reports emphasized the increased activity at the hospital and the continuing need for support of all parties concerned with the operation of the hospital.

He stated that "as can be readily seen from the reports of activity, hospital progress can only be accomplished by a mutual understanding and united effort on the part of the governing board, lay advisory board, medical staff, hospital employes and the administration.

He concluded his report stating "the hospital which is a consolidation of efforts of the above parties has but one purpose, the care of the sick with no regard to the financial status of the patient. We are in a partnership in which each party to the agreement assumes a definite obligation to each other and the community which we serve."

An average of 1,500 persons desert New York City each week to make their homes in the suburbs.

Sam — I married her.

An insurance agent was trying to convince a prospective customer of the merits of life insurance. He kept right at him. At one stage of the battle the agent used this argument:

Agent — Why, insurance is the greatest thing in the world. No man should be without it. I even carry a $50,000 policy payable to my wife.

A man who was traveling on horseback in the Ozark Mountains stopped before a typical Arkansas farmhouse to inquire the way. After giving directions the mountaineer asked, What's the news? as he leaned his lank frame against the fence and pulled his long beard thoughtfully.

On finding that what had become a part of history was news to him, the traveler asked why he did not take some weekly or monthly periodical that he might keep in touch with the world at large.

Wal, said the old native, when my pa died nine years ago he left me a stack of newspapers that high—indicating a height of about four feet—and I ain't done reading of 'em yet.

Then there's the story of the two pessimists who met at a party and shook heads.

Kingston Chosen As Testing Area For Beauty Soaps

NEW YORK, May 3—Because Kingston has "nearly ideal communications and retail outlets," it has been chosen by the Colgate Palmolive Company as one of the key testing areas for a a major development in beauty soaps.

Robert Angelus, the company's associate general products manager, says that Kingston is one of the first areas in which the new soap, "Choice," will be marketed. Experience in selling the new product here will be used in planning national sales strategy when the soap is sold throughout the country.

"Choice is the first soap ever made in three different formulas, to meet the individual needs of dry, normal and oily skin." Angelus explained. "Because Kingston is like a miniature U. S. in its economic and social structure, it is ideal for consumer information and product testing."

The new soap, one of the most important scientifice developments in the history of the industry, was created after years of research. It is manufactured in three "skin-typed" formulas and colors, pink "Choice" for dry skin, white "Choice" for normal skin and aqua "Choice" for oily skin. It is available in both regural and bath sizes, in special foil packaging to match the soap colors.

Angelus said the product will be sold through supermarkets, drug stores and department stores in the biggest advertising and promotional campaign ever given a soap in this area.

The campaign will feature newspaper ads in color, TV magazines, and full coverage of sales promotion aids such as window banners and point of sale display in both food and drug outlets. Special direct mail literature will be sent to consumers featuring "cents-off" coupons, and other mailings are being distributed to all doctors, dermatologists, allergists and pediatricians in the area.

The product, developed under the guidance of dermatologists in the company's laboratories, is said to represent a major advance in the beauty soap market. It can be used by every member of a family, from baby to grandparents, yet meets the personal needs of each consumer's individual skin problems.

Panel studies by the company showed that 85 yer cent of people can correctly identify their own skin type, and further, these studies have shown that nine out of 10 women desire a soap that suits their individual needs.

Both President, Top Aides Found at Fault

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

By his own actions he has added to his problem and made it extra painful. He must do two things, both intimately related for success:

1. He must, because of the narrow election margin, win broad popular support and confidence.

2. To win it, he must make decisions which are right in the sense that they succeed and have public approval.

Two Basic Mistakes

After only three months in office, with his popularity mounting, he permitted the Cuban invasion which became a disaster.

It shook confidence in his judgment. A president so new in office can't afford many big mistakes. The Cuban affair was a big one.

Now he must overcome this setback and, as a result of it, work even harder at winning confidence in himself. This makes his total job that much tougher.

There were two basic mistakes on Cuba:

1. The aides upon whom he had to depend in the Cuban affair did a sloppy, poorly thought-out and miserably executed job.

2. Kennedy himself did nothing to prepare public opinion for the Cuban operation, which was a drastic step in American foreign policy.

Shoulders Blame

He could have given an explanation on TV, but he didn't. He could have done more at his news conferences, but he didn't do that, either.

He did issue a lengthy, so-called "white paper" denouncing Communist influence in Cuba. This was good for specialists but probably too long and detailed for most newspaper readers.

The whole bungled Cuban adventure raised a natural question: If a relatively small matter like this can be so thoroughly botched up, what can we expect in a critical situation with a first-rate power like Russia?

The simple fact was the United States was involved. The Kennedy administration even made hash in its explanations of what went wrong.

The administration has never made a public explanation. Various members of it gave various explanations which not only could not be attributed to them directly but in some instances contradicted one another.

No Explanations

But, since he seems to have no intention of revealing any more than is already known, and what is known is confusing, he will have to bear full responsibility.

Most likely this one episode by itself will recede in public memory and, by careful leadership in the months ahead, Kennedy may come out of this without bad damage.

Even so, he now has to be extra careful about every move he makes, at home or abroad.

If his popularity dips because of lessened confidence in him, his troubles with Congress will multiply until his leadership at home is truly jeopardized.

If he makes any more mistakes in foreign affairs the American allies' confidence will be shaken and the self-confidence of communism in dealing with him will be infinitely, perhaps even dangerously, increased.

COMPARISON—By superimposing Laos on several Midwest states (Newsmap), the size of the crisis-ridden Asiatic kingdom is illustrated. Laos has an area of 89,000 square miles, compared with Minnesota's 84,068.

Says Cuba Operation Mistake

Fulbright Lays Blame On White House, Top Agencies for Fiasco

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., says he believes the ill-fated Cuban invasion was a blunder for which the White House and several other agencies must share responsibility.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, commented Tuesday after his committee questioned top officials of the State Department and the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

He said a decision would be made later whether to call military advisers before either the full committee or the Latin American Affairs subcommittee.

"Insofar as I'm concerned, I know all I want to know," Fulbright told reporters after a four-hour briefing by Allen W. Dulles, director of the super-secret CIA, and Richard M. Bissell Jr., Dulles' deputy director for plans who reportedly played a major role in the CIA's part in the invasion by Cuban exiles.

Fulbright said the testimony confirmed his prior conviction that "the operation as a whole was a mistake" for which the White House, the Defense Department, the CIA and the State Department share "a collective responsibility."

Fulbright is known to have warned the administration against it when he learned of the planned invasion.

The senator said that Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who briefed the committee Monday, will return this afternoon for a further briefing on the world situation, including the crisis in Laos and current developments in Cuba.

One member of Fulbright's committee, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, reported that the invasion by the Cuban exiles was marked by "poorly conceived military planning."

"A dual mistake was made," Church told newsmen. "Communism can not be shot down in Latin America; it must be shown up, and this should be the object of our policy.

"But when a resort to arms was taken in Cuba, then the error was compounded by allowing a corporal's guard to attempt an army's work."

Approve Restoration

Congress and the Maryland and Delaware legislatures have passed acts approving restoration of the Mason-Dixon Line markers through those two states.

Beef Cattle Trade Termed As Big Business in Area

(Editors: While New York State is widely known for its dairy industry, beef cattle are big business in the Hudson Valley. The story of that rich investment is told here in an enterprise project by the Poughkeepsie Journal.)

By EDWIN H. ROZELL
Poughkeepsie Journal

Breeding beef animals is big business in the rolling hills of Dutchess and nearby counties along the Hudson River. Steak-production has attracted bankers, industrialists, political leaders, movie stars and plain dirt farmers.

Sparkplug of Group

Among them is Myron Fuerst of Rhinebeck, a partner in a New York City importing firm and sparkplug of an informal aberdeen angus breeders' group.

"We have the right climate for beef cattle, and excellent pasture lands," Fuerst explained. "We are close to New York, making it easy for foreign buyers to visit our farms. We started with good foundation stock and our breeders have a boundless enthusiasm for improving breeds."

"There is no question that our herds are the best in the country," he added. "At one time or another we have won every major award in the United States at cattle shows and at Palermo, the largest show in Argentina.

"Within the last 12 months, we have shipped stock to most of the cattle-breeding states, to the Argentine, New Zealand, Canada, Scotland and England."

Dutchess County has 40 farms that breed beef cattle, 10 operated by part-time farmers. Thirteen others combine beef and dairy herds. There are about 8,000 beef and 22,000 dairy animals in the county.

Pine Plains Has Largest

The largest operation is 2,500-acre Briarcliff Farms at Pine Plains. There, the aberdeen angus, hereford and shorthorn herds of George W. Brown, president of Brown Oil and Chemical Co., Staten Island, fluctuate between 2,500 and 5,000 head.

As the home of high-quality beef cattle, Dutchess has completed a cycle that began with the Civil War, a century ago. Because of its nearness to New York City, the county became a beef-breeding center whose farms supplied much of the meat needs of the Union Army. Herds were driven to New York or shipped down the Hudson.

At that time, ancestors of Oakleigh L. Thorne, chairman of the Corporation Trust Co. of New York and a director of the New York Bontanical Garden, owned some of the finest shorthorns in the country. It was Thorne's grandfather, Oakleigh Thorne, who founded Dutchess' modern beef industry at Briarcliff in 1918. He was convinced that angus was the coming breed, best adapted to the area's lush pastures, wealth of running water, shade trees and cold winters. Oakleigh L. Thorne is carrying on the breeding project at Millbrook.

Next came Frederick H. Bontecou, wealthy horseman, former state senator and candidate for lieutenant governor when Thomas E. Dewey ran unsuccessfully for governor in 1938. When Bontecou died two years ago, his herd was valued at $330,000. His son, Jay, is carrying on and expanding.

Former U.S. Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. of Clove Creek Farm, Poughquag, and Joseph Curran, head of the National Maritime Union, raise herefords.

Actor James Cagney, whose 744-acre farm formerly was owned by singer Lanny Ross, crossbreeds scottish highlanders, black angus and herefords. He hopes to produce a marbleized, or tenderized, beef through cross-breeding.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

ARE AMERICANS PRODIGAL?

This is the question asked by duPont's house organ, BETTER LIVING. It says: "Does the average American wallow in personal luxury while ignoring public needs? Do his schools crumble and hospitals decay while he revels in a kind of immoral fairyland—sipping champagne, nibbling roast quail and tossing the dark meat to his diamond-collared dog?"

E. F. Hutton

Various eggheads from Eastern colleges are talking big about "private affluence versus public poverty"; and, sad to say, the President has surrounded himself with members of the tribe.

One of them wrote a book called THE AFFLUENT SOCIETY, and has been rewarded with an ambassadorship. However, I doubt that the President believes all their stuff, as they contradict his statement that "17,000,000 Americans go to bed hungry every night." This is not true either, but it does help to balance off the woeful cry that we wallow in luxury.

The facts are, as duPont economists point out, that in the decade 1950-1960, our annual consumer spending went up 69%, but that our non-defense Government spending went up 116%.

In short, Americans were devoting an ever-greater share of their total income to the "neglected" public sector of the economy than to their personal comforts or luxuries.

If the Federal Government would stop raising taxes on incomes, gasoline, postage, etc., they would spend even more on their schools, parks, playgrounds, hospitals, etc.

Upstate Raiders Upset Officials

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Mayor Frank A. Sedita, candidate for re-election, has declined to discuss a pre-dawn raid on a house of prostitution, other than to say he had not led the raid.

"I don't want to discuss it, but I led no raid," he said Tuesday when asked for comment.

The raid, according to reports circulating at police headquarters, upset both the mayor and top police officials, who felt the city was without vice on such a scale since a recent crack-down.

No charges were made and police would not discuss the raid.

A crack-down on vice and gambling and a reorganization of police followed a probe last year by the State Investigation Commission. The commission had said that vice and gambling flourished openly here.

Sedita, a Democrat, said last week he would seek re-election to a second four-year term in the $20,000-a-year post, if the party wanted him.

Oswego Company To Expand Work

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP)—The S.H. Pomeroy Co. of Stamford, Conn., predicts employment will be increased at the Fitzgibbons Boiler Co., which Pomeroy has purchased.

Rex D. Cross, president of Pomeroy, said the Fitzgibbons operations would be expanded and a division of the Pomeroy firm moved to the Oswego plant.

The sale price of the Fitzgibbons firm was not announced. The boiler company, part of this community since 1893, had dwindled from 1,400 employes during World War II to fewer than 100.

Pomeroy said Tuesday it took control by the acquisition of 90 per cent of the Fitzgibbons' stock from Paul K. Addams of New York City and the estate of Homer Addams.

Pomeroy manufactures steel and aluminum windows and convector enclosures for air-conditoning units. The convector division is expected to be moved from Stamford to Oswego, Cross said.

AP Editor Plans To Retire Soon After 41 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Lewis Andrew Brophy, general business editor of The Associated Press for the last 10 years, is retiring May 31, it was announced today. He will be succeeded by Nafe Poloweтzky, former foreign correspondent who became assistant general business editor last December.

Brophy will be 65 a few days before his retirement. He started with the AP in 1920, after working on newspapers in Columbus and Canton, Ohio. As an AP reporter in Ohio, he scored a notable beat in 1925 when the U. S. dirigible Shenandoah broke apart and crashed in hill farming country.

Transferred in the late 20s to Chicago and Washington, where he helped build the then-new AP Feature Service, Brophy became head of the Chicago bureau in 1930. In his seven years in that post, he and his staff handled the collapse of the Insull empire and many major crime stories, including the downfalls of Al Capone and John Dillinger.

In New York, starting in 1937, Brophy was a supervisor of the general news desk, and then news editor of the AP World Service.

He was named general business editor in 1951.

Polowetzky is 39 years old. A native of Harrison, N. J., and a graduate of Rutgers University, he served in the Army in World War II and then became a reporter on the Jersey Journal, Jersey City, N. J.

Polowetzky started with The Associated Press in 1944, worked in New York for five years, then went to London. His foreign duty for 12 years included coverage of the Korean War, the Suez Canal crisis, riots in Iran in 1952, riots in Japan in 1960. He was also one of a number of AP and other Western correspondents expelled from Communist Czechoslovakia in 1950 for "biased reporting."

Three Types

Sweden has three different types of long-distance telephone service. The ordinary variety of long-distance call is completed in routine fashion; for a faster service, you use the urgent class of call at double the ordinary rate; for really fast service you pay 20 times the ordinary long-distance service rate.

Disability May Be Added Now To G.I. Policies

Veterans holding GI Life Insurance policies were told today by Charles L. Culver, counselor, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and John B. Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency that a total disability income provision may be added to most GI Life Insurance policies for a small additional cost.

The veterans' officials explained that a policy holder must be in good health and under 60 years of age to qualify for this insurance feature. A veteran with a disability income provision added to his policy, will receive an income of $10 a month for each 1,000 of government insurance in force provided he becomes totally disabled from any cause before he reaches the age of 60. These payments begin after six months of total disability and continue as long as the disability lasts.

Veterans who have any questions about GI Insurance will receive up to the minute information about this and any other veteran benefit by contacting the local office of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Looking for a delicious way to use those leftover bits of ham in the refrigerator? Then try these roll-ups, made with biscuit dough and ground leftover ham. Serve with broccoli and Hollandise sauce.

IT'S BETTER with SILLER BRAND BUTTER

Ham Roll-ups
(Yield 6 to 8 Servings)

Two cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup milk, 2 cups cooked ham, ground; 4 tablespoons melted butter 2 tablespoons cream, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, 1½ tablespoons aromatic bitters.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together in a mixing bowl. Cut in shortening and add milk. Mix thoroughly. Roll dough out on floured board in a long rectangle. Mix ground ham with butter, cream, mustard and aromatic bitters. Spread thick layer of ham mixture over dough and roll up like a jelly roll.

Cut roll in slices about 1½-inches thick. Place on a cookie sheet and give each roll a sharp pat to flatten out. Bake in a hot (450 degrees F.) oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot with a cheese or cream sauce.

Stratton Has Eye On Governorship, Also U. S. Senate

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N. Y., is laying the groundwork he hopes will thwart any attempt by the Republican-controlled New York Legislature to gerrymander him out of a job next year.

And Stratton nurses hopes that the strategy he has mapped may lead eventually to the governor's mansion at Albany, N. Y., or the U. S. Senate.

The former Schenectady mayor is trying to project an image of himself to as many parts of the state as possible.

This, he reasons, will give him a base for seeking re-election no matter how the Legislature redefines his congressional district. Also, he could contend for a statewide elective office.

Although some New York Democrats have mentioned Stratton as a possible opponent next year to Republican Gov. Rockefeller in the gubernatorial race, Stratton says his main ambition is to remain in Congress.

But he doesn't believe Rockefeller is unbeatable.

Protecting Himself

Stratton says his strategy of projecting an image is designed primarily to protect himself against what he feels will be a hostile Legislature as far as reapportionment goes.

New York's population increased between 1950 and 1960, but it failed to keep pace with the national average. Consequently, the state will lose 2 of its 43 House seats.

The Legislature must redefine the boundaries of congressional districts before the 1962 election to compensate for this loss. Stratton feels he will be the major target of this reapportionment.

He says all he has heard about reapportionment are rumors that go like this:

Would Be Primary Fight

Combine Schenectady, Montgomery and Fulton counties—the hub of his support in the last election—with Albany County, now represented by Rep. Leo W. O'Brien, D-N. Y. This would force Stratton into a primary battle—if he chose to take this course—with the popular O'Brien.

Combine part of Stratton's 32nd District, or at least Schenectady, with either the 31st or the 34th Congressional Districts and force Stratton to run against Reps. Alexander Pirnie or Carleton J. King, both Republicans.

The disclosure earlier this year that the Air Force had under study a plan to close procurement facilities at Griffiss Air Force Rome, N. Y., proved advantageous to Stratton.

As a member of the House Armed Services Committee, he rushed with O'Brien and Pirnie into a battle to save the facilities—the Rome Air Materiel Area. The base is in Pirnie's district.

The Air Force has postponed until fall a decision on its closing plan.

Active for Area Bill

Stratton also pressed repeatedly in House talks and in statements published in the Congressional Record for passage of a bill for depressed areas.

But Stratton made the bill a statewide matter as far as he was concerned by challenging a Syracuse University study that said the unemployment picture in New York had been exaggerated.

matter of FACT

The witch doctor isn't all hocus-pocus. For years, missionaries reported that African medicine men used an herb of remarkable powers. Finally somebody listened. And that's how serpasil, used in treating high blood pressure and mental ailments, found its way to 20th century acceptance.

WOMENS HATS IN THE THEATRE

Q: Is it improper to ask a woman to remove her hat in the theatre? I went to a matinee with a friend of mine the other day and the woman seated in front of me had on a rather high hat and, as I am not a very tall person, it was very difficult for me to see the stage over her hat. I stood it for as long as I could and then leaned over and asked her to please remove her hat. She did so but was not very amiable about it. My friend told me that I was wrong to ask this of her as no woman likes to get her hair all disheveled by removing her hat. Will you please give me your opinion of this?

A: It was entirely proper for you to ask the woman in front of you to remove her hat if it was obstructing your view, and she should have been amiable about doing so.

Inviting the Bridegroom's Former Fiancee

Q: In going over the list of names given us by my daughter's fiance, we notice he has included his former fiancee and her parents. I believe her presence will be embarrassing to my daughter and that her name should be removed from the list. Should I speak to him, or his mother, about it first?

A: Send the invitation by all means. There is no reason in the world why just because they were once engaged, they should not remain friends. To make an issue of it would imply jealousy on your daughter's part.

Q: I have a beautiful, large, English china platter that I have never used. A relative, who lives in a nearby city, is to be married soon. Would it be proper to send the platter as a wedding gift, and need I explain that it is not new? My income is so limited that any other gift I send would not be nearly as lovely.

A: The platter will make a lovely present, and you need not explain how long you have had it.

Jewels, Furs, Fashions Will be Modeled At Page One Queen's Reception Saturday

A diamond and platinum necklace and bracelet valued at $50,000 will be shown at the Kingston Newspaper Guild's Page One Queen Reception on Saturday, May 6 at the Wiltwyck Country Club. Also modeled will be a luxurious selection of mink stoles. The fashshow has been arranged by the Page One Queen Committee as an added feature of the Reception and will be staged while the Page One Queen contestants are being interviewed by the judges.

The selection of furs was made by Mrs. Sylvia Leventhal and Stuart Randall of Kingston will commentate on the jewelry.

Miss Joan Woinoski, chairman of the Page One Queen Committee, will model the jewelry, while modeling summer frocks will be the Mimes. Eve Wulff, Pat McConnell and Kay Gilligan.

A queen and two attendants will be selected at the reception from 2-5 p. m. and will reign at the sixth annual Page One Ball Saturday evening, May 13 also at Wiltwyck.

Basis of the selection of the Page One Queen will be poise and personality as well as beauty. Dress will be evening or cocktail dress. There will be no bathing suit competition. Proceeds of the ball, which will highlight some topflight Broadway entertainment and the presentation of a group of achievement awards, will be used to establish a Children's Vacation Fund to send five needy children for two weeks each to an area camp this summer and to continue the Guild's annual scholarship award to a deserving Ulster County high school senior.

Tickets are available for the sixth annual dinner dance from any member of the Guild, composed of the area working press.

Home Extension Service News

Mrs. William Adams, chairman of the executive committee of the Ulster County Home Demonstration Department announces the appointment of Miss Louise Kakargo as assistant home demonstration agent. Miss Kakargo, a native of Chester, N. Y., will assume her duties in the county June 1. She will be graduated with a B.S. Degree in Home Economics from Russell Sage College, May 28.

With the appointment of Miss Kakargo to fill the vacancy of Mrs. Lenore Cleminshaw Lekke, the Ulster County Home Extension staff will be complete. Mrs. Phyllis W. Barlow of Mt. Marion is the agent and Mrs. Elizabeth Overbagh of Saugerties is the other assistant agent.

Mrs. Adams also asks the public and members to join in the celebration of National Home Demonstration Week, May 1-May 6. More than 1500 women of the Ulster County Extension Service are participating. Many of the units in the county have sampling exhibits of their work on display in store windows in Saugerties, Kingston, Ellenville, Accord, and Marlborough.

These women believe the American home plays a vital role in the social and economic life of our nation and is largely responsible for determining the character of our future citizens. Through the educational program of the Cooperative Extension Service in Agriculture and Home Economics a nation wide system of out-of-school training was established by Congress through the passage of the Smith-Lever Act of May 8, 1914.

In the fifty United States more than 83,000 women in cooperation with the home demonstration agents and state staff, develop and determine unit programs. Volunteer local leaders do much of the teaching in the units. More than 34,000 of the leaders give time, energy, and talents to this teaching each year.

Community Concerts Kick-Off Meeting Is Set for Sunday; KHS Student Will Play

In an effort to complete the roster of more than 1500 members by noon Saturday, May 13, workers for Kingston Community Concerts Association will gather for the kick-off meeting Sunday afternoon, 5 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Headquarters for the drive will be open at the hotel next week from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily and until noon Saturday.

The series of concerts for next season will include the Boston Pops Orchestra with Arthur Fiedler, conducting; Metropolitan Opera and TV favorite Rise Stevens; and the young Bolivian violin virtuoso, Jaime Laredo.

As is customary no tickets are sold for the individual concerts and memberships which are the only admissions must be obtained from a worker or at headquarters by noon next Saturday.

Guest artist for the workers' meeting Sunday will be one of Kingston's "younger generation" musicians, Robert Baron, clarinet soloist with the Kingston High School Band and a pupil of Louis Bartolone, clarinet soloist with the West Point Military Band. The 16-year-old clarinetist gave a full length recital in Washington, D. C., at the studio of Anthony Chanaka, last month. Last year he was the only instrumentalist from the Kingston schools to attend the All State Festival and two years ago he appeared as guest soloist with the Dutchess County Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Ole Windingstad. A junior at KHS, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Baron, 59 Southfield Street. He will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Baron.

Workers will also have the opportunity to meet Robert Geissinger, New York representative who will be in Kingston next week to assist with the campaign.

Arrangements for Sunday's meeting are being made by Mrs. Herbert I. Bloom and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever. Workers are reminded to make reservations with Mrs. Bloom, Mrs. LeFever or Mrs. Bernard Forst.

Sedition Charge Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Inability to produce testimony by Americans brain-washed in the Korean War led to dismissal of sedition charges against three Americans who were accused of taking part indirectly in that brain-washing.

They are John and Sylvia Powell of San Francisco and Julian Schuman, formerly of New York. They had revived in Shanghai the China Weekly Review, founded by Powell's late father, the internationally known John B. Powell. The government charged they used it to disseminate Communist propaganda.

They were charged in one count of an indictment with circulating the magazine with intent, in the Korean War, to interfere with the operations and success of the U.S. armed forces and to promote success for enemies of the United States.

Forum Series At Onteora on National Purpose

Dr. Louis Salkever, Professor of Economics at New Paltz State Teachers College, will head a list of panel members who will discuss the role of the United States in the world of today.

The forum this Thursday will be the first in a series of four which will be held every Thursday during the month of May at the Onteora Central School. Starting time for all forums will be at 8 p. m.

Other panel members scheduled for appearance this week include:

JOSEPH H. McCANN—Plant attorney for IBM in Kingston and manager of the plant's legal department. He is a man familiar with the needs, aims and thinking of the business world.

MATTHEW OSTOYICH, Chairman of the Social Science Department at the Onteora Central School. He recently was awarded a Ford Foundation Fellowship to the University of Rochester.

The panel this week will be asked to try and define the National Purpose.

Serving as moderator for the forum will be the Rev. Roger Brown of Shandaken. He is, at present, conducting a very successful class on "Understanding Internation Relations" at the Onteora Central School each Thursday afternoon.

The program each Thursday evening will include many outstanding speakers who are well versed in the fields of politics, education, art, religion, history and the press.

OCS Elections Slated Today

Voters in the Onteora Central Schools District went to the polls today to determine the fate of a $1,708,034 budget and to elect one trustee to the Board of Education for a five-year term.

The polls will be open from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m., with voting at four designated polling centers in Shandaken, West Hurley, Woodstock and the main building at Boiceville.

Candidates for the 5-year term on the board are David R. Fox of West Hurley, the incumbent, and Raymond C. Cruthers of West Shokan.

Democrats Set Meeting Date

An important meeting of the Woodstock Democratic town committee and nominating committee of the Democratic Club will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the George Eichler residence in Bearsville.

Several important policy matters will be discussed by the Democratic committee headed by Charles J. Tiano, chairman.

The Democratic Club nominating committee will select a slate of candidates to be recommended for election at the monthly meeting of the club on Thursday, May 11, at Deanie's in Woodstock.

Christian Science Sermon Theme: Adam

Man's perfect, spiritual relationship to God will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday in Woodstock.

Opening selections from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Adam and Fallen Man" will include these passages from the first chapter of Genesis: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: . . . So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them . . . And God, saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy these lines will be read (p. 259): "The Christ-like understanding of scientific being and divine healing includes a perfect Principle and idea,—perfect God, and perfect man,—as the basis of thought and demonstration."

The Golden Text comes from Psalm 138: "The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever."

Select Simon For Judging Music Festival

HARRY SIMON

Onteora Central School officials anounced today that Harry Simon, Director of Music, has been selected as a judge for the New York State Music Competition to be held this spring. Simon was chosen to serve as an adjudicator by officials of the New York State Music Association. This marks the third successive year he has been assigned to adjudicate by the State Association.

Only the outstanding music educators in New York State are selected for judging assignments. Harry Simon's selection is based on the state-wide attention the Onteora High School Symphonic Band received in 1958 and his excellent record in the music education field.

In May of 1958 at Ossining, the band achieved a first in New York State Music Association history by receiving the highest rating possible in New York State (A-6); grade six is the most difficult music the band can perform, an A rating is the highest grade possible. It was the first band in New York State, "only six years in existence," to receive the highest rating possible.

In May of 1959 the band entered into competition at Port Chester, New York and again received the highest rating possible, A-6.

Once again, in May of 1960 the band entered the State Music Competition at Hastings-on-the-Hudson and was awarded the A-6 rating.

The band has been lauded by Dr. Joseph Saetveit, head of the New York State Music Education Department in Albany and adjudicators from all parts of New York State.

Jazz Festival At School Hall On May 12 and 13

Area residents will have an opportunity to hear an exciting sound in Jazz on May 12 and 13, when a six piece band headed by Herbert Deutsch performs at the Woodstock elementary school at 8 p. m.

Herbert Deutsch, who heads the band, teaches at Hofstra College in Long Island. A composer of growing stature, he composed the music for the Shakespeare Festival in Central Park. He has written on jazz for the magazine, Jazz Age, and is one of the fine young musicians today who are interpreting and keeping alive the remarkable background of Jazz.

Among the other members of the band are Paul Hubbell, clarinet, and Dick Rath, trombone. Hubbell is a member of a group who recently cut a new LP record under the title, Jazz From Then Till Now.

Dick Rath will open with Eddie Condon in New York on May 15.

Tickets will be available at the Woodstock school the nights of the concerts.

COLLEGE BOUND — Two members of the Senior class at Onteora Central High will continue their education in the fall. Gertrude Choquette, left, a member of the National Honor Society, plans to major in history education at Albany State Teachers College. The daughter of Mrs. Mary MacFarland, Miss Choquette lives at RD 2, Kingston. She has served as business manager of the 1961 Yearbook and has tutored students as part of the Honor Society program. She has also been active in the Future Teachers Club and the Junior-Senior Musicals.

Rosary Loiacano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Loiacano of Shandaken, plans to enter Oneonta State Teachers College in September as a prospective high school mathematics teacher. Miss Loiacano has been in the Student Council, Future Teachers Club and is currently secretary of the Senior Class. She has also been active in dramatics, having taken part in the annual Junior-Senior Musical.

Central Center Is Arranged for Demos Rummage

For the added convenience of Woodstockers who wish to donate articles for the big rummage sale, annually sponsored by the local Democratic Club, a centrally located collection center in the heart of the village will open its doors for the first time this Saturday, May 6. The storage and collection center will be housed in the former Lamont Simpkins office, next door to Hilda Lightstone's and directly across the street from the Cafe Espresso.

The center will be open on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons between the hours of 1 and 4 p. m. during May and through the first week in June. All types of donations are needed for the sale which is scheduled at the Woodstock Playhouse on June 3. Especially useful will be foodstuffs, tops, flowers, clothing, pictures, furniture, picture frames, etc.

In addition to the Tinker Street location, three other collection centers are in daily operation, including: the basement of Mrs. Helen Buttrick's house on Rock City Road, the garage behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kricker on the Bearsville Flats, and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Gilligan in Bearsville.

Rummage sale chairmen, Jean Gaede and Betty Biesele, issued an appeal this week to fill all four centers to overflowing in order to insure a financially successful sale in June.

African Raiders Prevent Strikes

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Thousands of armed police and plain clothesmen swept through South African cities and Negro townships Tuesday night, raiding the homes of whites and non-whites.

Purpose of the raid, one of the biggest in South Africa's history, apparently was to forestall nationwide strikes and protest demonstrations threatened by the non-white majority to coincide with proclamation of the new republic of South Africa May 31.

It was not known how many arrests were made, but the whole country swarmed with police. It was believed that one object was to determine the source of leaflets that have appeared calling on non-whites to stage three-day strikes at the end of May.

Retired Musician Victim of Stabbing

He was not robbed and police could not find any motive for the attack.

Police said it was Markussen's habit to go each evening to a YMCA to listen to music and play chess or checkers with friends. He apparently was returning from the YMCA, door key in hand, when he was attacked.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The 1961 golf season may or may not have "started" in the Kingston area, depending on your evaluation of the weather, but there is no doubt the sport is booming around the country.

The National Golf Foundation says that 225 new regulation courses were opened in the United States during 1960. This raises the total in the U. S. to an all-time high of 6,011. In addition, 51 par-3 layouts were brought into play to raise the total in this category to 374. The grand total is now 6,385. Private clubs remain by far in the majority of regulation length courses with 3,162.

Most intensive growth, however, is in the number of semi-private courses of which there are now 1,997 compared to 1141 in 1959. Municipal and other tax-supported courses make up the remainder with a total of 852. While these courses comprise only 15 per cent of the regulation length courses, they absorb 40 per cent of the national play.

If by any chance you are one of those cynics who think golf is a passing fancy, listen to this urgent plan of action to provide 30,000 golf courses by the year 2000. Addressing the annual meeting of the NGF, its president, Joseph M. Graffis Sr., said:

"In the light of the experience and the development of golf playing facilities over the past 50 years, such a goal may very well be on the conservative side. To achieve this goal would require a rate of growth almost three times greater than reported last year."

Graffis reported that this goal of almost five times as many golf courses for the year 2000 as we now have reflects the growth of activity and compares with our present figure of more than 6,000 courses opposed to just 1000 50 years ago. Par-3 course construction reflects the growing interest in these shorter courses in recent years. The par-3 course has yet to catch on in this part of the country but is popular in the south, southwest and Pacific coast.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Between the men's and women's golf calendars, Wiltwyck Country Club will be a beehive of activity this season. No less than a half dozen major area championships are scheduled at the uptown layout which gets more pleasing to the eye as the months roll by. . . . Buzzy Costello shooting sub-par in the KHS opener indicates the season is really "open." . . . If you hear the exclamation, "OB, OB" around Wiltwyck these days, it's a new bit of links jargon the boys brought up from Florida: Jim Turck, Johnny Provenzano, Dr. George C. Rifenbary and Harry (Leafy) Le Fever, who make up a rather fearsome foursome, . . . You don't know what OB stands for? . . . One of the 61 local qualifying competitions for the U. S. Open golf championship will be conducted Monday, May 22, at Wolferts Roost Country Club in Albany. . . . On designing golf courses, architect Robert Trent Jones, who built the Wiltwyck course says: "Most players have a tendency to slice so we try to keep the water and other trouble on the hook side. Of course, we can change it now and then for variety. But we try to build a comfortable course for all classes of golfers — and you must remember that it's the average players who support the course." . . . Mal Johnson ,25, assistant pro at Pasadena GC, St. Petersburg, Fla., has moved across town to become head pro at Sunset Golf and Country Club, winter habitat of Tony and Wiggie de Lisio, . . . The rustic contemporary building of the new Spring Valley CC at Sharon, Mass., consists of three sections: a social unit, a locker and pro shop unit and a connecting section containing card and lounge rooms. What no escalator? The Twaalfskill Club's opening cocktail party scheduled Sunday between 5 and 7 p. m.

• Why They Hit So Far:

So the Palmers, Souchaks and the like belt 240 to 280 yards Joe Dante, New Jersey PGA vice president, has a theory about this distance: "Granted that the clubs and the balls are better than they were 30 years ago. But that doesn't account for all of the extra distance by any means. I think these fellows hit the ball so far because they are all hitting with a square face, which doesn't need any manipulating to get it to the ball in the right position. In the old days the pros, almost all of them, went to the top of the swing with an open face. Then they had to square it as they brought it to the ball. These fellows today keep it square all the way — going back, at the top and coming down. They don't have to do anything to get it square. So they can just belt away annd concentrate on hitting hard." Sounds logical, duffers, so let's all make with the square face!

Bill Hyatt's first inning triple gave Marlboro Central a 2-0 lead over Wallkill, and the team went on to register a 9-4 victory to square its UCAL record at 1-1.

Hyatt shared the Marlboro pitching chores with Vin Caserto, pitching hitless ball for one and two thirds innings. Caserto was the Marlboro starter and yielded the three Wallkill safeties in 5 and ⅓ frames.

While Hyatt and Caserto were shuttling between the pitcher's mound and left field, Wallkill's two pitchers — Mullen and Pink replaced each other at first base and the pitching mound.

A four run explosion in the sixth inning highlighted my Caserto's double took the game out of danger for Marlboro which had a 5-4 lead at the time.

Rickie Benevento slammed a double and Auregema had two singles for the winners. Mullen stroked two singles and knocked in two runs for Wallkill. Gaffney, the second baseman, accounted for the other.

Caserto struck out six and walked seven. Pink, the Wallkill starter, had seven strikeouts to go with eight walks.

Marlboro plays at Highland on Friday.

Sportsmen Plan Club Opening

Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association will celebrate the completion and reopening of its trap shooting grounds at the club at Honk Lake on Sunday.

Richard McDole, chairman of the club's Traps Committee, and the club president, Richard Craft, and the committee have spent considerable time getting the traps area in shape to meet the exacting requirements of the Ulster County Trap Shooting circuit.

Teams from New Paltz, Walker Valley, Glasco and Wawarsing will compete in the circuit shoot which gets under way at 1 p. m. The traps are also available to other member clubs in the Federation. Refreshments will be available at the adjoining clubhouse of the Ellenville Pistol and Rifle Club.

Family picnics may be arranged for at the clubhouse and the open clam bake shed adjoining the main club house.

Cus Bars Liston From Title Bout

"Liston is not included in Patterson's plans at all," snapped D'Amato, chief of the Patterson advisory staff, "not at all."

That brings up the question of how much D'Amato has to say about Patterson's professional activity. After Floyd took care of Ingemar Johansson less than eight weeks ago, he proclaimed himself a free man.

"I'm making my own decisions from now on," he said then. "D'Amato will remain my manager, but I will make the decisions."

If D'Amato is talking for Patterson, Liston will not be the only hopeful who will remain on the outside looking in.

"Patterson will not fight anyone this year who has a future," thundered D'Amato.

This presumably would rule out the likes of Britain's Henry Cooper who also thought he was near the head of the line.

D'Amato hinted that the tax situation has something to do with his decision to sidestep the headliners this year. Patterson made almost $1,000,000 in his last defense against Johansson. If he fights again this year, the purse will go almost completely for taxes. D'Amato figures there is no use fighting a tough opponent for practically nothing.

A rumor made the rounds Tuesday that Tom McNeeley of Boston, unbeaten in 23 bouts, would be Patterson's next opponent. Apparently he would qualify only if he didn't have a future.

"I really don't know him that well," said D'Amato. "I would have to investigate him. But if he has a future that would eliminate him. We have three opponents in mind for the September defense. All are Americans."

Mantle Unloads Grand Slam

Three LA Homers Rout Braves

Eighth Circuit Blow Topples Minnesota, 6-4

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tiger hung on to a one-game lead in the American League race with a 6-3 victory at Washington Tuesday night as Jim Bunning won his first of the season. Second place New York beat Minnesota 6-4 on Mickey Mantle's grand-slam home run in the 10th inning.

Cleveland defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 11 innings, Kansas City beat Boston 7-4 and Baltimore clipped the Los Angeles Angeles 7-6 on a ninth-inning home run by Jim Gentile.

Bunning walked just two and struck out seven. The Tigers staked him to a quick lead on a two-run homer in the second inning by Norm Cash. Billy Bruton hit a sacrifice fly for a 3-0 lead in the third and then brought in the clincher against loser Tom Sturdivant (1-1) with a fifth-inning single.

The Yankees pulled into a 2-2 tie with the Twins on Bill Skowron's solo homer in the seventh off Camilo Pascual. The Cuban right-hander retired the first two batters in the 10th, then gave up a double by Tony Kubek and issued two walks that loaded the bases for Mantle's slam. It was the Mick's eighth home run, high in the AL, and gave him 22 RBI, tops in the majors.

Killebrew Hits 3rd

Jim Coates (1-0) was the winner as the second of four Yank pitchers. Luis Arroyo finally saved it, after Harmon Killebrew hit his third home run, off Ryne Duren, leading off the 10th.

An error, a walk and a single by Johnny Romano broke up the tie for Cleveland against losing reliever Russ Kemmerer (0-1). Frank Funk won his first with three innings of three-hit, shutout relief. The White Sox scored their two in the sixth off Mudcat Grant on singles by Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox, a double steal, a wild pitch and Romano's error.

Gentile's fifth home run of the season cracked a 6-all tie for the Orioles, who blew a 5-1 lead. Gus Triandos and Jerry Adair also homered for the Birds while Earl Averill, Ted Kluszewski and Leon Wagner hit home runs for the Angel's first five scores. Hoyt Wilhelm won his third in relief. Tom Morgan (1-1) was the loser.

A two-run single by pinch-hitter Al Pilarcik overhauled a 3-2 Boston lead and winning pitcher Bud Daley squeezed in the deciding run for the A's as they scored three in the sixth against Ike Delock (1-1).

Continue Home Run Barrage Against Losers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers walloped three home runs—for a total of 16 allowed by Milwaukee's pitching staff in three games — and handed the Braves their third straight defeat, 11-9, Tuesday night. Pittsburgh regained first place, beating St. Louis 6-0 behind the six-hit pitching of Harvey Haddix after the Chicago Cubs dropped San Francisco to second place by beating the Giants 9-4.

Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 3-2 in the other NL game.

Frank Howard, John Roseboro ard Tommy Davis homered for the Dodgers off Nottebart and losing reliever Ken MacKenzie (0-1) at Milwaukee. But it was a six-run seventh inning—in which the Dodgers had just two hits, and neither a homer—that did the job and left the Braves' staff with a total of 32 runs allowed in three games.

Haddix, bouncing back from a bout with the flu, walked just one and struck out three for his first victory as the Pirates hung up their fifth success in the last six games. Ernie Broglio, who was 4-0 against the Bucs while winning 21 last season, lost for the third time in four decisions. Pocky Nelson and Roberto Clemente each drove in two runs, but the Bucs got the only tally Haddix needed before Broglio faced the third man in the order. Bill Virdon lined a leadoff double in the first inning and scored on Dick Groat's single.

Rookie Billy Williams was 4-for-4 and drove in five runs for the Cubs, completing their scoring with his first home run—a bases-loaded shot in the second inning off reliever Ed Fisher. George Altman's one-on homer had triggered a five-run first against loser Jack Sanford (1-2). Don Cardwell, winning his third without a loss, blanked the Giants on two hits until the ninth. Then Willie McCovey's two-run homer gave San Francisco a share of another home run record—14 in three games.

The Reds bunched three of their four hits for all their runs in the fourth inning off Dallas Green (1-3)—who pitched perfect ball in five of his six frames. Vada Pinson's first home run touched off the rally after Green had retired the first 10 he faced.

Ring Magazine Picks Pender as Top Boxer

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Pender, shareholder of the world middleweight crown with Gene Fullmer, today was named fighter of the month by Ring Magazine for his decisive triumph over Carmen Basilio in a title fight.

Pender, of Brookline, Mass., is recognized as champion of the 160-pound division by New York, Massachusetts and Europe. Fullmer, of West Jordan, Utah, is hailed as champion by the National Boxing Association.

Jackie Jensen Had Lot Company In Low Bracket

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Jensen has lots of company in the bottom depths of the batting averages. The woods are full of big name stars who gladly would swap this year's percentages for a taste of their 1960 record.

Bil Mazeroski, the home run hero of Pittsburgh's World Series victory, has found the base hits few and far between this spring. Averages going into today's games found Maz way down at .179. Hal Smith, his Pirate teammate whose homer set the stage for Mazeroski's blow, also is way down yonder at .143.

Roger Maris, a fearless slugger for the New York Yankees at this time last year, has been wallowing in a slump at .204. Hector Lopez and Bobby Richardson, each at .220, keep him company.

Billy Bruton, former Milwaukee center fielder who was traded to Detroit, is dragging ar ound a .190 average and Baltimore's Marv Breeding won himself a place on the bench with a .179 mark, giving way to rookie Jerry Adair at second base.

Dale Long and R.C. Stevens were expected to give the new Washington Senators a punch at the plate but Long is hitting .156 and Stevens .188, prompting Manager Mickey Vernon to think about recalling Bud Zipfel from Houston.

Norm Siebern of Kansas City is 100 points off at .167. Sherm Lollar, veteran Chicago catcher, is down to .212 with young Camilo Carreon replacing him behind the plate.

Don't Downgrade the Trout; He Beat the Mayflower Here

If you can boast that your ancestors came over on the Mayflower, don't do your bragging to a brook trout—because he can go you one better!

According to Dr. C. Willard Greene, Chief of the Bureau of Fish in the New York State Conservation Department, the brooky was around these parts long before the Mayflower even set sail.

It's generally believed, Dr. Greene says, that the brook trout was literally "pushed down" from the Arctice by encroaching ice during the glacial period, more than 10,000 years ago. When the glaciers finally pulled back and the North American icebox began warming up again, the trout stayed on in the colder streams.

Indians who lived in the area found that the trout fishing was just fine, and so did the early colonists. But by the late 1800's, the fish were in real trouble.

Extensive cutting of trees had resulted in erosion and the widening of streams. With the shade gone, the water began warming up. Factories brought about pollution, and there were dams to contend with. Suddenly, the trout found themselves living in a watery version of Tobacco Road — in silt-laden streams racing their course unchecked, never slackening for the pools or eddies required by any self-respecting trout.

That Henry Ford

Then, to make matters even worse for the poor fish, a fellow named Henry Ford came along and began mass-producing a newfangled thing called the "horseless carriage." Roads were built, usually in the natural highways that followed the stream valleys. And fishermen could drive almost to the trout's doorstep.

When trout numbers began to drop, the anglers imported other species of fish to "restore good fishing"—like perch, pickerel and bass. But that didn't help the trout. In fact, this was the coup de grace in many trout ponds, because the introduced species began competing with the trout for food and also preying on the trout fry and fingerlings.

So in 1926, the State Conservation Department decided to put on its hip boots and step into the picture. Since then, through its program of biological surveys, research, habitat improvement and stocking, the Department has put the brooky back in business. Its Stream Improvement Unit has worked on hundreds of miles of public fishing streams, and the Department has also "reclaimed" more than 100 trout ponds and lakes throughout the State, by getting rid of the undesirable species. And last year alone, it stocked more than 2,200,000 brook trout that ranged in size from one inch or under to seven inches, and that tipped the scales at more than 72 tons.

"The trout are here to stay," Dr. Greene says, "but with the progress of civilization, they're still going to need all the help they can get."

Rain Postpones Scholastic Sport Schedule Again

Rain, a common word this spring, hampered the high school spring sports program again yesterday, postponing just about everything that was scheduled.

The Kingston High School at Poughkeepsie baseball game was put off until Friday, June 2, as was the jayvee game between the schools.

Postponed until today was the DCSL, baseball tilt at Saugerties between the Sawyers and Beacon High school. Poughkeepsie High school will play the Kingston High golf team today in a match previously postponed on Monday.

On the original slate today are track meets with Wallkill at Onteora and Haldane and Marlboro at New Paltz, a college baseball game with New Paltz at Danbury and a tennis match between New Paltz and Danbury.

Added to tomorrow's slate are two UCAL baseball games — New Paltz at Rondout Valley and Onteora at Highland. Also set to be played is a non-league contest between Our Lady of Lourdes and Kingston at Dietz stadium, a DUSO tennis match between Newburgh and a track meet at Middletown with the Middies opposing Kingston.

The New Paltz and Valley Central baseball game, scheduled for tomorrow, will be played at a later date because the Huguenots are slated to play a league tilt.

Big Joe Mahar's 686 series not only set a league record on the final night, but catapulted the Zeeh's Beverage squad to the championship of the Central Rec League.

In a dramatic finish, Zeeh's, trailing Capri Rest by two games going into the final session, swept three from Shamrock Tavern, while Herzog's flattened Capri in three straight, the first game by 5 pins.

Racking up 20 strikes, Mahar blasted games of 215, 248 and 223 for the new record. The old mark of 677 was shared by Paul Stevenson and Gerry Kearney. Big Joe had two misses and a split.

Team results:

Habers 0, New Marketing, Inc. 3; Chez Emile 3, Vanderlyn Battery 0; Herzog Supply 3, Capri 0; Zeeh's Beverages 3, Shamrock Tavern 0.

Crack Schenectady '5' In Van Winkle Tourney

A 907-average powerhouse from Schenectady will be one of the top favorites to win the net division for women in the third annual Rip Van Winkle team handicap tournament which opens at the Ferraro Bowlerama on May 12.

Marty Christian, veteran 187-average Dorpian star, will lead the Woman's City All Stars of Schenectady in their bid to dethrone Manhattan Balls of Kingston. She has been a top-notch shooter for more than 20 years.

Stella Tencza Due

One of the metropolitan districts best known woman stars, Stella Tencza, will be on hand with a 190-average bowler, Pauline DeLuca, in the lineup. Stela, who has several titles in New York and New Jersey, carries a 183 average. Also on the team are Mary Wyand 162, Joan Oleski 183 and Jean Lurichin 183.

Manhattan Balls will seek to repeat last year's net division championship with the HVL squad of Rose Schatzel, Sis Balash, Ada Dubost, Hilda Murphy and Dot Rawding. The team will not be sponsored by Manhattan Balls in the tournament and will compete under the name of the R.S.A.H.D. Five. The initials represent the first name of each bowler.

Last year's entry roster of 205 has been surpassed with 225 as of Tuesday and entries have come in from 64 different establishments in New York and New Jersey. Heavy delegations are expected from Hudson and the Berkshire Lanes at Millerton.

Neil Glennon, tournament secretary, reminds bowlers that the deadline for entries is Sunday, May 7.

Electric Aids Now Replace Old Fitting Out Manpower

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Yes, say boatmen around the country as they begin getting ready for launching time.

Many have done the same work on the same craft every spring throughout a number of years. They point out that new products and methods are cutting down the time needed to keep a boat shipshape. Fitting out still costs just as much, or more, but it's easier to do.

The reasons are various. Added up they indicate the inside line to simpler mainteance may be a handy extension electrical power line. We counted 11 different power tools being well handled by amateur boatmen turned shipfitters.

All-purpose aid for the busy boatsyardsman is the pistol-grip quarter-inch drill. After boring a hole with it, he promtly adds an accessory to make it a power screw driver.

* * *

A plug cutter may be attached that will make small wooden dowels to top the screw and hide the hole completely. A sanding disc is fastened on the drill and the area is polished for paint or varnish.

Small orbital and belt sanders are available as drill accessories, but for heavy duty sanding—an always present hevy duty chore at painting time—the full size models are recommended. Several reasons of built-up paint coats can be cut down with belt or disc sanding and course grit paper, followed by finer abrasives and smoothing with the orbital motion machine.

Carpentry aboard the boat is easier as well with a small power saw gripped in the jaws of that same drill, or a table saw set up in the cockpit. Cabin lockers can be fitted to size and vent slots cut in them with a handy saber saw driven by electric power. A planer-jointer can come aboard.

Quite new, as power drill accessories go, is the metal nibbler, a gadget that can cut hatch edging to size and shear through thinner metals.

* * *

Setting up a workshop aboard the boat is handy and easy once a powerline extension is brought on deck, but most boatmen first stretch out a canvas worksheet over the cockpit floor so that scraps and shavings will not scatter about and work down to clog the limber holes of the bilges.

If bilge water has collected during the winter in low corners where it cannot drain out, a tiny auxiliary pump can be hitched to the electric drill.

When a backyard is a boatyard, a heavy-capacity electric cord from the house should bring sufficient power to the boat. Most boatyards keep a number of these on hand for loan or rental. At greater distances, investigate the new small portable self-powered generators available that deliver adequate current for most average power tools.

One last aid — not really a tool—that no old-time sailor ever knew. This is a vacuum cleaner. Sneak it aboard just before launching time to suck up all loose shavings, leaves and chips that could clog up a bilge pump when most needed. Some models even have a spray device that can blow a mist of wood preservative fluid beneath floorboards.

Downes Looking Ahead to Pender After Big Win

LONDON (AP) — Terry Downes went into a rare mood of relaxation today and confidently awaited a second shot at American Paul Pender's share of the world middleweight title.

Downes, the Cockney who learned his trade with the U.S. Marines, was full of bounce after defeating Tony Montana of Phoenix, Airz., before a crowd of 12,000 at London's Wembley Indoor Stadium Tuesday night.

The crowd got out of hand at one stage of the evening. A furious brawl broke out at the ringside. Botties flew and chairs were uprooted. A contingent of London bobbies restored order.

All this had nothing to do with the Downes-Montana bout, which preceded the disorders. Montana retired with a vicious slash across his left eyebrow after five rounds of the scheduled 10-rounder.

"Montana was a good workout for me," said the unmarked Briton. "There's a big prize in the wind, and I reckon I've done my share. Now it's up to the promoters to arrange another fight with Pender."

Fourth Ranking

Downes, British middleweight champion, is rated fourth challenger for the world title. Pender is recognized as the titleholder in New York, Massachusetts and Europe. Elsewhere, Gene Fullmer is recognized as the champ.

Last January Downes fought Pender in Boston and lost on a technical knockout after seven rounds. But American audiences applauded the Briton's performance.

Pender is expected to come to London early in July to defend his version of the world title against Downes again. But promoter Harry Levene, who staged Tuesday night's entertainment, declined to confirm the booking.

The fight that caused the near-riot around the Wembley ring was a British featherweight title bout between champion Terry Spinks of London and challenger Howard Winstone of Wales.

Winstone stopped Spinks in 10. Immediately, fist fighting and shoving broke out between groups of rival Welsh and English fans.

Texas Keglers Lead ABC Teams

DETROIT (AP) — The Meyerland builders of Houston, Texas, rocketed into first place in the regular team division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament Tuesday night with a 3,134 total.

The team coupled games of 1068, 970 and 1096 in ousting previously leading Cliff Anton's Investors of St. Louis. The Investors went into first place April 22 with a 3,055 total. The tournament ends May 31.

Crozier Sets New Record In Derby Trial Stakes

By JOHN CHANDLER

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Crozier set 15,500 customers to talking about his dazzling speed as he dashed the fastest mile in the history of ancient Churchill Downs.

A question mark all spring, the colt wore down California's Four-and-Twenty and bounced home in 1:34 3-5 Tuesday to win the $16,850 Derby Trial Stakes and clip two-fifths second off the record set in 1954 when Hasty Road edged Determine, another California-owned colt.

Determine, a Kentucky horse who went west, came back to turn the tables on Hasty Road in the Kentucky Derby four days later.

Four-and-Twenty will be back with his stablemate, Flutterby, and could turn this 87th run for the roses into another Far Western parade. Both colts are from the Alberta Ranches, Ltd., of Calgary, Alberta.

Alabaman Fred W. Hooper is the owner-breeder of Crozier, and the colt's brilliant Derby Trial victory may have frightened away a few rivals. The entry box for Saturday's $125,000-added classic opens at 7 a.m. Thursday and the guess is that from 12 to 15 horses may go.

It was the general opinion that Carry Back would go postward Saturday at 5:30 p.m., EST—CBS television—the favorite at around 8 to 5. The final Caliente future book odds had him 3-1 co-favorite with Four-and-Twenty, who won the Santa Anita Derby.

Four-and-Twenty, beaten 3¼ lengths in Tuesday's Derby trial, led most of the way until Crozier's late run in the stretch. Ethel D. Jacobs' Dr. Miller closed with a good burst to take third place.

Wrigley Field Proving Boon To AL Sluggers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Wrigley Field holds less than 22,000 people, but it's beginning to look as though the outfield needs enlarging a lot more than the grandstands.

The Los Angeles Angels have played six games at the old Coast League park, and the meager seating accommodations haven't been strained yet. But baseballs are flying out of the place in great volume.

Six more sailed out Tuesday night as the Baltimore Orioles moved over the .500 mark by defeating the Angels 7-6 before a small turnout of 6,664. Each side hit three homers, but the decisive shot was Jim Gentile's ninth-inning drive far over the right-field wall.

It was Gentile's fifth homer of the season. Gus Triandos hit his third for the Orioles and Jerry Adair got his second. For the Angels, Ted Kluszewski hit his fifth (No. 3 against Baltimore) and Leon Wagner and Earl Averill each hit his third.

When the artillery duel was over, the home run count at Wrigley Field had climbed to 15. Three less were hit at the nearby Coliseum in the Dodgers' first six games this season, although the Coliseum's celebrated left-field screen is 90 feet closer to home plate than the left-field wall at Wrigley.

The measurement that could make Wrigley just about as vulnerable to the long as the Coliseum is to right-center. It's only 345 at the American League park, nearly 440 at the Coliseum.

The stock car racing program will consist of two classes of cars, the Non-Ford stock cars and the Novice Sedans. The leaders will find opposition in the form of Bill Boo, Pawling; Barry Tripp and Dick Hansen of Red Hook; Pete Peterson of Albany; Hal McCarty of Georgetown, Conn.; Bud Glass of Hurley; Bob Snyder of Kingston; Johnny Van Leuvan of Poughkeepsie, and thirty other driving stars.

Misses Top Ten By Single Pin

DETROIT (AP) Ray Bianco of Scranton, Pa., who lost two fingers while operating his dragline mining shovel three years ago, came within one pin of cracking the top 10 standings of the regular division singles in the American Bowling Congress tournament Tuesday.

The 45-year-old Bianco, competing in his second ABC, rolled 681 on games of 216, 244 and 221. He left the 1-2-10 "washout" on his final delivery to miss a spot in the top 10. The 10th place total is 682.

Palmer, Player Set Sights on $40,000 Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Two of professional golf's hottest campaigners, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player, took aim today at one target they've missed—the $40,000 Tournament of Champions' title.

And also here is the incomparable Sam Snead, who has taken three shots at the $10,000 top booty and never come close.

The three are among the 26 pros who tee off Thursday in the ninth annual classic of the cactus country—72 holes over the par 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Each of the 26 has won a major PGA-sanctioned event during the past 12 months, else they would not be eligible to compete here.

Starting in 1956, the best Palmer has done is a tie for fifth place, achieved last year.

Player, South Africa's winner of the 1961 Masters over Arnold, wound up in 22nd place in 1959 and 1960.

Reading Slugger Lives Up to Rep

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jose Villar is the big guy the Reading Indians are counting on to provide the batting power in their bid for the Eastern League pennant.

The outfielder, who hit 23 homers and batted .317 last year in the Class D Alabama-Florida League, showed his heavy bat Tuesday night with a two-run homer in the seventh inning that gave Reading a 5-3 victory over Binghamton.

As a result of the outcome, the EL standings were scrambled once again.

Springfield, rained out at home against Johnstown, backed into first place by 25 percentage points. Binghamton dropped from first into a tie for second with Reading.

Beginning HS Students Attend Guidance Parley

A program was held at Saugerties High School Monday evening for eighth grade students planning to enter high school in the fall and for their parents. The purpose of the program, which was sponsored by the guidance department, was to assist the students and their parents in planning for senior high school.

The program was opened with words of welcome by David S. Cunningham, principal of the high school. Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools, discussed the topic, "Getting the Most Out of High School." He stressed the need for students to realize the value of a high school education in order to get the most out of the opportunities available. David Jones, freshman class advisor, explained some of the adjustments and problems that the future freshman would face when they entered senior high school.

Miss A. Frances Larned, director of guidance, suggested ways in which parents could help their children in starting to plan for advanced education and Kenneth Lane, guidance counselor, discussed different types of courses available for entering freshmen.

Approximately 300 parents and students from Saugerties Junior High School and St. Mary's School attended the program. Many of the parents arranged to meet Mr. Lane for individual conferences to discuss their children's future educational and vocational plans.

After the program, those interested were conducted on tours of the high school with members of the Future Teachers of America Club acting as their guides.

What's so important about May 13th?

It makes no difference if you have not been eligible before. But it is important to act promptly. Why not mail your application today—before it slips your mind? You'll find a handy Application Form right in this newspaper. Just turn to page 11.

List Suggestions For Chauffeur's License Changes

ALBANY—Drivers who must convert their chauffeur licenses under the state's new classified chauffeur license law, today were offered these three suggestions by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

1. Obtain a form (MV-3B) from your nearest Motor Vehicle office.

2. Fill it out, and have your employer attest to your experience in driving, as required on the form.

3. Return the completed form, with both stubs of your present chauffeur license, to the Motor Vehicle office, by May 31. Your license will be stamped in the appropriate class.

Every New York State driver who intends to operate a tractor-trailer, truck-trailer, bus or truck with a maximum gross weight in excess of 18,000 pounds after May 31 of this year must obtain a classified license.

Taxi drivers still must have chauffeur licenses, but need not qualify in any of the three classes. Thus, except for renewing their licenses if they expire this year, they need take no action.

Chauffeurs whose licenses expire this year have received full instructions and forms by mail. Those who have not received their instructions and application in the mail, but whose licenses expire this year, should contact the nearest Motor Vehicle office to straighten out their records.

Campus School Pupils Attend Colege Camp

The New Paltz Campus School sixth grade classes left Monday morning for the University College Camp to spend the week on an intensive study in the natural sciences.

This program is under the supervision of Dr. Merrill Archard who is director of the college camp. Other members of the faculty who will assist him include the Campus School Nurse, Miss Frances Filschie; Chester Mazur, assistant professor of the sixth grade; and two student teachers, Mrs. Jack Chaousseglou and Mrs. Renee Renzi.

Consultants for the program will be Dr. Harold Tannenbaum, professor of science education at the campus school.

Other visiting lecturers will include Daniel Smiley, director of Lake Mohonk and a noted naturalist, John Alto, superintendent of the Ashokan Reservoir; Warren McKeon, region eight supervisor of the State Fish and Game Department; and Dr. Nathan Stillman, director of the Campus School Child Study Center.

Bike Inspection Set

The New Paltz Jaycees are sponsoring a bicycle rodeo for all children of the area who own bicycles to take place on the Campus School playgrounds May 6.

The purpose of this event is to inspect every child's bike for mechanical perfection and to provide reflective tape for all of those who attend. Important instruction for safe operation of bicycles will also be taught. It is hoped that this will also make every parent concious of checking on their children's bicycles to see they are kept in top operating condition and are properly equipped with lights, reflectors, bells, or horns, and brakes that work. They should also be sure that the bike is the right size for the child who rides it.

Boy Scout Notes

The Explorer Boy Scout Troop 77, escorted by Leslie Johnson, Matthew Fairweather, Warren Kennedy, Benjamin Matteson, and William Morris went recently deep sea fishing in Long Island Sound.

Members and leaders of Boy Scout Troop 74 joined representatives of the VFW Post 8654 recently in presenting former Scoutmaster Laurin Abrans Jr., with a plaque in recognition of his service to the troop. Abrams served as an adult leader in the troop for five years two of them as scoutmaster.

The award was made by retiring VFW Commander Frank Kidney at a ceremony during the regular troop meeting. Several members of the VFW, the troop's sponsoring unit, were also at the meeting.

Mr. Liucci also introduced Robert Corey, newly-elected post commander to the scouts. Corey has also been associated with scouting, having served as Institutional Representative to Troop 74 for several years.

One of the wall tents, purchased with money raised in last year's candy drive, has arrived, and the second is expected soon. The tents will be added to Troop 74's store of camping equipment.

Area Activities

The New Paltz Home Demonstration Unit will visit the Sterling Forest Gardens Thursday, May 4. Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—There are probably more stay-up-lates in the television audience than get-up-earlies. But Tuesday the ranks of early risers were swelled 15 per cent, one rating service found, by sleepy-eyed viewers who wanted to watch the first American attempt to put a man in space.

We were disappointed, of course, but word of the postponement of the manned missile launching did not come until almost three hours and many cups of black coffee after this reporter had turned on the set.

But it was not a wasted vigil. Between 6 a. m. (EST) and 9 a. m., I was exposed to all or parts of lecture-demonstrations on iron, on the mathematical laws of probability, on archeological finds in an ancient Roman colony; to a "Felix the Cat" cartoon; to any number of news and weather reports.

In addition I was briefed several times on the anticipated flight of the astronaut. And I witnessed John Daly's debut as substitute for Dave Garroway on NBC's "Today" show.

The "Today Show," starting at 7 a. m. had an ideally flexible format for watching-and-waiting. John Daly was a particularly happy choice to take over the Garroway spot on short notice. A veteran broadcaster completely at ease before the cameras, well-informed and articulate, Daly kept the program running smoothly, although the daily supply of chit-chat and chuckles was missing.

He didn't have much help, either, because Garroway's usual comedy helper on the show, Jack Lescoulie was taking a day off, and the show's "Girl of the Week," a blonde model, had made her debut on the program only the day before.

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10 (EDT)—with Andy Williams substituting, on short notice, for Como; Steel Hour, CBS, 10-11 — "Summer Rhapsody," with Glenda Farrell and Tom Tully.

The Global View:

'Prestige' Depends Upon Political Bias

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Analyst

NEW YORK—(NEA)—President Kennedy is finding out the hard way that international "prestige" is a poor yardstick for measuring the success or failure of foreign policy.

How is prestige measured, anyway? When the President first assumed office, influential "liberals" and leftists believed he would adopt a soft policy toward the Comumnist bloc. Richard Crossman, Britain's "socialistic" gadfly, described the President in the pro-neutralist "New Statesman" as a "great liberal."

However, after the Cuban fiasco, the "New Statesman" was quick to denounce Kennedy as "guilty of a bare-faced attempt to overthrow a neighboring government by force."

India's Prime Minister Nehru, whose views are often confused by his profound neutralism, also strongly criticized the rebel landing in Cuba as American "intervention."

But Nehru had second thoughts—and even some kind words for Kennedy—as soon as the landing turned out to be a tragic failure!

Had the Cuban freedom fighters succeeded in overthrowing Castro—with or without the aid of the Central Intelligence Agency — President Kennedy would have been written off in the biased history of the neutralists and leftists as an "American imperialist."

Since the anti-Castro revolt failed, the President is again in the good graces of the "New Statesman" and Prime Minister Nehru.

In other words, a weak United States is "progressive;" a strong United States is "imperialist."

To be sure, the views of the neutralists are not always consistent. They have an entirely different yardstick to measure prestige in the case of Soviet Russia.

But no sooner did Premier Khrushchev crush the Hungarian revolt than Sartre and his "fellow humanitarians" began to crawl back into Moscow's "progressive" fold.

In other words, as the neutralists and "liberals" see it, a weak Russia is "imperialist" but a strong Communist Russia is "progressive."

There is no doubt that, in the coming months, President Kennedy's prestige will rise and fall depending on the strength or weakness of his foreign policy.

Should the President withhold aid from the Cuban freedom fighters or accept the pro-Communist Prince Souvanna Phouma as the "neutralist" premier of Laos, he will be glorified by the neutralists as a "great liberal."

However, should he adopt a strong pro-American and anti-Communist foreign policy in Cuba, Laos, Vietnam and elsewhere, he will surely be denounced as a "barefaced imperialist."

Science at Work In Various Fields

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A benefit from games, freedom-loving fish, and germs that like radiation are on the week's science agenda:

Dividend from Games

In table tennis, a little ball can travel at speeds estimated up to 100 miles an hour or more. Skilled players rely on concentrated watching and trained reflexes to make their return shots.

"There is no time for the brain to give an order," Dr. Andrew Gal, a tournament player who was born in Hungary, writes in Medical Tribune.

As a dividend from this kind of sport, the reflexive or automatic response could be useful in everyday life, he says. For example, a good player is apt to be quicker and more assured in meeting a sudden crisis while driving an automobile.

Fish Story

Aquariums sometimes display sawfish with their peculiar bills, but no swordfish.

Nobody has ever been able to keep a swordfish in captivity, says the Marine Studios at St. Augustine, Fla. They and their close cousins are hefty fighters who keep struggling to the end against capture.

Even if captured quickly, this type of fish keeps struggling and thrashing until it builds up in its blood such a concentration of metabolic wastes that it would not likely live long. Tranquillizers or other drugs might keep them asleep until they reached an aquarium, but whether these fishes would accept captivity "is another question, so far unanswered."

Radiation Resistance

Germs that laugh at radiation are being studied for clues to the mechanism of radiation resistance and how to protect other living things from deadly rays.

These germs turned up in 1955 during tests aimed at preserving meat and other foods by ionizing radiation. Some bits of meat still spoiled, and were found to harbor the resistant bacteria. The germs were able to survive 10,000 times as much radiation as a human being can. They don't cause any disease, and are easily killed by heat. The germs now have been found to be a new, distinct species, and tentatively have been named Micrococcus radiodurans, says Dr. A. W. Anderson, bacteriologist at Oregon State University.

"Holy Spirit" Plant

"Holy Spirit" is another name for the dove plant, a tropical American orchid. The dove plant received its name from the flower, which is shaped like a dove, and for this reason it often is called the Holy Spirit plant because a dove is the symbol of the Holy Ghost or Holy Spirit.

Briton Given 42 Years, Was Red Spy for Decade

LONDON (AP)—George Blake, a British government official, was sentenced to 42 years in prison today for spying for the Soviet Union for nearly a decade.

It was the stiffest sentence ever handed down in Britain in peacetime for spying. Atomic spy Klaus Fuchs was sentenced to 14 years and was released in 1959 after serving nine years.

Blake, 38, pleaded guilty. The nature of his government job and of the information he passed was not disclosed for security reasons.

The presiding lord chief justice, Lord Parker, said the information communicated, though not of a scientific nature, was clearly of the utmost importance to the Soviet Union and "rendered much of this country's efforts completely useless."

The judge did not spell out the meaning of "this country's efforts." Court reports speculated that it concerned British security measures against Soviet espionage.

Atty. Gen. Reginald Manningham-Buller told the court that Blake's crime was "even graver" than those of the two Britons, two Americans and a Russian convicted in March of passing British navy submarine and underwater defense secrets to Moscow.

Manningham-Buller said, however, that Blake's job "fortunately did not give him any access to information relating to secret weapons or atomic or nuclear weapons, but he has nevertheless done most serious damage to the interests of this country."

Justice Parker noted that Blake is "a British subject, albeit let me add not by birth." He did not disclose the defendant's birthplace.

Fights City Hall, Gets Prune Juice Off the Tax List

Nonsense!

You can do it—and win.

Mrs. Robert C. Healing, a suburban housewife, did it with a bit of prune juice and a lot of pluck.

And now she won't have to pay the two per cent city sales tax on her favorite brand of prune juice when she comes to market.

With prices as they are, "every little bit helps," said Mrs. Healing as she was declared the winner over the city tax collector.

It took a lot of letter writing—all the way to the Department of Agriculture in Washington and to the State Tax Commission in Albany.

The result: the city of Poughkeepsie Tuesday lifted its sale tax from one brand of prune juice.

Mrs. Healing, who says she is "around 40," lives in the Town of Poughkeepsie with her husband, two children and an elderly aunt. There's no sales tax there.

She buys some of her groceries in the city of Poughkeepsie, which has a sales tax—but not on food.

Recently she objected to paying the sales tax on her brand of prune juice, contending it was food. She wrote to city Tax Collector John E. Deyo, who replied that the brand was taxable because it was diluted with water and therefore not food in the strict sense.

More letters. The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Duffy - Mott Co. of New York City, which produces the brand, both said it was food. But Deyo wouldn't surrender.

The appeal then went to the State Tax Commission. Commission Counsel Edward H. Best ruled the juice was exempt from taxation.

Then the city commissioner of finance, Aubrey B. Coons, ruled likewise.

And that was that.

Benjamin J. Van Wickler, executive secretary of The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association, said today that Dan G. Fichter, vice president of Federal Bearings Co., Inc., will present awards at the 36th annual award dinner at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie, Monday night. This will be the conclusion of the annual safety campaign conducted from January 1 to March 25 under the co-sponsorship of Associated Industries of New York State, Inc. and The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association. Fichter will be assisted by David J. Thomas, director of safety of the State Association.

Howard W. Smith, president of Pawling Rubber Corp. and president of The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association, will preside. The speaker, Dr. Millard G. Roberts, president of Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, will be introduced by Carl E. Cummings, superintendent of the Texaco Research Center. Dr. Roberts' topic will be "New Ideas in Human Relations."

Mt. Kisco Youth Selected as AG Honors for Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Carl Nathan, 15, of Fox Lane School, Mount Kisco, will be New York State's "Attorney General for a Day."

Nathan, a sophomore, won the honor by submitting the best essay in a statewide contest sponsored by the State Department of Law.

Nathan also will get $25 United States savings bond as first prize winner. He will be "sworn in" as the state's chief legal officer in the State Capitol at Albany May 17.

Nathan and four other high school students were selected from entries representing more than 200 high schools.

Kathleen T. Moran, Notre Dame High School, Elmira, third place, "executive assistant attorney general."

Fifteen students were awarded honorable mention. They included:

Gerald Moppert, Lake George Central School, Lake George.

Joyce Dorothy Bryant, Arlington High School, Poughkeepsie.

Maureen Kearney, Staatsburg High School.

C. Gregory Brown, Warwick Valley High School, Warwick.

Livingston Manor Bank President Held

NEW YORK (AP)—The 64-year-old president of the Livingston Manor National Bank has been accused by the FBI office here of embezzling $2,000 in bank funds on or about July 7, 1959.

Harry W. Voorhess, who attained the bank's top post in 1953 after 25 years as an employe, was arrested by New York City FBI agents at the bank Tuesday.

Voorhess, a widower and father of four, was released without bail for grand jury action when he appeared before U. S. Commissioner Thomas F. Saccoman of Kingston in Liberty.

Voorhess is charged with violation of the Federal Reserve Act. Conviction could bring five years in prison or a $5,000 fine, or both.

'Hatred Spirit' Burns in Angola Missionary Says

LONDON (AP)—A British missionary says a "spirit of hatred" is burning in Angola, with thousands being slaughtered and mutilated in racial strife sweeping the Portuguese West African territory.

The Rev. Clifford J. Parsons, who spent 20 years in Angola, told a British Baptist convention Tuesday night that Portuguese security forces and Africans were both perpetrating atrocities on a vast scale.

This Is Spring?

Snow Hits State, Frost Is on Way

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Enough snow to hide the robin's red breast proved today that spring was far behind in parts of New York State. A chance of frost was in the offing.

Early risers in the Albany area found a thin layer of wet snow on automobile windows and lawns. The Syracuse area also had flurries.

The Weather Bureau said frost might strike much of the state tonight. Thursday was expected to be generally fair and a little warmer.

Niagara Supply

Cheaper Electric Rates Approved For 3 Villages

NEW YORK (AP) — The State Power Authority announced today it has approved new electric rate schedules for the villages of Wellsville, Springville and Little Valley.

The three Upstate municipalities will begin receiving power from the Niagara power project later this month.

Authority Chairman Robert Moses said the communities have estimated they will save approximately $100,000 a year by purchasing Niagara power.

In a separate announcement, Moses said construction of the new golf house and the improvement and enlargement of the two public golf courses in Hyde Park, Niagara Falls, will be rushed so that the facilities will be ready for use early in the summer of 1962.

When the golf house is completed, it will be turned over to the city for public use, together with the land provided by the Power Authority for enlarging one course from 9 to 18 holes, and other improvements.

In the electric rate announcement, Moses said:

Wellsville, in Allegany County, estimated its saving at $73,000. This represents about 30 per cent of its present power costs. Under the new schedule, $38,000 will be passed on to the municipality's electric customers in the form of lower electric rates and $25,000 will be applied toward improvements of the system, including major substation additions. There will be an average reduction of 13 per cent in both residential and commercial rates.

Springville, in Erie County, placed its saving at $23,000 a year. Of this, $15,000 will be passed on to customers and $8,000 will be used for system improvements, including a new garage and new street lighting in the business section. Residential rates will be cut 8 per cent, commercial rates 7 per cent and large power users' rates 8 per cent.

Little Valley, in Cattaraugus County, set its saving at $13,500 a year, about 27 per cent of the present power costs. Approximately $9,000 will be passed on to customers and $4,500 will be applied toward improvements of the system. Residential rates will be cut 15 per cent, commercial rates 21 per cent and three-phase power rates 6 per cent.

The word "nightingale" means "night singer" and is taken from the Anglo-Saxon "galan," which means "to sing."
